The first edition of the South Carolina Legislative Manual was issued on February 4, 1916, on the initiative of the author. It contained 117 pages.

Since then it has been published every year during the legislative sessions except 1922, 1926, 1928 and 1932 —the present issue being the 28th.

Biographies of Members and State Officers were added in 1919, and in 1925 their pictures were first used. In 1942, a color section was added, illustrating, with selected photographs, items of interest throughout the State.

Gibbes' Manual is original and authentic—its contents being made up from special day-to-day files, personal research work and data prepared for it exclusively by officials and heads of departments concerned.

All biographical data are secured from questionnaires answered and signed by the particular individuals, and in all matters every effort is made to preserve the truth of history by precision and correctness.

Publications are welcome to use such parts of this work as they desire, on giving credit to Gibbes' Manual is vested (under the prevailing Constitution of 1895) in two distinct branches, the one styled the "Senate" and the other the "House of Representatives," and both together the "General Assembly."

THE LEGISLATIVE POWER OF THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

The Constitution of 1895

was framed by a Convention (of the people convened for the purpose of framing an organic law), that assembled September 10 1895, and adjourned December 4. It was not submitted to the electors for ratification, but was promulgated by the Convention and declared in force from January 1, 1896.

Temporary Chairman, Robert Aldrich, of Barnwell, said that with the exception of the Convention of 1790, it was the "only one entitled to be called the exponent of the untrammeled will of the people of South Carolina. We had the Constitution of 1776 and 1778, but they were enacted by the General Assembly and were nothing more than Acts of the Legislature."

"The Convention of 1860 was called for the purpose of passing the ordinance of Secession.

"The Convention of 1865 was framed by a Convention called together under a proclamation of a provisional Governor, the appointee of a President of the United States, who had no more power to appoint a Governor for South Carolina than any other citizen of the country, and the work of said Convention was of no more force than the proceedings of a mass meeting of the citizens.

"The Convention of 1868 was the fruit of the Reconstruction Acts, which were notoriously unconstitutional, of which one of the most prominent men in Congress and a leader of the party in power at the time had the hardihood to say there were only two fools in the United States who considered it constitutional; and if unconstitutional they were invalid. That Convention was made by aliens, negroes and natives without character, all the enemies of South Carolina, and was designed to degrade our State, insult our people and overturn our civilization."

John Gary Evans (Governor in 1894-97, then of Aiken County), was president of the Convention. The six colored Republican delegates from Beaufort objected, for political reasons to sign the Constitution and were excused.

Some Constitutional Provisions Pertaining to Members and Legislation

ANNUAL SESSIONS—In Columbia beginning on the second Tuesday in January. No limitation to length of session, which since 1869 has varied from 26 to 172 days, with 12 sessions of 40 days and six shorter ones.

Under the Constitution of 1868, the fourth Tuesday in November was the opening day. From then until 1896 the length of sessions varied from 144 days in 1870-71 to 26 days in 1882-83.

Under the Constitution of 1895, the opening date was changed to second Tuesday in January. The session lasted 54 calendar days in 1896, 52 in '97, 37 in '98, 40 days each year through 1911 (except in 1908, when it was 54 days, including a recess of 10 days); 51 days in 1912, 53 in '13 and 50 in '14. The extra session of 1914 (called by Gov. Cole L. Blease for State relief from low price of cotton) lasted 29 days.

The session of 1915 and '16 lasted 40 days, 44 days in '17, 36 in '18 (World War year), 47 in '19, 54 in '20, 54 in 1921, 61 in 1922, 75 in '23, 75 in '24 (including 15-day recess upon convening), 87 in '25, 68 in '26, 103 in '27, 61 in '28, 68 in '29, 82 in '30, 117 in '31, (nine days for the extra session in September '31, called by Gov. I. C. Blackwood to consider forbidding cotton planting in 1932) 89 days in 1932, 128 in '33, 96 in '34 and 131 in '35, (12 days for the extra session in December, 1935, called by Gov. Olin D. Johnston to consider Legislation in regard to the S. C. Highway Department), 145 days in 1936, 130 in '37, 117 in '38, 172 in '39, 152 in '40, 138 in '41, 61 in '42, 96 in '43, and 68 in '44, six days for extra session in 1944, April 14-20 inclusive, called by Gov. Olin D. Johnston for purpose of repealing Primary Election laws.)

The session of 1945 lasted 117 calendar days; 82 days in 1946 (12 days for the extra session in April, 1946, called by Gov. Ransome J. Williams.) (For Legislative days see page 307.)

ADJOURNMENTS—During the session "neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which it shall be at the time sitting."—Art. III, Sec. 21.

Should either House remain without a quorum for five days, or should the two Houses disagree as to the time of adjournment, the Governor may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper.—Art. IV, Sec. 16.

BILLS AND ACTS—"Bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives," but may be altered, amended or rejected by the Senate; "all other Bills may originate in either house, and may be altered or rejected by the other."—Art. III, Sec. 15.

"Bills appropriating money out of the treasury shall specify the objects and purposes for which the same are made, and appropriate to them respectively their several amounts in distinct items and sections."—Art. IV, Sec. 23.

"Every Act or Resolution having the force of law shall relate to but one subject, and that shall be expressed in the title."—Art. III, Sec. 17.

Bills shall not have the force of law until read three times and on three separate days in each House, the great seal of the State affixed, and signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House. Legislative rules may (and they do) provide, for the first and third readings by title only.—Art. III, Sec. 18.

COMPENSATION—"Members shall not receive any compensation for more than 40 days of any one session."—Art. II, Sec. 9. See pages 11 and 12 for Statutory provisions and Supreme Court decision.

ELECTIONS BY GENERAL ASSEMBLY OR EITHER HOUSE—"Members shall vote viva voce except by unanimous consent, and their votes shall be entered upon the Journal.—Art. III, Sec. 20.

ELECTION RETURNS, QUALIFICATIONS—"Each house shall judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members."—Art. III, Sec. 11.

(On January 10, 1933, the Senate was petitioned by ex-senator M. G. Andersen to declare H. K. Cooke, of Horry, not eligible or qualified to sit as a Senator, under the Constitution, because he "was not registered and was not a qualified elector on November 8, 1932, the day of the election." The Senate by a vote of 33 to 2 seated Mr. Cooke).

EXPENSES OF STATE GOVERNMENT—"The General Assembly shall provide for an annual tax sufficient to defray the estimated expenses of the State for each year, and whenever it shall happen that the ordinary expenses of the State for any year shall exceed the income of the State for such year the General Assembly shall provide for levying a tax for the ensuing year sufficient, with other sources of income, to pay the deficiency of the preceding year together with the estimated expenses for the ensuing year."—Art. X, Sec. 2.

EXPULSION OF MEMBERS—"Each house shall punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member, but not a second time for the same cause."—Art. III, Sec. 12.

EXTRA SESSIONS—The Governor "may on extraordinary occasions convene the General Assembly in extra session."—Art. IV, Sec. 16.

(At the opening of the 1946 Extra Session Speaker Blatt ruled that all Legislation that had been continued until the next Session, or was pending on the calendar upon adjournment of the Regular Session, was in order, and should be considered in the Extra Session in the same stage in which they were when the Regular Session adjourned—see House Journal 1946 Extra Session, Page 1573.)

HOLDING ANOTHER OFFICE OR POSITION—"No person shall be eligible to a seat in the General Assembly while he holds any office or position of profit or trust under this State, the United States of America, or any of them, or under any other power, except offices in the Militia and notaries public; and if any Member shall accept or exercise any of the said disqualifying offices or positions he shall vacate his seat."—Art. III, Sec. 24.

MEMBERS PROTECTED—"Members shall be protected in their persons and estates during their attendance on, going to and returning from the General Assembly, and ten days previous to the sitting and ten days after the 'adjournment,' except where a Member is charged with treason, felony or breach of the peace."—Art. III, Sec. 14.

[On Mar. 15, 1935, two members of the House of Representatives were arrested by Fairfield County Officers, while returning from the General Assembly to their homes. Following their arrest they were forcibly carried a distance of about 20 miles and their property and effects were searched. At the next session of the House, Tuesday, Mar. 19, 1935, a Resolution was passed, holding that the acts of these officers "constituted a contempt of the House of Representatives, and an unwarranted, high handed and unconstitutional invasion of the rights of the said two members of the House."] (See House Journal 1935, p. 963.) It was further ordered that the offending officers be brought before the House to be dealt with according to law.

[On the following day, Mar. 20, the officers were brought before the House, plead guilty to the charge brought against them, and were sentenced to be kept in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms until 12 o'clock noon, Mar. 21, at which time they were again brought before the House, given a public reprimand and dismissed. (See House Journal 1935, pages 988-990 and 1018-1019.)]

OATH OF OFFICE—All Members and all officers, before they enter upon their duties, shall subscribe to the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am duly qualified according to the Constitution of this State, to exercise the duties of the office to which I have been elected (or appointed), and that I will to the best of my ability, discharge the duties thereof, and preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of this State and of the United States. I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not since the first day of January, in the year 1881, engaged in a duel as principal or second or otherwise; and that I will not, during the term of office to which I have been elected (or appointed), engage in a duel as principal or second or otherwise. So help me God."—Art. III, Sec. 26.

PROTEST MAY BE ENTERED ON JOURNAL—Any Member may dissent or protest against any Act or resolution that he may think injurious to the public or an individual, and have his reasons entered on the Journal.—Art. III, Sec. 22.

RIGHT OF PUNISHMENT—Each house may punish by imprisonment during its sitting any non-member guilty of disrespect, disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence, or who shall threaten harm to any member for any thing said or done in either House, or who shall assault or arrest any person ordered to attend the House, in going or returning, or who shall rescue any person arrested by order of the House.—Art. III, Sec. 13.

SECRECY—"The doors of each house shall be open, except on such occasions as in the opinion of the House may require secrecy."—Art. III, Sec. 23. "Each House shall keep a journal of its own proceedings, and cause same to be published immediately after its adjournment, excepting such parts as, in its judgment, may require secrecy."—Art. III, Sec. 22.

TERMS OF OFFICE—"The terms of office of Members chosen at a general election begin on the Monday following such election."—Art. III, Sec. 10.

VACANCY IN MEMBERSHIP—In case of such (whether from neglect to elect, refusal to qualify, resignation, death, departure from State, acceptance of any disqualifying position), the presiding officer of that House shall issue a writ of election to fill same for unexpired term.—Art. III, Sec. 25.

VETO BY THE GOVERNOR—Every Bill or Joint Resolution which shall have passed the General Assembly, except on a question of adjournment, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor, and if he approves he shall sign it.

Any Bill vetoed by the Governor shall be returned with his objections, to the House in which it originated, which shall enter the objection at large on its Journal and proceed to consider it. If two-thirds of that House agree to pass it, it shall be sent, together with the objection to the other House, and if approved by two-thirds of that House it shall have the same effect as if signed by the Governor; but in all such cases the vote of both Houses shall be taken by yeas and nays and the names entered on the Journals.

Only so much of any Bill as is not approved by the Governor shall be reconsidered , the approved portions becoming a law notwtihstanding the objections of the Governor.

A Bill not returned by the Governor within three days after presentation to him, Sundays excepted, shall have the same force and effect as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly by adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall have such force and effect unless returned within two days after the next meeting.—Art. IV, Sec. 23.

(Nearly all of the 301 Acts passed in 1912 became effective without the Governor's signature, as Gov. Blease neither approved nor vetoed them).

(Governor may return Bill to the "next" House in which it originated, even though a general election has intervened and new Members have been elected and seated, as the two "Houses" are continuing entities.—Supreme Court decision, Smith v. Jennings, 67 S. C. 324).

(At 1919 session, which began Jan. 14, Governor Cooper returned Bill to Clerk of House on Jan. 16, after House had adjourned. Upon objection to its consideration on Jan. 17, Speaker Cothran ruled that the two-day Constitutional limit had been complied with, citing Corwin v. Comp. Gen. 6 S. C. 398.—See House Journal, page 49).

(At the 1946 Session Governor Williams returned a Bill together with a veto message to the Clerk of the House on March 18. The records showed that the Bill had been delivered to the Governor of March 13. In ruling that the three day time limit laid down by the Constitution had expired, Speaker Blatt also ruled that the words, "three days", mean calendar days and not Legislative days. Speaker Blatt also cited the case of Corwin vs. the Comptroller General, 6 S. C. 390, in which the word adjournment as used in Section 22, Article 3 of the Constitution, is found to mean an adjournment by concurrent action of both Houses of the General Assembly—see House Journal 1946 Session, Page 1267.)

YEAS AND NAYS—Shall be entered on the Journal at the desire of 10 House Members or five Senators.

Other Constitutional Provisions

MEETINGS OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY—"The General Assembly ought frequently to assemble for the redress of grievances and for making new laws, as the common good may require.

TERM OF OFFICE—"No person shall be elected or appointed to office for life or good behavior but terms shall be for specified periods, except notaries public and officers in militia.

DUELING—Any person fighting a duel or sending or accepting a challenge, or aiding or abetting shall be deprived of holding any office of honor or trust, and punished as law prescribes.

DEPARTMENTS SEPARATE—"Legislative, executive and judicial powers of the Government shall be forever separate and distinct from each other, and no person or persons exercising the functions of one of said departments shall assume or discharge the duties of any other."

LIBEL—"In all indictments or prosecutions for libel, the truth of the alleged libel may be given in evidence, and the jury shall be the judges of the law and the facts."

DEBT—"No person shall be imprisoned for debt except in cases of fraud."

CONSTRUING THE CONSTITUTION—Its provisions shall be construed as mandatory and prohibitory, unless expressly made, by its own terms, directory or permissory.

TWO OFFICES—"No person shall hold two offices of honor or profit at the same time" (special exceptions for Circuit Judges acting as Justices) officers in the militia and notaries excepted.

QUALIFICATIONS OF GOVERNOR—Belief in existence of the Supreme Being, attainment of age 30, citizenship of United States and citizen and resident of this State for five years next preceding day of election; shall not hold any other office or commission, except in militia, at the same time. Same qualifications apply to Lieutenant Governor.

QUALIFICATIONS OF JUDGES AND JUSTICES—Citizenship, age of 26 years, licensed attorney for five years, residence in this State for five years next preceding election.

QUALIFICATIONS OF JURORS—Must be qualified elector, between 21 and 65 years, and of good moral character.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR SUFFRAGE—Must be a male (under the 19th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, in force from August 26, 1920, women were enfranchised) at least 21 years of age, with residence in State two years (ministers of organized churches and teachers of public schools six months), in county one year, in polling precinct four months, and proof of payment 30 days before any election of any poll tax then due and payable; registration; proof of payment of all taxes assessed and collectible during previous year.

Persons convicted of crimes specified in Art. II, Sec. 6, are disqualified, but pardon by Governor removes disqualification. Idiots, insane, paupers, supported at public expense, and prison inmates disqualified.

Arrests of Electors—"Electors shall in all cases except treason, felony, or a breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest on the days of election during their attendance at the polls and going to and returning therefrom."

Taxes Laid Upon Actual Value—"All taxes upon property, real and personal, shall be laid upon the actual value of the property taxed, as the same shall be ascertained by an assessment, made for the purpose of laying such tax."

Marriage of Whites and Negroes—Marriage of white person with negro or mulatto or person with one-eighth or more negro blood shall be unlawful and void.

Sexual Intercourse—"No unmarried woman shall legally consent to sexual intercourse who shall not have attained the age of 14 years."

Special Laws Prohibited—In all cases where a general law can be made applicable; general laws shall be uniform in operation; special provisions may be enacted in general laws.

Suspension of Officers—Governor shall direct immediate prosecution of any officer having custody of public or trust funds, who is probably guilty of embezzlement or the appropriation of public trust funds to private use, and upon true bill found shall suspend officer and appoint another, until acquittal by jury.

Formation of New Counties—Governor shall order election upon petition of one-third of qualified electors in area of the section of old county proposed to be cut off, question of name and county seat also being submitted. General Assembly may establish such new county on two-thirds vote of electors for it. County shall not contain less than one-124th of population of State or less than $1,500,000 assessed taxable property or less than 400 square miles area.

No county shall be reduced below 500 square miles, $2,000,000 of assessed taxable property, or less than 15,000 inhabitants. No old county shall be cut within eight miles of court house building.

Prize Fighting—Prohibited, and General Assembly shall provide proper laws for prevention and punishment.

Liability of Stockholders—In Corporations, individually liable to creditors for amount due upon their stock; in banks, liable to depositors in a sum equal to their stock over and above face value.

Taxation and Assessment—General Assembly shall provide by law for uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, prescribe regulations to secure just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims and exempted property for municipal, educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purposes; may impose capitation tax upon domestic animals that by nature and habits are destructive of other property.

FREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS—General Assembly shall provide for liberal system of public school for all children between six and 21 years, and for the division of the counties into suitable school districts from nine to 49 square miles in area.—Art. II, Sec. 5.

DIVORCES—"Shall not be allowed in this State." (Under the 1868 Constitution divorces were not "allowed but by the judgment of a Court, as shall be prescribed by law.")

LOTTERIES—None shall ever be allowed or advertised or its tickets sold.—Art. XVII, Sec. 7.

GAMBLING AND BETTING—"Unlawful for any person holding an office of honor, trust or profit." Conviction disqualifies.—Art. XVII, Sec. 9.

Special Statutory Provisions

Pertaining to Members and Legislation

COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS—$1,000 for each session; five cents per mile (Appropriation Acts for 1939-40, 1940-41, 1941-42, 1942-43 appropriated only four cents per mile) for actual distance traveled in most direct route going to and returning from Columbia on week-end adjournments, (Act No. 803, Acts of 1938); and $5 for stationery and postage. This travel allowance is also provided for in the Constitution.

By Act of 1908 the existing statute providing $4 per diem was changed to $200 for each regular session," beginning with 1909.

In 1920 the salary was changed to "$400 for each session," effective with the 1921 session.

The 1943 General Assembly passed an Act increasing the salary to $1,000 per session, effective with the 1945 session. (The 1944-45 appropriation Act appropriated $400 as salary and $600 as official expenses for each member.)

Under the Constitution "no General Assembly shall have the power to increase the per diem of its own members"; and the compensation for extra sessions shall be the same as for regular sessions.

SUPREME COURT DECISION—(Compensation for extra session):

In case No. 929, Godfrey v. Hunter, et al., Opinion No. 14091, filed June 12, 1935, the Supreme Court of S. C. held that the $400.00 per member for regular sessions, fixed in the Civil Code, is intended as a per diem of $10.00 per day for forty days, and not as annual salary; and therefore, a member receiving $10.00 per day for attending an extra session has received the same per diem as for a regular session and the full compensation to which he is entitled. Under this opinion the compensation of members attending extra sessions is therefore held to be $10.00 per day, and not $400.00 per session.

Ex Officio Board Members—Every chairman of a committee of either House who is ex-officio member of any commission or board shall remain a member after each general election and until successor is appointed chairman thereof; in case of vacancy or disability, between sessions the Speaker or the President shall designate some member of such committee to serve on the board until next meeting or disability is removed.

Repeal of Act, Effect of—"The repeal of an Act or Joint Resolution shall not revive any law theretofore repealed or superseded, nor any office theretofore abolished."

Time When Act Takes Effect—"The 20th day after the day of its approval by the Governor, unless some other day, be specially named in the Act." (Construction by courts has been: Exclude the first day, include the last.)

The Senate

Composed of one Member elected from each of the 46 counties for four years, so classified that one-half are chosen every two years. "When the General Assembly shall establish more than one county at any session, it shall so prescribe the first term of the Senators from such counties as to observe such classification."

Senators must be duly qualified electors in their own counties at the time of their election, and must be at least 25 years old.

The House of Representatives

Composed of 124 Members chosen every second (even) year, apportioned among the several counties so as to allow "one Representative to every 124th part of the whole number of inhabitants in the State." (Const. Art. III, Sec. 4), which ratio under the then ruling 1920 U. S. Census was one Representative to every 13,578 persons in a county, in 1930 the ratio was one Member to every 14,022 persons in a county.

The new ratio under the 1940 U. S. Census (which was adopted by the 1942 General Assembly) is one Member to every 15,321 persons in a county, so that, with the increases or decreases in county population, the new Reapportionment Act by the General Assembly in 1942 resulted in changes as follows: Barnwell, Lexington, Newberry and Orangeburg Counties each lost one Member, and Charleston, Florence, Greenville and Richland Counties each gained one Member—beginning with the 1943 session.

Under Art. III, Sec. 3 of the Constitution, enumeration of inhabitants for this purpose shall be made in every 10th year after 1901, but the General Assembly may adopt enumeration of the immediately preceding U. S. Census in lieu thereof, which is always done.

Under the Reapportionment Act of 1922, the Counties of Florence and Richland each gained one Member, and Bamberg and Marlboro each lost one, beginning with the 1923 session.

Under the Reapportionment Act of 1932 the Counties of Charleston, Clarendon, Edgefield and Saluda each lost one Member and the County of Greenville gained two Members, while the Counties of Horry and Spartanburg gained one each, beginning with the 1933 session.

Each county constitutes one Election District. Members must be qualified electors in their own Counties at the time of their election and must be at least 21 years old.

RESOLUTIONS, BILLS AND ACTS

Names and Explanations of the Various Legislative Measures

"Resolution"

A Resolution (sometimes called a "plain" or "simple" Resolution) affects only the action of the House and the Members thereof in which it is introduced.

Requires only one reading and adoption, and is not submitted to the other House.

"Concurrent Resolution"

A Concurrent Resolution affects the action of the entire General Assembly or a Member thereof; does not carry an appropriation; does not have the force of law, as an Act or Joint Resolution does, but records the sense of the two Houses concurrently.

Requires only one reading and one adoption or concurrence by each House.

"Bill" is the term applied to a measure introduced in either House designed to become a law (or an "Act.") It must be prepared for its author-member by one of the Circuit Solicitors on duty in the Engrossing Department.

It must be read and adopted three times on three separate days in each House, following which its title is changed to that of an Act. (See "Bills and Acts," Page 4.)

"Act"

is the term applied to a Bill that has passed both Houses. It is a permanent measure, having the force of law until repealed.

"Joint Resolution"

A Joint Resolution has the same force of law as an Act, but is a temporary measure, dying when its subject matter is completed. It requires the same treatment as a Bill does in its passage through both Houses, but its title after passage is not changed to that of an Act.

Impeachment

Conviction of officers. Requires 31 votes (Art. XV, Sec. 2)—"two-thirds of all the members elected."

Rules

To amend, rescind or suspend, after one day's previous notice is given. Requires "a two-thirds vote of the Senators present" (Rule 41).

To suspend (only), without giving notice. Requires unanimous consent (Rule 41).

Time of Daily Meeting

To change same from 11 a. m. of the following day. Requires majority of those present (Rule 1).

Veto by the Governor

To pass a Bill (or item or Section therein) over same. Requires "two-thirds of each house," that is, two-thirds of those voting, a quorum being present—"taken by yeas and nays, which shall be entered on the Journals of both houses" (Const., Art. IV, Sec. 23). See below.*

*SUPREME COURT DECISION

"When the Constitution speaks of 'two-thirds of that House' as the vote required to pass a bill or joint resolution over the veto of the Governor, it means two-thirds of the house as then legally constituted and acting upon the matter. Whenever the framers of the Constitution intended otherwise, the purpose was expressly declared, as in Art. XV, Sec. 1, "a vote of two-thirds of all members elected shall be required for an impeachment," and in Art. XVI, Sec. 1, where, in proposing amendments to the Constitution, "two-thirds of the members elected to each house must agree thereto." Smith v. Jennings, 67 S. C., page 328.

NECESSARY VOTE ON ACTION BY SENATE

Absentees

To send for when less than a quorum shall convene. Requires a majority of those present (Rule 2).

Amendment on Third Reading

To receive same (unless by previous notice). Requires unanimous consent (Rule 28).

Bill for Special Charter

Concurrent Resolution to allow introduction thereof. Requires "a two- thirds vote of each house" that is, two-thirds of those voting, a quorum being present (Const., Art. IX, Sec. 2). See interpretation by Supreme Court on next page.*

Constitution

To pass measure submitting amendment thereto the electors. Requires "two-thirds of the members elected" —31 ayes (Const., Art. XVI, Sec. 1). Amendment to be entered on Journal, with yeas and nays taken thereon.

To pass Bill ratifying same at next session after approval at a general election. Requires "a majority of each branch" by yeas and nays (Const., Art. XVI, Sec. 1) that is, a majority of those voting, a quorum being present. (Const., Art. XVI, Sec. 1). See on next page.

Constitutional Convention

To pass measure submitting calling of same to the electors. Requires "two- thirds of the members elected to each branch"—that is 31 votes.* (Const., Art. XVI, Sec. 3).

Election of Standing Committees

For Chairman, a majority of the vote cast viva-voce; for members, voting viva- voce, a plurality. (Rule 19).

Expulsion of a Member

Requires "the concurrence of two-thirds" (Const., Art. III, Sec. 12) of those voting.*

Fixing Debate and Time

For voting on any question. Requires "two-thirds vote of the Senate" (Rule 14).

RULES OF THE SENATE

Adopted January 14, 1947

RULE 1

TIME OF DAILY MEETING

The Senate, on the first day of a session, shall convene at 12 o'clock m., and, on adjournment, shall stand adjourned until 11 o'clock a. m. of the following day, Sunday excepted, unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote of the members present.

RULE 2

ATTENDANCE, DUTIES AND OBLIGATIONS OF SENATORS

Any member or officer of the Senate who shall absent himself from the service of the Senate, without leave of the Senate first obtained, shall forfeit his pay while so absent; and in case a less number than a quorum of the Senate shall convene, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms or any person or persons by them authorized for any or all absent members, as the majority of such members present shall agree, at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be made as the Senate, when a quorum is convened, shall deem good and sufficient; and in that case the expense shall be included in the contingent expenses of the Senate. This rule shall apply as well to the first convention of the Senate, at the legal time of meeting, as to each day of the session after the hour to which the Senate stood adjourned has arrived.

QUORUM CALL OF THE SENATE

If at any time during the daily session of the Senate it is ascertained that there is not a quorum present, no business shall be in order except a call of the Senate, an order to send for absentees, or a motion to adjourn until a quorum shall be present.

RULE 3

READING OF THE JOURNAL

The President having taken the chair, and a quorum being present, the Journal of the preceding day shall be read, unless the reading is dispensed with by a vote of the Senate, to the end that any mistakes that may be made in the entries shall be corrected.

RULE 4

DECORUM OF SENATORS

When the President is in the chair, no Senator shall pass him with his head covered, nor shall any Senator pass between the President and a Senator who is speaking.

RULE 5

WHICH SENATOR ENTITLED TO FLOOR

When two or more Senators rise to speak at the same time, the Senator who first addresses the President shall have the floor and the President shall so announce it.

RULE 6

SENATORS SHALL ADDRESS THE PRESIDENT

Every Senator, when speaking, shall address the President, standing in his place and when he has finished shall take his seat.

RULE 7

QUESTION OF ORDER—APPEAL FROM PRESIDENT'S DECISION

If any Senator in speaking or otherwise, transgress the Rules of the Senate, the presiding officer shall, or any member may, call him to order; and when a member shall be called to order by the President or a Senator, he shall sit down and shall not proceed without leave of the Senate; and every question of order shall be decided by the President, without debate, subject to an appeal to the Senate; and the President may call for the sense of the Senate on any question of order.

RULE 8

MAY SPEAK TWICE IN ONE DEBATE

No Senator shall speak more than twice in any one debate, on the same day, without leave of the Senate. No Senator shall speak more than two hours in any one legislative day on any one bill or resolution but the time of any Senator may be extended by the vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

RULE 9

ENDORSEMENT OF PAPERS

No Senator shall present any Bill or other paper, except an amendment, without having first endorsed the subject matter thereof and his name.

RULE 10

COMMITTEE REPORTS, HOW MADE

Reports must be separately made and on not less than half a sheet of paper, and shall be signed by the Chairman or the majority of the Committee.

RULE 11

MOTION NOT DEBATABLE UNTIL SECONDED

No motion shall be debated until the same shall have been seconded.

RULE 12

WRITING AND WITHDRAWAL OF MOTIONS—MOTION TO RECONSIDER

When a motion shall have been made and seconded, it shall be reduced to writing, if desired by the President or any member, delivered at the table and read before the same shall be debated; and any motion may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before a decision, amendment or ordering of the yeas and nays, except a motion to reconsider a matter which shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate.

And no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after the matter shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate, nor shall any motion to reconsider be in order unless made on the same day on which the vote was taken, or within the next two days of the actual session of the Senate threafter, and by a Senator voting with the prevailing side.

RULE 13

MOTION TO ADJOURN AND TO TABLE

Motions to adjourn and to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

RULE 14

PRIVILEGED MOTIONS

When a question is under debate, no motion shall be entertained but

1. To adjourn.
2. To take up order of the day.
3. To lay on the table.
4. To postpone to a certain day.
5. To postpone indefinitely.
6. To strike out the enacting clause.
7. To commit.
8. To amend.

which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are above arranged, and the first four of which shall be determined without debate. A motion to lay an amendment on the table being agreed to shall not have the effect of disposing of the main question.

FIXING TIME TO CLOSE DEBATE

Provided, That the debate on any question and the time when such question shall be voted upon may be fixed by a vote of two-thirds of the Senate; and the debate on the question of fixing such time shall be limited within the discretion of the chair; and such motions shall have precedence of motions numbered 5, 6, 7 and 8.

RULE 15

YEAS AND NAYS—VOTE OF ABSENTEES—SENATORS PRESENT MUST VOTE

When there is a division of the Senate on any question, and it shall be required by five Senators, the question shall be decided by the yeas and nays; and, on taking the same, no Senator who is absent when the affirmative and negative have both been put and the result announced by the President, shall be allowed to vote without leave of the Senate, and such vote, when allowed, shall not affect the result.

In taking the yeas and nays, and upon a call of the Senate, the names of Senators shall be called alphabetically. Under the call of the yeas and nays every Senator present must give his vote one way or the other.

RULE 16

NOTICE OF PROTEST

When a Senator intends to protest against any action of the Senate, he shall give notice of his intention so to do immediately after the determination of the matter and shall be allowed three days and no longer from that time (unless by leave of the Senate) to deliver his protest; but in case of an adjournment sine die, such protest, if delivered to the President within three days, shall be entered on the Journal.

RULE 17

PRESIDENT TO VOTE WHEN THERE IS A TIE

When the Senate is equally divided on any question, the Clerk shall take the decision of the President, who may assign the reason of his vote.

RULE 18

A QUESTION MAY BE DIVIDED

If a question in debate contains several points, any Senator may have the same divided; but on a motion to strike out and insert it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question; but a rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition, nor prevent a subsequent motion simply to strike out; nor shall the rejection of a motion to simply strike out prevent a subsequent motion to strike out and insert.

RULE 19

HOW COMMITTEES ARE FORMED

In the appointment of the Standing Committees the Senate shall proceed viva voce, severally, to elect the Chairman of each Committee, and then, viva voce, the other members necessary to complete the same; and a majority of the whole number of votes given shall be necessary to the choice of the Chairman of a Standing Committee. In all other elections a plurality of votes shall make a choice. All other Committees shall be appointed by the President, unless the Senate differently directs.

When any subject or matter shall have been referred to a committee, any other subject or matter of a similar nature may, on motion, be referred to such Committee.

RULE 20

STANDING COMMITTEES

The following Standing Committees—each Committee to consist of not less than five nor more than eighteen Senators—shall be appointed at the Commencement of each session, with leave to report by Bill or otherwise:

RULE 21

PROCEDURE IN FILLING BLANKS

In filling blanks the largest sum and the longest time shall be first put.

RULE 22

PRIORITY OF BUSINESS NOT DEBATABLE

All questions relating to the priority of business to be acted upon shall be settled without debate.

RULE 23

APPEAL FROM DECISION OF PRESIDENT

Senators shall have the right of appeal from the decisions of the President.

RULE 24

BILLS MAY BE RECOMMITTED

After commitment and report of a Bill to the Senate, or at any time before its passage it may be recommitted.

RULE 25

ALL BILLS REFERRED TO COMMITTEES, AND TO PROVIDE FOR RECALLING BILLS FROM COMMITTEE

All Bills or Joint Resolutions when first read shall be referred to the appropriate Committees and printed; but no Bill or Joint Resolution coming before the Senate shall be amended previous to being acted upon as in Committee of the Whole. After the expiration of five legislative days from the date of reference, any Bill or Resolution except the General Appropriation Bill may be recalled from any committee by a majority vote of the Senators present; before the expiration of five days from the date of reference, any Bill or Resolution may be recalled from committee by the vote of three- fourths of the Senators present.

RULE 26

CLAUSES IN BILL MUST BE GERMANE

No clause shall be inserted in a Bill unless the same relates to the general subject of the Bill.

RULE 27

SECOND READING BILLS CONSIDERED AS IF IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

All Bills on a second reading shall first be considered by the Senate in the same manner as if the Senate were in Committee of the Whole, before they shall be taken up and proceeded on by the Senate, agreeably to the Standing Rules, unless otherwise ordered; and when the Senate shall consider a Bill or Resolutions as in Committee of the Whole, the President, or President Pro Tempore, may call a member to fill the chair during the time the Senate shall remain in Committee of the Whole, and the Chairman so called shall, during such time have the power of the President Pro Tempore.

RULE 28

ENGROSSMENT OF BILLS—PROCEDURE AS TO COMMITTED BILLS

The final question upon the second reading of every Bill, Resolution, Constitutional Amendment or motion, originating in the Senate, and requiring three readings previous to being passed, shall be, "Whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time."

AMENDMENTS ON THIRD READING DEBATABLE

And whenever an amendment is offered at a third reading of any Bill, Resolution, amendment or motion, the same shall be debatable as in Committee of the Whole.

MOTION TO COMMIT ALWAYS IN ORDER

It shall at all times be in order before the final passage of any such Bill, Resolution, Constitutional Amendment, or motion, to move its commitment; and should such commitment take place, and amendment be reported by the Committee, the said Bill, Resolution, Constitutional Amendment, or motion, shall be again read a second time and considered as in Committee of the Whole, and then the aforesaid question shall again be put.

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT ON THIRD READING

And no amendment shall be received on third reading of a Bill, unless by previous notice, or unanimous consent of the Senate.

RULE 29

PRESENTATION OF PAPERS

Senators, when presenting petitions, memorials or reports, shall make a brief statement of the subject matter of such paper, and send it to the President, when it shall be read by the Reading Clerk, unless otherwise ordered.

RULE 30

MESSAGE TO THE HOUSE

All messages to the House of Representatives shall be sent by either of the Clerks, as directed by the President.

RULE 31

THE CLERK CHARGED WITH PRINTING

The Clerk shall be charged with the duty of having executed, in a proper and accurate manner, the printing ordered by the Senate.

RULE 32

ALL PAPERS TO BE DELIVERED TO CLERK AT CLOSE OF SESSION

At the close of every session the members of the Senate shall be required to hand into the Clerk all petitions not reported on, and all papers in anywise appertaining to the legislative business of the Senate, that the same may be regularly filed in his office.

RULE 33

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS

When acting on confidential or executive business, the Senate shall be cleared of all persons except the Clerk of the Senate and the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, both of whom shall be sworn officers of the body.

When nominations shall be made by the Governor to the Senate, the final question on every nomination shall be: "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?" and the consideration of such nomination may be had on the same day on which they are received by the Senate.

Messages containing nominations to the Senate may be published in the Journal, when received, as other messages, and the fact that a nomination has been made, or that it has been confined or rejected shall not be regarded as a secret. But all information communicated, or remarks made by a Senator when acting upon nominations concerning the character or qualifications of the person nominated, also all votes upon any nominations, shall be kept secret.

Other messages from the Governor pertaining to confidential matters shall be subject to such secrecy or publications as the Senate, in each instance, may order.

RULE 34

ORDER OF BUSINESS AND SPECIAL ORDERS

1. Called to order by the President.
2. Prayer by the Chaplain.
3. Receipt of communications.
4. Introduction and reference of new Bills and Resolutions.
5. Call of local uncontested Calendar.
6. Motion period.
7. Call of the statewide Calendar.

The order of business above provided for may be varied by vote of three-fourths of the Senators present and any order of business already passed may be reverted to in any legislative day by the vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

During the motion period above provided, any motions pertaining to the business of the Senate may be made. During this period all motions to take up Bills or Resolutions out of order for the purpose of making them special orders on a subsequent legislative day shall be in order and said motions shall be made in priority by the recognition by the President of the Senators making said motions. Each such motion shall relate to a separate Bill. Such motions determined without debate and by two-thirds vote of the Senators present.

During the motion period, no Bill or Resolution can be made a special order ahead of Bills or Resolutions which have already acquired the status of adjourned debates.

CALENDAR OF CONTINUED BILLS

When the General Orders of the Day shall be taken up, any Senator may move to continue a matter, when called on the Calendar, to the next session; and if the Senate agree thereto the matter shall be thereunto continued, and the Clerk of the Senate shall make up a Calendar of all matters so continued, placing the same thereon in the order in which they have been continued; and at the ensuing session the continued matters shall be taken up and considered in the same stage in which they were when so continued; and matters ordered to be placed in the General Orders at the said ensuing session shall be placed there in turn and have priority according to the last order for consideration made upon them, and the Calendar shall be proceeded in as hereinbefore provided.

PRIORITY OF MOTION TO CONTINUE

A motion to continue shall have precedence of a motion to lay on the table, and shall be decided after such remarks as the presiding officer may, in his discretion, permit.

RULE 36

BILLS TO BE PRINTED

All Bills reported by a Committee shall after the first reading, be printed for the use of the Senate; but no other paper or documents shall be printed for the use of the Senate without special order.

RULE 37

ADMISSION TO FLOOR OF SENATE

No person shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate while in session, except as follows, viz.: The officers of the Senate, members of the House of Representatives and their Clerk, the Governor and his Private Secretary, State officers, Justices of the Supreme Court, President and Vice-President of the United States, members of Congress, Governors of States and Territories, State Printers, and such other persons as the President of the Senate may see fit to invite to a seat on the floor of the Senate.

RULE 38

PLACES ASSIGNED TO REPORTERS

Reporters of public journals, upon application of the proprietors thereof, shall be assigned such places for the execution of their duties as shall not interfere with the convenience of the Senate.

RULE 39

BILLS SHALL RECEIVE THREE READINGS—RESOLUTIONS AND COMMITTEE REPORTS TO LIE ON TABLE ONE DAY

Every Bill shall receive three different readings, on three different days previous to its being passed, and the President shall give notice of each, whether it be the first, second or third reading. And all Resolutions to which the approval and signature of the Governor may be requisite, or which may grant money out of the contingent or any other fund, shall be treated in all respects, as to introduction and form of proceedings on them in the Senate, as Bills; and all other Resolutions and Reports of Committees shall lie on the table one day for consideration.

FIRST AND THIRD READINGS BY TITLE

The first and third readings of each Bill shall be by its title only: Provided, That on each third reading the Bill shall be read in full on the demand of any Senator.

RULE 40

PRECEDENCE OF MOTION TO REFER

A motion to refer to a Standing Committee shall take precedence of a motion to refer to a Special Committee.

RULE 41

SUSPENDING AND AMENDING RULES

Either of the foregoing rules may be suspended by unanimous consent of the Senate; and without unanimous consent, one day's previous notice shall be given of a motion to amend, rescind or suspend either of the foregoing Rules; and for the adoption of such a motion a two-thirds vote of the Senators present shall be necessary.

RULE 42

JEFFERSON'S MANUAL TO GOVERN OTHER CASES

In all cases not embraced by the foregoing Rules, the Senate shall be governed by such rules as are laid down in Jefferson's Manual of Parliamentary Practice.

RULE 43

PRINTED BILLS TO BE ON DESK ONE DAY BEFORE SECOND READING

No Bill or Joint Resolution shall receive a second reading unless printed copies of the same shall have been laid on the desks of the members at least one day previous to such reading.

RULE 44

TITLE TO BILLS TO AMEND OR REPEAL ACTS

Every Bill or Joint Resolution which shall propose the amendment or repeal of any Section, Chapter or Title of the General Statutes, or of any Act of Assembly or Joint Resolution, shall in its title express the subject matter of such Section, Chapter, Title, Act or Joint Resolution so sought to be amended or repealed. Every Bill or Joint Resolution proposing to amend any Section or Sections of any Chapter of the General Statutes, or of any Act of Assembly or Joint Resolution, shall give the full text of the said Section or Sections, as it or they would read with such amendment or amendments inserted therein.

RULE 45

SECOND READING AMENDMENTS MAY BE AMENDED ON THIRD READING

Any amendment adopted on the second reading of a Bill may be further amended on the third reading, provided previous notice of general amendments has been given.

NECESSARY VOTE ON ACTION BY THE HOUSE

Bill for Special Charter

Concurrent Resolution to allow introduction thereof. Requires "a two-thirds vote of each house," that is two-thirds of those voting, a quorum being present. (Const., Art. IX, Sec. 2). See interpretation by Supreme Court on Page 139.

Consideration—Immediate and Deferred

To make Special Order subsequent day or to take up any matter out of its order—Majority vote. (Rule 59).

Constitution

To pass measure submitting amendment thereto to the electors. Requires "two-thirds of the members elected"—83 yeas. (Const., Art. XVI, Sec. 1). Yeas and Nays required on Second Reading only. See *Supreme Court Decision on Page 140.

To pass Bill ratifying same at next sesion after approval at a general election. Requires "a majority of each branch," by yeas and nays (Const., Art. XVI, Sec. 1), that is "a majority of those voting, a quorum being present." Yeas and Nays required on Second Reading only—See Supreme Court Decision on Page 140.

Constitutional Convention

To pass measure submitting calling of same to the electors. Requires "two-thirds of the members elected" that is, 83 votes. (Const., Art. XVI, Sec. 3).*

Dispensing with Reference—Printing—Report

With reference to Committee on first reading.—Unanimous consent. (Rule 47).

With printing—Majority vote. (Rule 53).

Expulsion of a Member

Requires "the concurrence of two-thirds of those voting." (Const., Art. III, Sec. 12.)*

Impeachment

Of an officer by the House Requires 83 votes. (Art. XV, Sec. 2)—"two-thirds of all the members elected."

Resolution of Question

After refusal to reconsider or affirmation of the first decision—Requires unanimous consent for further motion. (Rule 46).

Removal of Officer

By the Governor for neglect or cause. Requires "the address of two-thirds of each house." (Const., Art. XV, Sec. 4). See* Supreme Court Decision below.

Rules of the House

To recind, suspend or alter (except Rule 1):

Requires vote of "two-thirds of the members present," after one day's previous notice by written Resolution. (Rule 82).

Amendments on Third Reading

To offer amendment (except by Chairman of Ways and Means Committee, if he gave notice at second reading of Supply or Appropriation Bill). Unanimous consent. (Rule 52).

Time of Daily Meeting

To change same from time set by Rules. Requires majority of those present. (Rule 1).

To Move to Take Up From the Table

Any matter when no question is before the House requires unanimous consent. (Rule 63, par. 3).

Veto by the Governor

To pass a Bill (or item or section therein) over same. Requires "two-thirds of each house," that is, two-thirds of those voting, a quorum being present—"taken by yeas and nays, which shall be entered on the Journals of both Houses." (Const., Art. IV, Sec. 23). See below.*

*Supreme Court Decisions

"When the Constitution speaks of 'two-thirds of that House' as the vote required to pass a bill or joint resolution over the veto of the Governor, it means two-thirds of the House as then legally constituted and acting upon the matter. Whenever the framers of the Constitution intended otherwise, the purpose was expressly declared as in Art. XV, Sec. 1, 'a vote of two-thirds of all members elected shall be required for an impeachment,' and in Art. XVI, Sec. 1, where, in proposing amendments to the Constitution, 'two-thirds of the members elected to each house' must agree thereto." Smith v. Jennings, 67 S. C., page 328.

YEA AND NAY VOTE not required on each reading —There is no requirement in Art. XVI, Sec. I of the Constitution that the yea and nay vote shall be taken on each reading of the proposed amendment the wording thereof being merely that it shall be agreed to by two-thirds of the members elected to each House and entered in the Journals respectively, and the yea and nay vote, taken on the second reading, meets the requirements of this Section. Thompson v. Livingston, 116 S. C. 412, 107 S. E. 581, 583.

RULES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

As Adopted January 14, 1947

RULE 1

DAILY SESSIONS—CALLING HOUSE TO ORDER—QUORUM

The hour to which the House shall stand adjourned every day shall be 11 o'clock a. m. of the succeeding day (except Friday, when the House shall stand adjourned to 12 o'clock on the succeeding Tuesday), unless otherwise ordered by the House. Provided, That in the event of recess by the House during any daily session, the House shall reconvene at eight o'clock p. m., unless otherwise ordered, but a motion to recede until an hour certain may be made without the time having been previously fixed, one motion being sufficient to fix the time and recede.

At the hour to which the House shall stand adjourned on any day the Clerk shall call the roll, and immediately thereafter the Speaker shall take the Chair and call the members to order.

If a quorum be present the Journal of the proceedings of the preceding day shall be read, and corrected, if necessary. If a quorum then or at any other time be not present, the members present, if twenty or more, may send for the absent members; and all questions as to expenses of further proceedings against such absent members shall be determined when a quorum shall be present.

RULE 2

DECORUM OF MEMBERS

When the House is called to order, every member shall take his seat, and shall, during the sitting, act with decorum becoming a gentleman. The members may keep on their hats while actually sitting in their respective seats, but at all other times they shall be uncovered (except such as shall be conscientiously restrained from uncovering their heads).

RULE 3

MEMBERS MAY BE CALLED TO ORDER

The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the Rules of the House or Parliamentary law, as practiced or recognized by the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order.

RULE 4

PROCEDURE WHEN MEMBERS CALLED TO ORDER

If a member shall be called to order while speaking, he shall immediately take his seat until the question of order be decided, unless allowed to proceed upon explanation. If the decision be in favor of the member, he shall proceed; if otherwise, he shall not proceed without leave of the House; and, if the case require it, he shall be liable to such other proceedings as the House may take.

RULE 5

CHAIR TO DECIDE QUESTION OF ORDER

If one member on the floor call another to order for words spoken, the exceptionable words shall be taken down in writing by the member objecting, then read, admitted, denied or explained, by the member who spoke, and handed to the Chair, upon which the question of order shall be decided, and proceedings had as provided in the Fourth Rule.

RULE 6

MEMBERS NAMED FOR DISORDER TO WITHDRAW

If, in any manner, repeated cries of order shall not produce order, the Speaker may call by his name any member obstinately persisting in irregularity; whereupon, if the Speaker deem it necessary, he shall state the offense committed. The member may be heard in his exculpation and shall withdraw, and the House shall consider of the punishment to be inflicted, or further proceeding to be had.

RULE 7

GALLERY OR LOBBY MAY BE CLEARED—CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS

In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the gallery or lobby, the Speaker or Chairman of the Committee of the Whole shall have power to order the place to be cleared, or any member may move for such order; and any person guilty of a contempt of the House may be ordered into custody by the House and dealt with as may by it be deemed proper.

RULE 8

MEMBERS MAY APPEAL FROM DECISION

All questions of order shall be determined by the Speaker in the first instance without debate, or with such debate as the Speaker, at his discretion, may permit; but any member may appeal to the House from the decision of the Speaker, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the House.

RULE 9

SPEAKER MAY INFORM BUT NOT DEBATE

The Speaker may give information or explain any matter before the House; he may speak on points of order in preference to other members, and as often as he may deem necessary; but he shall not enter into any debate or endeavor to influence any question before the House.

RULE 10

DECORUM WHEN SPEAKING

Every member, when about to speak, shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," and, in speaking, shall avoid disrespect to the House or to the Senate, and all personalities; and he shall confine himself to the question under consideration.

RULE 11

WHEN MEMBERS ADDRESS THE SPEAKER

The Speaker, when addressed by a member who rises in order, shall name the member, using no title but that of "Mr.", "Mrs.", or "Miss". The member who shall rise first in order, shall be first heard; and if several rise about the same time, the Speaker shall decide who was first up.

RULE 12

MEMBERS MAY SPEAK NOT MORE THAN TWICE ON SAME QUESTION

No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House, except merely to explain his meaning, even if the debate on the question should be continued for many days.

RULE 13

PENALTY FOR ABSENCE WITHOUT LEAVE

If any member shall absent himself without leave, he may be sent for and made to pay expenses, and kept in custody, at the discretion of the House.

RULE 14

CALL OF THE HOUSE

Upon a call of the House being ordered, the Clerk shall call the roll of the members and note the absentees; the names of the absentees shall then be called over at such intervals and as often as the House may direct; proclamation may be made and messages sent to require the attendance of members; and, if the House shall not dispense with further proceedings, the doors may be closed; absentees (for whom no sufficient excuse is made) may be taken into custody as they appear, or they may be sent for and taken into custody wherever to be found, and each detained in custody and made to pay fees, at the discretion of the House.

RULE 15

FEES OF HOUSE MESSENGERS

The fees of the regular messenger, or of any special messenger, to be appointed by the House, shall be two dollars for any arrest; for each day's custody and for the discharge, one dollar; for traveling expenses, going and returning, ten cents a mile.

RULE 16

SPEAKER TO APPOINT COMMITTEES

All Committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially directed by the House, in which case they shall be elected by a viva voce vote.

The Speaker, in appointing the several Committees, shall name the members constituting said Committees in alphabetical order, and the Chairman shall be elected by the several Committees.

And the Committee may at its discretion elect a Vice-Chairman.

RULE 17

STANDING COMMITTEES

As soon as practicable after the first meeting of the House succeeding a general election the following Standing Committees shall be appointed to serve until the next general election, or until a special order to the contrary be made by the House:

The Speaker of the House shall not appoint more than thirty-one (31) members on any Standing Committee of the House.

A Committee on Privileges and Elections, one of whom at least shall be from each Congressional District.

A Committee on Ways and Means.
A Committee on the Judiciary.
A Committee on Agriculture.
A Committee on Roads, Bridges and Ferries.
A Committee on Railroads.
A Committee on Education.
A Committee on State House and Grounds.
A Committee on Fish, Game and Forestry.
A Committee on the Military.
A Committee on the Penitentiary.
A Committee on the State Hospital.
A Committee on Banking and Insurance.
A Committee on Police Regulations.
A Committee on Medical Affairs.
A Committee on Enrolled Acts.
A Committee on Rules, to consist of five members.
A Committee on Merchants and Mercantile Affairs.
A Committee on Social Security.
A Committee on Interstate Cooperation (Act No. 653, Acts of 1946).
A Committee on Aviation.
A Committee on Commerce and Manufacturers.
A Committee on Labor.
A Committee on Veterans Affairs.

RULE 18

JURISDICTION OF COMMITTEES

Unless otherwise ordered Committees shall have jurisdiction only over matters pertaining to the subjects indicated by the names of the respective Committees.

RULE 19

SERVICE ON COMMITTEES

Any member appointed to serve on a Committee may be excused by the House, and he shall be entitled to claim his excuse if he be at the time of his appointment a member of three other Committees.

RULE 20

WHEN COMMITTEE MAY BE CHANGED

After a Committee has been appointed no addition to it or change shall be made, on motion, except to fill a vacancy or excuse a member.

RULE 21

ELIGILIBILITY OF MEMBERS OF COMMITTEES

No member shall be appointed on a Committee before he shall have been sworn and have taken his seat. Any member who shall be sworn after the general announcement of the Committees shall, within a few days afterward, be placed by the Speaker on one or more Standing Committees, even although the number of the Committee should thereby be extended beyond the regular number.

RULE 22

ATTENDANCE AT COMMITTEE MEETINGS

A majority of a Committee shall, when assembled, constitute a quorum for business. If the members fail, to the probable delay, or neglect of business, to form a quorum, upon the summons of the Chairman, or if individual members frequently fail to attend the meetings of the Committee, the Chairman shall report the delinquency to the House, which shall in its discretion, take order for the censure of the delinquents, or other suitable proceeding.

RULE 23

SITTING OF COMMITTEES

No Committee, without special leave, shall sit during the sitting of the House, except that the Committee on Engrossed Bills, the Committee on Enrolled Acts, and any Committee of Free Conference, may sit at any time, and may report at any time when a message might be received. All Committees shall have leave to report by Bill or otherwise.

Except that no Committee shall sit unless a quorum be present and all Bills introduced by Committees must carry the statement of the Chairman that the Bill has the approval of two-thirds of the membership of the Committee.

Provided, That no Committee shall introduce a Bill pertaining to subject-matter over which the Committee does not have jurisdiction.

Provided, That the State Appropriation Bill and the Deficiency Appropriation Bill may be introduced by a majority vote of the Ways and Means Committee.

(At the 1946 Session, Speaker Blatt ruled that when considering amendments not germane to the subject of any Bill, Rule 23 must be considered in conjunction with Rule 80 which provides that such Bills shall be referred to a Committee and that the Committee shall make immediate report. Under these conditions Speaker Blatt ruled that it would be proper for such a Committee to meet during the sitting of the House—see House Journal 1946 Session, Page 1106.)

RULE 24

UNFAVORABLE COMMITTEE REPORTS

Every unanimously unfavorable Report, by any Committee, shall be considered immediately by the House, and adopted or rejected without debate; Provided, 30 members do not signify objections to doing so by rising when called on for that purpose.

RULE 25

DIVISION VOTE OF HOUSE

If, upon a question taken by acclamation, the Speaker doubts, or a division be called for, the House shall divide by those in the affirmative first rising from their seats, then those in the negative. If the Speaker still doubts, or a count be required, the Speaker shall name one member from each side to tell the numbers in the affirmative and those in the negative, and from their report shall state the decision.

RULE 26

WHEN AYES AND NOES SHALL BE ORDERED

Upon any question, at the request of any ten members, who may signify their requests by rising, the eyes and noes shall be ordered; whereupon, at the decision, the Clerk shall call the roll and take the names of all who vote aye, and all who vote no, which he shall enter on the Journal.

RULE 27

PROCEEDINGS GOVERNING AYES AND NOES

When a question is to be taken by ayes and noes after the House is ready for the question, and the same has been stated, and the first response has been made to the Clerk's call, the debate shall cease, the Doorkeeper shall close the door and keep it closed until the decision shall have been announced by the Speaker.

Provided, That on motion of any member of the House of Representatives to open the door of the House immediately after a roll call, and before the vote is announced, it shall take a number not less than ten (10), to object by a rising vote, to prevent said door from being opened and allowing such members as may be outside to come in and cast their votes.

After the door has been thus closed, no member, when called by the Clerk, shall say more than "aye" or "no." Every member who may be in the House when called shall (unless the House shall have before excused him from voting on the question) give his vote under the penalty of such proceeding as the House may, after decision, in its discretion, adopt to punish his contempt.

No member shall, under any circumstances, be permitted to vote after the decisions shall have been announced by the Chair. After the decision of the question, a member absent may be permitted to record the vote he would have given if present, but such vote shall not affect the previous question.

RULE 28

WHEN MEMBERS SHALL NOT VOTE

No member shall vote on any question of a private nature in the event of which he is personally or pecuniarily interested.

RULE 29

SPEAKER TO VOTE LAST—EQUAL VOTE REJECTS THE QUESTION

The Speaker shall vote in all cases (except when he may be personally or pecuniarily interested or shall be excused), his name being called last in the ayes and noes. If with his vote the House be equally divided, the question shall be decided in the negative.

RULE 30

WHEN DEBATE IS IN ORDER

No motion shall be debated until it shall have been seconded and stated by the Speaker. When moved and seconded, any motion shall, if desired by the Speaker or any other member, be reduced to writing, and delivered in at the table and read, before it shall be debated.

RULE 31

MOVER MAY WITHDRAW QUESTION

The mover may withdraw any question or proposition before an amendment or decision except a demand for the ayes and noes, after the same has been ordered.

RULE 32

NO NOTICE REQUIRED TO INTRODUCE BILL

No notice shall be required of a member of his intention to introduce a bill.

RULE 33

HOW PAPERS MUST BE ENDORSED—TITLES AND TEXTS OF BILLS TO AMEND STATUTES

Every Bill, before presentation, shall have its title endorsed; every report, its title at length; every petition, memorial, or other paper, its prayer or substance; and, in every instance, the name of the member presenting any paper shall be endorsed, and the papers shall be presented by the member to the Speaker at the desk.

And every Bill or Joint Resolution which shall propose the amendment or repeal of any Section, Chapter or Title of the General Statutes or of any Act of Assembly or Joint Resolution, shall, in its title express the subject matter of such Section, Chapter, Title, Act or Joint Resolution, so sought to be amended or repealed. If this be not complied with, the paper shall not be received by the Speaker.

Every Bill or Joint Resolution proposing to amend any Section or Sections of any Chapter of the General Statutes, or of any Act of Assembly or Joint Resolution, shall give the full text of the said Section or Sections as it or they would read with such amendment or amendments inserted therein. And if this latter clause of this Rule be not complied with, the Bill or Joint Resolution shall be amended so as to conform to this Rule before it be considered by the House.

RULE 34

APPROPRIATION BILL MUST HAVE COMPTROLLER GENERAL'S CERTIFICATE

Every General Appropriation Bill for the ordinary expenses of the State Government before presentation shall have attached thereto a certificate from the Comptroller General that the total of the appropriations therein provided for is not in excess of the estimated total revenue of the State for such purposes for the preceding fiscal year, and an appropriation Bill without such certificate shall not be read the first time in the House, but shall be returned to the Committee on Ways and Means by the Speaker.

RULE 35

DILATORY MOTION NOT ENTERTAINED

No dilatory motion shall be entertained by the Speaker.

RULE 36

SUSPENSION OF QUESTION OR SPEECH

A question before the House shall be suspended by:

1. A message.

2. Report of the Committee on Engrossed Bills, but Bills reported by said Committee shall only be read as provided in subsequent Rules.

3. A Report of the Committee on Enrolled Acts.

4. A Report of a Committee of Free Conference.

5. A question of order.

6. A question of privilege.

7. A question of taking a recess.

8. Any other incidental question, such as of reading papers, dividing a question, withdrawing a motion, excusing a member from voting, or the like;

of which the seven first named may suspend even a speech; Provided, That the Seventh, if once negatived, be not received during the same speech without the assent of the member speaking.

RULE 37

DEBATE MAY BE INTERRUPTED

When a question is under debate, no motion beside those mentioned in the next preceding Rule shall be received, except:

1. To adjourn, or recede.
2. To continue.
3. To lay on the table.
4. For the previous question.
5. To postpone indefinitely, or to a day beyond the session.
6. To adjourn the debate to a certain day within the session.
7. To recur to the morning hour.
8. To commit or recommit.
9. To strike out the Enacting or Resolving words.
10. To amend.

which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are here arranged, and of these the first and second may be permitted to interrupt a speech; subject to provisions contained in subsequent rules.

[Note: See Rules 43 and 44.]

[Speaker's Ruling: At the 1919 session Speaker Cothran ruled that a motion to adjourn to a day beyond the session is not in order. See House Journal, page 771.]

RULE 38

PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS

A motion to strike out the enacting words of a Bill, or resolving words of a Resolution, shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be considered as equivalent to rejection.

RULE 39

HOW BLANKS SHALL BE FILLED

In filling a blank with any number or date, the largest number and the shortest date proposed shall be first put.

RULE 40

ORDER OF REFERENCE TO COMMITTEES

When a motion to refer shall be made, and different Committees be named, the question shall be taken in the following order, viz.: The Committee of the Whole, Standing Committee, a Select Committee.

RULE 41

QUESTION FIRST MOVED TO BE PUT FIRST

Subject to the exceptions contained in the five Rules next preceding, the question first moved shall be put first.

RULE 42

DIVISION OF A QUESTION

Any member may, without debate, call for the division of a question, and the House may divide it if it shall appear to comprehend the question so distinct that, one being taken away, the rest may stand entire for decision. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed, indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost shall not be deemed equivalent to agreement, nor shall it preclude either amendment or a motion to strike out and insert.

RULE 43

NON-DEBATABLE MOTIONS

Motion to:
- Adjourn
- Take a recess
- Continue
- Lay on the table
- Take up from the table

Take up any matters in the orders of the day not regularly reached
Proceed to the orders of the day
Discharge, lay aside for the day, depart from, or suspend the orders
Postpone indefinitely, or to a day beyond the session
Adjourn a debate
Recur to the morning hour shall be decided without debate; after such short conversations as the Speaker may permit. No motion to:

Lay on the table
Postpone or adjourn a debate
Proceed to general orders of the day; or to Commit having been negatived, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the Bill or proposition within one hour of the time when the question was before negatived.

RULE 44

MOTION TO ADJOURN AND TO RECESS

Motions to adjourn, to recede and to recede subject to the call of the Chair shall always be in order, except whilst the House is actually engaged in deciding a question by ayes and noes, or in voting viva voce, or in balloting; but a motion to adjourn, or to take a recess, having been negatived, no new motion to adjourn or take a recess shall be in order until fifteen minutes shall have elapsed from the decision of the former motion.

RULE 45

INDEFINITE POSTPONEMENT

Indefinite postponement shall dispose of the question for the session.

RULE 46

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

When a question shall have been once decided in the affirmative or negative, any member who voted with the prevailing side may, on the same day or the next day of the sitting of the House, move for a reconsideration, thereof; and if the House shall refuse to reconsider, or, upon reconsideration, shall affirm its first decision, no further motion shall be in order except by unanimous consent.

Provided, That the Bill, Resolution, Message, Report, Amendment, Motion, or the paper upon which the vote was taken shall not have gone out of the possession of the House announcing the former decision.

A motion to reconsider may be laid on the table without affecting the question with reference to which the same is made; and if such motion be laid on the table, it shall be deemed a final disposition of the motion.

[Speaker's Ruling: At the 1936 session Speaker Taylor ruled that a motion to reconsider the action of the House on a veto by the Governor was in order under Rule 46, although such a motion is out of order under the procedure followed in the National House of Representatives. Speaker Taylor's ruling was subsequently upheld by the S. C. Supreme Court. See Case No. 1194, Coleman v. Lewis, et al., opinion No. 14323, filed June 30, 1936; also pages 1841-42, House Journal of 1936.]

RULE 47

PROCEDURE ON FIRST READING

The first reading of a Bill shall be for information. No amendment shall then be in order and the Bill shall be referred to some Committee, unless the House unanimously agree, without debate, to dispense with reference.

RULE 48

FIRST READING BY TITLE ONLY

Bills shall be read by their title only at a first reading unless the reading of the entire Bill is called for by ten members.

RULE 49

SECOND READING OF BILL

The second reading of a Bill shall be Section by Section, and line by line, and word by word—recurrence not being allowed, unless by leave of the House, upon motion, without debate. After the Bill shall have been read, and all amendments and privileged motions (if any) disposed of, the question shall be: "Shall this Bill be ordered to a third reading?" Upon a decision in the affirmative, the order shall be made accordingly. A decision in the negative shall be a rejection.

RULE 50

THIRD READING OF BILL

At the third reading of a Bill, the Bill shall be read by its title only, without question, unless the reading of the entire Bill be called for by ten or more members.

If the Bill originated in the House, the question then shall be: "Shall this Bill pass and be ordered to be sent to the Senate?" A decision in the negative shall be a rejection. Upon a decision in the affirmative, the order shall be made without question.

In the case of a Bill which originated in the Senate (if no amendment has been made by the House), the question shall be: "Shall this Bill pass, the title thereof be changed to an Act, and be ordered enrolled?"

If the Bill has been amended in the House, the question shall be: "Shall this Bill pass, and be ordered to be returned to the Senate with amendments?" A decision in the negative shall be a rejection. Upon a decision in the affirmative, the order shall be made without question.

RULE 51

HOUSE BILL AMENDED BY SENATE

A Bill which originated in the House having been returned from the Senate, with amendment, the Speaker shall call the attention of the House to such amendment. The question then shall be: "Will the House agree to the Senate amendment?" A decision in the negative shall be a rejection. Upon a decision in the affirmative, the title of the Bill shall be changed to an Act, and ordered to be enrolled.

[Speaker's Ruling: At the 1919 session, Speaker Cothran ruled that Rule 51 simply declares the pending question; and that as such it is subject to a motion to postpone to a day beyond the session or to a motion to adjourn debate to a certain day within the session; also that the House can amend the Senate amendment and return the Bill to the Senate.]

RULE 52

AMENDMENTS ON THIRD READING

At the third reading of a Bill, no order or amendment shall be permitted without unanimous consent, except that the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means may (if he shall have given notice at the second reading of his intention to offer amendments at the third) be permitted to offer amendments to any Bill to raise supplies or to make appropriations, such as may be pertinent to the Bill; and,

Provided, That the House may, in its discretion, commit or recommit any Bill at its third reading; and after the report of the Committee any amendment which it shall recommend may be adopted.

RULE 53

BILLS TO BE PRINTED

All Bills reported by a Committee shall of course, be printed, together with the report of the Committee, unless the House shall specially dispense with printing.

The Standing Committees may order to be printed for their use, such papers as shall be referred to them.

RULE 54

PRINTED BILLS TO BE ON DESK ONE DAY PREVIOUS TO SECOND READING

No Bill or Joint Resolution shall receive a second reading unless printed copies of the same shall have been laid on the desks of members at least one day previous to such reading.

RULE 55

MOTIONS TO COMMIT AND RECOMMIT

Any Bill, Report, Petition, or other paper which may come before the House, may be committed or recommitted before a final decision thereon.

RULE 56

SPEAKER MAY ORDER ENGROSSMENT

The Speaker may, whenever he may think it necessary, order any Bill, after its second reading, or any Resolution, Report or other paper which has been under consideration, to be fairly engrossed.

RULE 57

AMENDMENTS MUST BE PERTINENT

No motion or proposition on a subject materially different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment; and no clause shall be admitted or introduced into Bill which does not relate to the general objects of the Bill.

RULE 58

SPECIAL AND GENERAL ORDERS AND MOTIONS

Orders of the day shall be Special and General; Special when set for consideration after Third Reading Bills or when set for consideration on a particular day at a particular hour; General, when a matter is ordered for consideration or action on a day subsequent without special reference given to it. NO BILL except a COMMITTEE BILL or LOCAL BILL shall be made a Special Order for a particular day at a particular hour.

Any member may insist upon a Special Order of the Day, or other Special Orders, until it be discharged.

A General Order of the Day shall always require the special assent of the House before it be proceded in or executed.

A Special Order, set for a certain day and hour or for a certain day and hour and from day to day until disposed of, not being considered by the House at the hour named, shall be transferred by the Clerk of the House to the Special Orders of the following day immediately after Third Reading Bills and from day to day thereafter until disposed of, in the chronological order of original appointment.

Ten (10) minutes, if so much be necessary, of each Legislative day immediately before Special and General Orders on Second Reading Bills shall be given to motions.

RULE 59

CONSIDERATION OF MATTERS, IMMEDIATE AND DEFERRED—PRIORITY OF FREE CONFERENCE REPORT

Every Bill which shall be ordered for a second reading, every Report of a Committee, and every original Resolution received from any member shall be ordered for consideration on the next day of sitting after the order, and shall be placed in its turn in the General Orders of the Day, and each paper in the General Orders shall have priority according to the date of the last order for consideration made upon it.

Except that the House may make a Special Order for the consideration of any subject on any day subsequent, or may agree to take up any matter in the Orders of the Day before it be reached in order; or may consider any Report or Resolution on the day, it may be submitted, provided ten members do not signify objections to doing so by rising when called on for that purpose, if a proposition so to consider be made to the House; and,

Except that a Bill reported by a Committee shall be read a first time, when the Report may be received and ordered for consideration along with the Bill; and that a Report made by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, on any question relating to elections, may be considered whenever the House may direct; and that a Report of the Committee of the Whole, or of the Committee on Engrossed Bills, or of the Committee on Enrolled Acts, or of a Committee of Free Conference, may be considered whenever the House shall direct.

Except that upon the question of the consideration of a Report of a Committee of Free Conference, at the request of any ten members, who may signify their request by rising, the Report of the Committee of Free Conference shall be printed in the Journal, and lie over for consideration on the next day of sitting after the presentation of Report.

"Provided, That when ten members object to the immediate consideration of any Resolution, the Resolution shall be referred to an appropriate Committee, and shall not be considered by the House until after the Committee has made its report. Provided, further, That such Resolution shall be printed in the same manner as is prescribed in Rule 53 for the printing of Bills, and shall be referred to in the House Journal by the title only."

RULE 60

MOTION TO CONTINUE

When the General Orders of the Day have been taken up, any member may move to continue a matter, when called on the Calendar, to the next session; and if the House agree thereto, the matter shall be thereupon continued; and the Clerk of the House shall make up a Calendar of all the matter so continued, placing the same thereon in the order in which they have been continued, and at the ensuing session the continued matters shall be taken up and considered in the same stage in which they were when so continued; and matters ordered to be placed in the General Orders at the said ensuing session shall be placed there in turn, and have priority according to the last order for consideration made upon them, and the Calendar shall be proceeded in as hereinbefore provided.

A motion to continue shall have precedence of a motion to lay on the table and shall be decided after such short conversation as the Speaker may in his discretion permit.

[At the opening of the 1946 Extra Session Speaker Blatt ruled that all Legislation that had been continued until the next Session, or was pending on the calendar upon adjournment of the Regular Session, was in order, and should be considered in the Extra Session in the same stage in which they were when the Regular Session adjourned—See House Journal 1946 Extra Session, Page 1573.]

RULE 61

QUESTION OF PRIORITY NOT DEBATABLE

All questions as to a priority of business, or as to the time when any matter shall be considered or ordered for consideration and as to a departure from the regular order of business shall be decided without debate.

RULE 62

ORDER OF BUSINESS DAILY

When the House shall not direct a different course, which, at any time, in any particular not forbidden by these Rules, it may do, the following order of business shall be enforced every day by the Speaker, unless departed from by the leave of the House:

1. After the reading of the Journal, the Speaker shall present to the House communications on the Speaker's table intended to give information to be referred; messages and papers from the Senate; Resolutions, Bills, Reports of Committees and such like matters.

2. That upon each legislative day the House shall, for a period of thirty minutes, if so much time be necessary, consider uncontested second and third reading Bills before considering special orders or other general orders. Upon this call a single objection shall prevent the consideration of the Bill. Such objection shall be made in the matter prescribed by Rule 10. It shall be entered upon the Calendar with the name of the member or members objecting and the Bill thereafter shall be deemed a contested Bill until the member or members objecting shall formally from the floor withdraw objection.

3. Upon completion of the call of the Calendar for uncontested Bills the Speaker shall call for withdrawal of objections and any Bills upon which all objections are withdrawn, shall be considered again as provided in paragraph 2 above.

4. All uncontested matters on the Calendar having been disposed of, the House shall then take up consideration of contested matters in the order in which they appear on the Calendar, except that the Speaker shall call for Motions immediately before Special and General Orders on Second Reading Bills, as provided in the last paragraph of Rule 58.

RULE 63

TAKING UP MATTERS FROM THE TABLE

A motion to take up any matter which lies on the table may be made either when the Speaker calls for motions or when he calls for motions to take up matters on the table, if the matter be such as should not properly be in the orders of the day.

But if the matter be such as has been in the orders of the day, or would regularly be placed there if not laid on the table, a motion to take it up shall be made only when motions to take up matters on the table have been called for, except as follows:

At any time when no question is before the House, a motion to take up any matter on the table may be made by unanimous consent.

A motion to take up from the table any matter may be made whensoever a subject with which it is proper to be considered is presented for consideration.

A motion may, at any time, when the House is not engaged upon another question, be made to take up a Bill, or other paper, for the purpose of placing it in the orders of the day, or of referring it, or of making an order relating to the printing of it.

At any time when the House is engaged in the orders of the day a motion may be made to take up any matter which, having been in the orders of the day, was laid on the table, when called for consideration in the course of the orders.

A motion to take up any matter on the table or to take up any matter not reached in the orders of the day, having been negatived, shall not be renewed within one hour, if objection be made.

RULE 64

CLERK TO PREPARE DAILY CALENDAR

The Clerk of the House shall cause to be printed and laid on the desks of the members, every morning, the orders of the preceding day, arranged according to priority, and numbered from the Commencement of the session, every matter being introduced and numbered anew after every new order upon it, and the substance of the order being summarily stated, as: "Bill, etc., ordered for a second reading": "Report of Committee, etc., on Bill, etc., ordered for consideration"; "Report on Bill, etc., taken from the table and ordered for consideration."

RULE 65

RESUMPTION OF INTERRUPTED DEBATE

A debate interrupted by a simple adjournment shall afterwards be resumed at the point of interruption as if debate had been formally adjourned. If the matter under debate be in the orders, general or special, it shall be first taken up when next the orders are taken up, unless a special order to the contrary be made by the House.

If it be a matter not in orders, it shall be taken up at the next meeting before any other question is presented, except incidental questions, and such matters on his table as the Speaker may think necessary to present, and such questions as the House may give special leave to be first presented.

In like manner, and with like exceptions, a matter interrupted by a call for the orders of the day shall, after the orders have been disposed of, or laid aside, and such matters as may be taken up from the table have been disposed of, or after adjournment, be resumed at the point of interruption, before any other question.

RULE 66

WHEN MESSAGES MAY BE RECEIVED

Messages may be received at any time whilst the door is open, except whilst a question is being put, or a ballot, or a viva voce vote is taken. A message shall be presented to the House by the Speaker when received, or afterwards, according to its nature, and the business in which the House is engaged; or its consideration may, on motion, be ordered by the House.

RULE 67

DUTIES OF CLERK, READING CLERK AND SPEAKER

The Clerk, or Reading Clerk, as the Speaker may direct shall prepare in writing, present to the Speaker for his signature, and send all messages to the Senate ordered by the House, unless a different form of sending any message be ordered by the Speaker of the House.

The Reading Clerk shall read all papers to be read at the desk, except the Journal, which shall be read by the Clerk of the House, which the Speaker may direct him to read, the Speaker being especially responsible that all amendments ordered by the House be correctly made, and that the attention of the House be called to all amendments made by the Senate since the matter was before the House.

The Clerk shall also be charged with the duty of having executed, in a prompt and accurate manner, all the printing required by the Rules or orders of the House.

RULE 68

CLERK MAY REQUIRE RECEIPT FOR PAPERS

No member shall take any books or papers from the possession of the Clerk of the House without first acquainting the Clerk, and, if required, giving him a receipt to return the same in a reasonable time or on his demand.

RULE 69

CHAIRMAN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

In forming a Committee of the Whole, the Speaker shall leave the Chair and appoint a Chairman to preside over the Committee.

RULE 70

RULES FOR COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

The Rules of the House, so far as they may be applicable, shall be observed in a Committee of the Whole, the Chairman being substituted for the Speaker, except the Rule limiting the time of speaking on a debatable question; but no member of the Committee shall speak on the same question oftener than twice until every other member choosing to speak has spoken.

RULE 71

AMENDMENTS BY COMMITTEES

No Committee of the Whole or other Committee, shall deface or interline a Bill or other paper, referred to it, but shall report any amendments recommended on a separate paper, noting the page and line.

RULE 72

SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

If inexpedient to elect on the opening day of the session, the Wednesday following the organization of the House, a Speaker Pro Tempore shall be elected, who shall preside in the absence of the Speaker. The Speaker in the absence of the Speaker Pro Tempore, or the Speaker Pro Tempore, may name a member to fill his place during occasional absences from the chair, but such substitute shall not extend beyond an adjournment.

In the absence of the Speaker and Speaker Pro Tempore, the House shall elect a Speaker Pro Tempore to serve until the return of the Speaker or Speaker Pro Tempore.

RULE 73

PAY CERTIFICATES

It shall be the duty of the Clerk to issue pay certificates to members for per diem and mileage, and to officers and employees, and for incidental expenses, upon the order of the House or of the Speaker, the signature of the Speaker being attested by the Clerk.

RULE 74

TITLE OF MEMBERS

No other title or addition except "Mr.," "Mrs." or "Miss" shall be used by the Speaker or Clerk in calling the name of any member in the House.

RULE 75

ADMISSION TO HALL—HATS

No person not a member or officer of the House shall be admitted within the bar without the special leave of the House. Besides the members and officers of the House, the following persons, and no others, shall be admitted within the Hall; namely:

The present members and officers of the House of Representatives; the members of the Press as designated by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; the Governor; the present members and officers of the Senate; the present officers and employees of the Engrossing Department; and such persons as may be invited by order of the House; Provided, no seat in the House shall be occupied by any one except the members thereof.

All persons in the gallery or lobby shall be uncovered, and all persons not members of the House shall be uncovered whilst in the Hall.

The Doorkeepers and Messengers are charged with enforcement of this Rule.

RULE 76

TIME ALLOWED TO EXPLAIN VOTE

No member having asked and obtained leave of the House to explain his vote on any question before the House shall be allowed more than ten minutes for such explanation.

RULE 77

PRECEDENT AND PARLIAMENTARY LAW

In all particulars not determined by these Rules, or by the laws or Constitution of this State, or of the United States, the practice of this House shall conform to its previous usage, or be guided by parliamentary law as it may be collected from the best authorities.

RULE 78

ALLOTMENT OF SEATS

As soon as practicable, after the House has been organized, the seats of the members shall be allotted as follows: The Clerk shall prepare a number of ballots, equal to the number of Counties, upon each of which shall be written or printed the name of a County. These shall be put into a hat or closed box, and, under the direction of the Speaker, shall be drawn out one by one by the youngest Page present. As each ballot is drawn, the delegation from the County whose name appears upon the ballot shall select their seats. Provided, That no delegation shall be allowed to select more than one seat on the main aisle. This Rule shall take effect immediately.

RULE 79

COUNTY TAX BILLS

A general Bill to provide for the levy of taxes for school purposes (the Constitutional Tax) shall be introduced covering all the counties in the State; but the levy of taxes for county purposes shall be accomplished by the introduction of a separate bill for each county.

RULE 80

AMENDMENTS NOT GERMANE TO ORIGINAL BILL

Amendments not germane to the subject of any Bill or Joint Resolution, whether proposed in the House or the Senate, or by any Committee of either or both Houses, or in any other way, shall be considered by this House only after the Bill has been referred to an appropriate Committee, and the Committee shall make immediate reports on all such Bills referred to them.

RULE 81

FREE CONFERENCE REPORT—GENERAL APPROPRIATION BILL—LOCAL COUNTY MATTERS

No report of the House Conferees or any Free Conference Committee shall be considered until such report has been printed in the Journal, and the Conferees explain the same on the floor of the House. This Rule shall not apply to local County matters.

RULE 82

CHANGING OR SUSPENDING RULES

None of the foregoing Rules shall be rescinded, suspended, or altered without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present after one day's previous notice of motion to rescind, suspend, or alter, has been given (except Rule 1), and such alteration, suspension, etc., shall only be made by written Resolution.

RULE 83

PRIVATE CLAIMS

No Bill or Amendment providing an appropriation to pay a private claim against this State or a department thereof shall be acted upon until the same has been investigated by a Standing Committee of the House and a report made thereon.

RULE 84

APPROPRIATION BILLS—INCLUDE ONLY PROVISIONS FOR PRODUCING REVENUE AND APPROPRIATING FUNDS

The General Appropriation Bill and Supplemental Appropriation Bills shall include only provisions for producing revenue and appropriating funds, and rules, regulations and procedures relative thereto; and no provision of an Appropriation Bill and no amendment thereto shall be in order which is not germane to these purposes.

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE

Adopted January 15, 1947

RULE 1

READING OF BILL

Every Bill shall receive three readings on three several days in the House in which it originates before it is sent to the other House.

RULE 2

MESSAGES BETWEEN THE TWO HOUSES

All messages between the two Houses must be in writing and numbered in regular sequence for each session, except that messages announcing the organization of either House, or its readiness to adjourn pursuant to Joint Resolution, may be communicated orally by the Clerk in person.

RULE 3

PRESIDENT PRESIDES IN JOINT ASSEMBLY

When the two Houses meet for any purpose, the President of the Senate shall preside and discharge the duties of the Joint Assembly.

RULE 4

COMMITTEE OF FREE CONFERENCE

Question of disagreement between the two Houses shall be referred to Committees of Conference, as follows:

If the disagreement be upon a Resolution, Bill or Report adopted by one House and sent to the other House for consideration, and it be proposed to amend such Resolution, Bill or Report, the House in possession of the paper will send a message to the other House containing the amendment proposed. If that House disagree to such amendment, it will return a message accordingly. If the House proposing the amendment still desires to urge it, it will send a message to the other House, insisting upon its amendment, and asking that a Committee of Free Conference may be appointed, at the same time naming its own Committee of Free Conference. This will be granted as of course. The Committee of Free Conference shall meet in Joint Session and shall formulate and submit their report in writing to both Houses. If the Joint Committee of Free Conference fail to agree upon any plan of settlement, or their Report be not concurred in by both Houses, the Resolution Bill or Report shall be lost.

Provided, That in case of the General Appropriation Bill where a new item is inserted by the Committee of Free Conference, the right shall be reserved by both Houses to pass on the same, and the rejection of any such new appropriation item or items by either or both Houses shall result in the rejection of such new appropriation items only, and such rejection shall not affect or impair any other provision of the Appropriation Bill or result in the loss of said Bill.

RULE 5

NOTICE OF REJECTION TO BE SENT

When a Bill or Resolution or any other matter which shall have passed in one House is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be given to that House in which the same shall have passed.

RULE 6

PAPERS TO BE INCLUDED WITH BILL

Each House shall transmit to the other all papers upon which any Bill or Resolution or Report sent to it for consideration shall have passed.

RULE 7

RATIFICATION OF ACTS

All Bills that have been read three times in each House and have been duly engrossed and become Acts, shall be returned into the possession of the Clerk of that House in which the Bills originated. A day for the ratification thereof in the Senate Chamber shall be fixed by a message between the two Houses. At the time appointed, the Speaker of the House, attended by the Clerk of the House and Sergeant-at-Arms, in the official costume, with the members of the House, shall repair to the Senate Chamber, the Clerk of the House taking with him the House Acts which are to be ratified. The Senate, with its officers, shall duly receive the House and its officers, the Clerk of the Senate having in his possession the Senate Acts which are to be ratified. Whereupon, the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House shall interchangeably sign and present to each other the Acts from their respective Houses by their respective titles; and when they are all signed and ratified, they shall be left with the Clerk of the Senate, and the Speaker, with the House and its officers, shall retire to the Hall of the House. The Clerk of the Senate shall forthwith deliver the said Acts to the Governor for his action, making a note on each Act of the day and hour of its delivery.

RULE 8

CLAIMS

The report of the Comptroller General to the General Assembly on Claims, filed in his office, required by Section 5 of an Act entitled "An Act to prescribe and regulate the introduction of measures relating to private interests and the conduct of the same in the progress thereof," approved December 26, A. D. 1885, shall be referred to the Committee on Claims of the two Houses who shall examine the same and hear any parties desiring to be heard in reference to any claim therein mentioned, and report back to their respective Houses the results of such examination for the final action of the General Assembly.

RULE 9

MEASURES OF PRIVATE INTEREST

That no measures relating to private interest shall be introduced into the General Assembly, except in strict conformity to the provisions of an Act entitled "An Act to prescribe and regulate the introduction in the General Assembly of measures relating to private interest, and the conduct of the same in progress thereof," approved December 26, 1885, and the conduct of such measures in their progress through the General Assembly shall be regulated by the terms and requirements of the said Act. (Note: must be by petition, with draft of measure, and referred to Committee).

RULE 10

VOTING IN JOINT ASSEMBLY

In a Joint Assembly, when a vote is being taken, no member may change his vote after it has been announced and recorded but a member who did not vote when his name was called, may do so before the result has been duly announced.

That in all elections held by the Joint Assembly nominations to fill the vacancies shall be called for by the presiding officer, and no member shall second any of the nominations until the presiding officer shall declare that "It appears to the Chair that no further nominations are to be made."

Seconds to nominations will then be in order until the motion to "proceed to a ballot" is made and adopted. No nomination or seconding speeches will be allowed unless by previously arranged Concurrent Resolutions providing for such.

Should there be but one nomination to fill any one vacancy, it shall be permissible to elect and declare the election by viva voce vote.

In elections where there are more nominations than there are vacancies, there shall be appointed on behalf of the Senate by the President of the Senate two Senators and the Assistant Clerk of the Senate and by the Speaker of the House of Representatives two Representatives and the Assistant Clerk of the House of Representatives who shall serve as tellers for the pending election. The Clerks of the respective Houses shall call the respective rolls.

DOORS SHALL BE CLOSED

That in all elections in the Joint Assembly the doors of the Hall of the House of Representatives shall be closed and no person other than members, Clerks, and attaches of the two Houses shall be allowed within the Hall of the House of Representatives; Provided, That representatives of the press may be admitted; and Provided, That the gallery shall be open to visitors. The Sergeant-at-Arms of the two Houses and the doorkeepers are charged with enforcement of this rule.

AMENDMENTS TO JOINT RULES

(At the 1946 Session, there being no rule prescribing the vote necessary to amend or suspend a Joint Rule, Speaker Blatt ruled that a majority of those voting, a quorum being present, is sufficient to adopt the amendment or the suspension—see House Journal 1946 Session, Page 546.)

THE STATE HOUSE

Written by the late J. Wilson Gibbes, Sr., Clerk, House of Representatives and first published in the 1929 Manuel.

Authorities consulted: Legislative documents in State Library; Chas. C. Wilson, of Columbia, last architect of the building.

Mr. Wilson declares that South Carolina's State House is "one of the notable buildings of the world." Designed by Maj. John R. Niernsee, whom death prevented from carrying out what he said was "his life work," and in vital particulars his plans were afterwards departed from.

December 15, 1851, cornerstone for a "Fire Proof Building" was laid and in 1852 General Assembly appropriated $50,000 to complete it and to begin next section as "New State Capitol." P. H. Hammerskold was the architect, and in May, 1854, he was dismissed for "concealments and misrepresentations and general dereliction of duty."

August 3, 1854, Niernsee was elected architect. He reported work and materials defective, wholly unsuitable, and the work was taken down, with a total loss of $72,267.

Nov. 27, 1854, Gov. Jno. L. Manning recommended that new building be located at intersection of Senate and Richardson (now Main) streets, with north and south exposures, declaring: "If change of location be made, in the end, perhaps it may not be a subject much to be regretted that delay and disaster attended the first efforts to construct a new Capitol for the commonwealth."

The General Assembly ordered location of new building changed, with wings extending east and west, as at present. Niernsee planned to complete building in 5 yrs. In 1857 it had advanced to top of basement window-heads.

October 1, 1860, he reported the "absolute value of work put into the building" to be $1,240,063, and the structure as advanced to nearly 66 ft. above the foot of the foundation. "The Corinthian granite capitols, some 64, are being executed in a style and finish heretofore unequalled in that line." (Mr. Wilson characterizes this work as "wonderful, nothing finer in France or Italy.")

Work was suspended when Sherman's army destroyed Columbia on February 17, 1865. Only slight damage was done to the building by the shells, as the cannon were of light calibre, but the loss caused by destruction of the old State House, with its valuable library; the offices, workshops, etc., with their priceless contents of plans, drawings and models, the work of 10 yrs.; and a vast quantity of finished marble and rough material was estimated by Niernsee as $700,000 finished marble.

"But 6 balls struck the western front," with little damage "except one which shattered the moulded windowsill and balusters of the 2d window (from the northern end) of the Hall of the House of Representatives." Four shots struck the interior of the bldg.—10 shots in all. Brass markers are placed at the spots on the west and the southwest.

Damage to the quoin-stones and basement cornice at the southwestern corner was caused "by the proximity of the fire from the adjacent old State House Bldg."

"One of the latest and best busts of Calhoun" was destroyed. Five "bells of St. Michael's Church, Charleston, sent up here some time ago, deposited under one of the sheds, were cracked by fire and made useless, except the metal for recasting."

Niernsee's library of architectural and scientific books, engravings, and several thousand drawings, the result of his practice of 25 yrs., with all the valuable detail State House drawings, contracts, etc., which had accumulated during 10 yrs., "were utterly swept away during that terrible night"—an irreparable loss.

Nothing remains of these drawings but several prints of a perspective view and one full size detail of a Corinthian capital, but this perspective and evidence in the bldg. itself indicate his conception of the completed building.

His plan did not contemplate a dome anything like that now on the bldg., but a lofty and finely proportioned tower rising through center of bldg. and supported on piers and arches from the ground up—a "rectangular lantern" somewhat pyramidal in outline, 30 ft. square at base, 180 ft. above ground, and to cost $200,000.

Niernsee returned to Columbia as architect in 1885 to resume work, but died June 7. Succeeded by a former associate J. Crawford Nielson, of Baltimore, and on Oct. 1, 1888, by his son, Frank McHenry Niernsee, who successively carried on the work, mainly on the interior, until it was again suspended about 1891.

In 1900, Frank P. Milburn was appointed architect. He replaced the roof and built present dome and north and south porticoes at cost of about $175,000, McIlvain & Unkefer being contractors. Senator J. Q. Marshall, of the Commission, protested strongly against Milburn's appointment. He finally secured investigation of the work and Milburn and contractors were sued by State. There was a mistrial and case was not re-tried.

A Joint Legislative Committee, after calling in Capt. S. S. Hunt, Supt. of construction of U. S. State Capitol, characterized the dome as "infamous, no uglier creation could be devised, and it is nothing short of a miserable fraud."

Apr. 8, 1904, Chas. C. Wilson, of Columbia, was elected architect, under whom sundry items of improvements and equipment on interior were made, and terrace and steps on north front building. This work continued several years at total cost of about $100,000.

Mr. Wilson says: "The style of the building is in Roman Corinthian, with considerable freedom and distinguished originality in much of the detail. The workmanship of Maj. Niernsee's time is exceptionally fine, indicating not only his great genius but the enthusiastic cooperation of mechanics of the highest skill and integrity.

"All credit for this noble and dignified building is due to the original designer and architect, Maj. John R. Niernsee. It is due him and to future generations of South Carolinians that it be protected from further departure from his design, and in good time, in the State's future prosperity, it is not too much to hope that it may yet be restored to his ideal."

Appropriations for the building have been verified in legislative documents to the amount of $3,540,000, the records of several years not being available.

Mr. Niernsee was born in Vienna in 1814.

THE SEAL

OF THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

For Illustration See Color Section

The following facts concerning the Seal are taken from the official bulletin on "The Seal of the State of South Carolina" by A. S. Salley, Jr., Secretary of the State Historical Commission.

On March 26, 1776, the Provincial Congress of S. C. set up an independent government, electing John Rutledge, president. On April 2, 1776, the President and Privy Council were authorized by Resolution of the Gen. Assembly "to design and cause to be made a Great Seal of South Carolina."

After the Declaration of Independence, a design for the arms of an official great seal, prepared by William Henry Drayton, a member of the Privy Council, was accepted, together with a design for the reverse, said to have been designed by Arthur Middleton. Both designs were turned over to an engraver in Charles Town, and engraved as a great seal, which was used by Pres. Rutledge for the first time on May 22, 1777.

The Seal was made in the form of a circle, four inches in diameter, and four-tenths of an inch thick.

Both the arms and reverse symbolize the battle fought on June 28, 1776, between the unnamed, and unfinished fort at Sullivan's Island (now Fort Moultrie), and the British Fleet.

A description of the Seal follows:

Arms: A Palmetto tree growing on the sea-shore, erect (symbolical of the fort on Sullivan's Island, built of Palmetto logs); at its base, a torn up oak tree, its branches lopped off, prostrate, typifying the British Fleet, constructed of oak timbers and defeated by the fort; both proper. Just below the branches of the Palmetto, two shields, pendant; one of them on the dexter side is inscribed MARCH 26, (the date of ratification of the Constitution of S. C.)—the other on the sinister side JULY 4, (the date of Declaration of Independence): Twelve spears proper, are bound crosswise to the stem of the Palmetto, their points raised, (representing the 12 states first acceding to the Union; the band uniting them together bearing the inscription QUIS SEPARABIT (Who shall separate?) Under the prostrate oak, is inscribed MELIOREM LAPSA LOCAVIT (having fallen it has set up a better); below which appears in large figures, 1776 (the year the Constitution of S. C. was passed, the year of the Battle of Sullivan's Island and of the Declaraton of Independence, and the year in which the Seal was ordered made). At the summit of the Exergue, are the words SOUTH CAROLINA: and at the bottom of the same ANIMIS OPIBUSQUE PARATI (prepared in mind and resources).

Reverse: A woman walking on the seashore, over swords and daggers (typifying Hope overcoming dangers, which the sun, just rising, was about to disclose); she holds in her dexter hand, a laurel branch, (symbolical of the honors gained at Sullivan's Island),—and in her sinister hand, the folds of her robe; she looks toward the sun, just rising above the sea, (indicating that the battle was fought on a fine day, and also bespeaking good fortune; all proper. On the upper part is the sky, azure. At the summit of the Exergue, are the words DUM SPIRO SPERO (While I breathe I hope) and within the field below the figure, is inscribed the word SPES (Hope).

THE STATE BIRD OF SOUTH CAROLINA

THE MOCKINGBIRD

For Illustration See Color Section

Officially adopted under Act passed by the General Assembly and approved July 1, 1939.

The Encyclopaedia Britannica defines the mockingbird as the "popular name of birds belonging to the American family mimidae. It is greyish brown above and dull white below. The nest is often placed close to houses and is a careless structure. 3 to 6 blue-green eggs, spotted with light brown, are laid, the mockingbird has a fine song of its own, and in addition has a remarkable power of mimicry."

THE STATE FLAG
OF SOUTH CAROLINA

For Illustration See Color Section

Designed by Col. William Moultrie in 1775 and adopted as State Flag in 1777.

Adopted Jan. 28, 1861, as National flag of S. C.; "Blue with a white Palmetto upright in the center, and a white crescent in the upper flagstaff corner of the flag."

This became again the State flag when South Carolina entered the Confederacy, and continued upon readmittance to the United States.

The statutes prescribe that Clemson College shall manufacture State flags and sell them at approximate cost.

They also prescribe that the flag shall be displayed daily, except in rainy weather, upon the State House and every Court House, and each State college; and upon the inside of every public school building except when closed for vacation.

It is also prescribed that any person who mutilates, injures or desecrates the State flag, wherever displayed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $100 or by imprisonment for not more than 30 days.

The flag of South Carolina was the first to float over any part of Mexico.

"The State flag shall be displayed daily, except in rainy weather, from a staff upon the State House."—Civil Code, 1942, Sec. 5703.

THE STATE FLOWER

THE YELLOW JESSAMINE

(For Illustration See Color Section)

Officially adopted by the General Assembly on February 1, 1924, upon the Report of a Select Legislative Committee consisting of Senator T. B. Butler of Gafney, and Representatives G. B. Ellison of Columbia, and T. S. Heyward of Bluffton.

"As fair as Southern Chivalry,
As pure as truth, and shaped like stars."

* * *

"No flower that blooms holds such perfume,
As kindness and sympathy won.
Wherever there grows the sheltering pine
Is clinging a Yellow Jessamine vine."

From "Legend of the Yellow Jessamine," by Mrs. Teresa Strickland, of Anderson, S. C., when the flower was made the emblem of Dixie Chapter, U. D. C., about 1906.

The "Carolina, or Yellow Jessamine" is defined by the New International Encyclopaedia as "a climbing plant which grows upon trees and fences and bears a profusion of yellow, funnel-shaped flowers an inch in diameter, with a fragrance similar to that of the true Jasmine." Its odor on a damp evening or morning fills the atmosphere with a rare and delicate sweetness.

POET-LAUREATE

Archibald Rutledge.....Charleston

Born at McClellanville, S. C., in 1883, Archibald Rutledge was educated in Charleston and at Union College, from which he was graduated in 1904. Since that year he has been Head of the English Department in the Mercersburg Academy.

(Appointed by Governor Blackwood under authority of Joint Resolution No. 736, passed in 1934 and calling for the appointment of some outstanding and distinguished man of letters as poet-laureate for the State of South Carolina.)

THE STATE SONG

TIMROD'S "CAROLINA" SET TO MUSIC

By Miss Anne Custis Burgess

Acting on the Memorial of the South Carolina Daughters of the American Revolution that the patriotic song "Carolina," written by Henry Timrod, South Carolina's most beloved poet, set to music by Miss Anne Custis

Burgess, be made "legally the State song," the General Assembly, on February 11, 1911, adopted Senator W. L. Mauldin's Concurrent Resolution that it "be accepted and declared to be the State song of South Carolina." (See Senate Journal, page 557. While the text of the Resolution states "and set to music by Miss Custis, a daughter of South Carolina," this is evidently a confusion of her real name, which is stated in full in the memorial, and given above).

Henry Timrod, Laureate of the Confederacy, was born in Charleston, S. C., December 8, 1829, died in Columbia, October 7, 1867, and is buried in Trinity Churchyard, Columbia. There is a bronze bust of him by Valentine on Washington Square, Charleston, unveiled on May 1, 1901.

Miss Burgess was born in Mayesville, S. C., and was buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Summerton, S. C., in October, 1910.

THE STATE TREE

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

THE PALMETTO TREE

Adopted as the "Official State Tree of the State of South Carolina" by Joint Resolution No. 63, approved March 17, 1939.

The South Carolina Palmetto is classified by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as "Inodes Palmetto (also called Sabal Palmetto), and commonly known as the Cabbage Palmetto." It has long been closely associated with the history of South Carolina, being represented on the State Flag (adopted in 1777) as well as on the State Seal, where it is symbolical of the defeat of the British fleet by the fort on Sullivan's Island, built of Palmetto logs.

The Palmetto is an attractive feature of the coastal areas of South Carolina and is also found in Georgia, Florida and North Carolina. The large leaf-bud is highly prized as a salad vegetable for use in making pickles or relishes, and in Florida some use has been made of the fibers from the leaf bases. Such uses, however are wasteful, since the palm must be destroyed in either case and years must elapse before it can be replaced.

EMBLEMS OF LEGISLATIVE AUTHORITY

Facts concerning the Sword of State and the Mace used in the Senate and the House, respectively.

The Sword of State

For Illustration See Color Section

This sword hangs from the front of the Senate Rostrum during daily sessions and is carried by the Sergeant-at-Arms on all State occasions. Facts as to its history were secured, as follows, from A. S. Salley, Secretary of the State Historical Commission:

Earliest mention found is in Journal of the "Commons House of Assembly of South Carolina" for Friday, May 5, 1704, wherein it is stated that 26£: 11s 3D (about $129) be paid for a Sword of State "for the Rt. Hon. the Governor, and all succeeding Governors for the Honr. of this Government."

The Governor and the eight deputies of the eight Lords Proprietors of Carolina constituted the Upper House of the General Assembly. The Sword of State was secured and used by the Grand Council until that body passed out of existence with the overthrow of the government of the Lords Proprietors in South Carolina in December, 1719.

Thereafter it was used by His Majesty's Council for South Carolina, at least until June 23, 1722, when Arthur Middleton, president of the Council, and acting Governor, informed the Commons House that it was "no way proper to be used by any of his Majesty's Governor" and suggested that the House give it to the "Corporation of Charles City (Charleston) and Port, to be carried before the Mayor." Says Mr. Salley:

"Whether this suggestion was carried out and a new sword procured, the writer has so far been unable to ascertain, but throughout the records of his Majesty's Council for South Carolina down to the Revolution evidence is found of the use of a Sword of State. On March 26, 1776, South Carolina adopted a constitution independent of the government of Great Britain and elected John Rutledge, president of the State. He was inaugurated on the following day, and the Journal of the Lower House records that his Excellency was 'preceded by the Sheriff bearing the Sword of State and the Officers of the Legislative Council.' "

"The same Sword of State", says Mr. Salley, "has been in constant use ever since, being borne by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate instead of the Sheriff of Charleston District (now County) as then."

"That this Sword of State was made in Charles Town (now Charleston) by a local silversmith is evidenced by the fact that it contains no hallmarks which would not be the case had it been made in England."

NOTE: During the 1941 Legislative session the Sword of State was stolen from its accustomed place on the Senate Rostrum, and up to the present time its whereabouts are still unknown.

The Senate Journal of Wednesday, March 5, 1941, carries the following: "Mr. Means, on behalf of the Charleston Museum, which is the oldest like institution in the U. S., presented to the Senate a cavalry sword made in 1800 and used in the War of 1812 and in the War of the Confederacy, to replace the Sword of State recently stolen from the Chamber."

This sword was accepted by the Senate and has been used since that time as the official sword of State.

The Mace

For Illustration See Color Section

This is the emblem of authority of the House of Representatives. It has been the custom every day, upon the opening of the session by the Clerk calling the roll, for the Sergeant-at-Arms to bear the mace ahead of the Speaker and lay it upon its specially prepared rack on the Rostrum in front of the Speaker, there to remain until recess or adjournment. Whenever the House officially attends in the Senate Chamber, and upon State occasions, the mace is always borne at the head of the procession.

The following facts concerning the mace are taken from Mr. Salley's official Bulletin No. 3 of the Historical Commission of South Carolina:

The mace was made in London in 1756, as shown by the hallmarks thereon, by Magdelen Feline, and purchased by the "Commons House of Assembly of the Province of South Carolina" for 90 guineas. The panels contain the royal arms of Great Britain, the arms of the House of Hanover, the arms of the province of South Carolina, and other insignia.

Made of solid silver, with gold burnishing, it very much resembles the mace of the Common Council of Norwich, England. So far as Mr. Salley is able to learn it is the only mace in use in the United States that antedates the Revolution. In the diary of Joseph Quincy, Jr., of Massachusetts, it is recorded that on March 19, 1773, he visited the House in Charleston and saw the mace, "a very superb and elegant one," on the table before the Speaker.

During the Revolution this mace was appropriated by British sympathizers who offered it for sale to the House of Assembly of the Bahama Islands. The records of that body show that authority was given to purchase it, but show no further action. Mr. Salley's article declares that "as a matter fact" it was not purchased and that the mace now in Nassau was made in London 43 years after the South Carolina mace was made.

Mr. Salley disproves the "silly twaddle" about the South Carolina mace's being the mace of the British House of Commons that Cromwell referred to as a "bauble."

From the time the mace disappeared from its place in the old State House in Charles Town, during the latter part of the Revolution, to 1819, its whereabouts was known to only a very few. "In 1819 when the Hon. Langdon Cheves, of South Carolina, went to Philadelphia, as president of the Bank of the United States, he found it in a vault of the bank and restored it to its rightful owners."

In a letter to Mr. Salley, the Hon. James Simons, of Charleston, deceased, states that the "mace was not used after the war until I became Speaker, when I had it brought up into the House and used for the purposes for which it was intended."

Note: Illustrations of the State Flower, the Sword of State, and the Mace were obtained from the State Department of Education's pamphlet, "South Carolina, the Palmetto State."

Primarily, office of record. Records kept of commission issued to State, District and County Officers, Governor's appointees (trustees, magistrates, constables, notaries public, etc.) Department issues such commissions and, after securing Governor's signature, mails them to the office-holders.

Beginning with 1887 this office authorized to issue charters to corporations, since then approximately 23,000 business corporations created in this manner. Foreign corporations also qualify to do business in this State by filing domestication papers. Approximately 2,500 such corporations have so qualified. Charters also issued to eleemosynary institutions, municipalities and public utilities.

This office is custodian of the Acts ratified each year by General Assembly, which constitutes a very important phase of the work. After approval by the Governor the Acts are filed here, indexed and held for the Code Commissioner. After copies are prepared for the bound volumes of the Acts they are filed for permanent keeping by this department.

Records of the State's land grants also kept in this office. There are about 400 volumes of these records (both grants and plats), dating back to year 1696. These records are often a source of help to persons tracing their family trees or seeking information concerning ancestors.

The National Guard and the State Guard are governed and their affairs administered pursuant to the law by the Governor as Commander-in-Chief, through the Adjutant General's office. The Adjutant General is a Constitutional officer and his rank that of Brigadier General.

All military records are filed and kept up-to-date. All orders and records and all reports, returns and communications prescribed by Act of Congress or by direction of the War or Navy Depts., are filed for record. A complete inventory has been made of all military property, both Federal and State.

Records of S. C. soldiers who served in the Spanish-American War, Mexican Border service, and World War, 1917-1918, are on file. An Official Roster of the South Carolina Soldiers, Sailors and Marines of World War I has been published in two volumes and distributed to agencies designated by the General Assembly. When the War Dept. furnishes to the State the official record of those South Carolinians who served in World War II, an official roster will be published and distributed in accordance with the law. Forty armories and thirteen garages have been constructed, however, thirty-six armories and sixty-three garages are needed for the new National Guard units to be organized.

National Guard Ground Force units consisting of State Headquarters and Detachment, 51st Infantry Division, Field Artillery Battalions, Engineer Combat Battalions, Anti-aircraft Artillery Groups, Coast Artillery Batteries, Ordnance Maintenance Companies, Ground Force Bands, and the 157th Fighter Squadron, Utility Flight, Service Group and Weather Station, numbering 12,170 officers and men, have been allotted to the State for organization. State Guard units will be demobilized as new National Guard units are organized.

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

THE CITADEL

The Military College of South Carolina, located at Charleston. Founded in 1842, occupied bldgs. on Marion Sq. for 80 years; moved in 1922 to a splendid new site of 76 acres on Ashley River adjacent to Hampton Park.

Four barracks afford dormitory accommodations for 2100 cadets. Other buildings are the Academic Bldg. (Bond Hall), The Cadet Chapel, Administration Bldg., Alumni Hall (Gym.) Armory, Engineering Hall, Mary Bennett Murray Hospital, president's and officers' quarters, mess hall, powerhouse, laundry, etc.

A portion of the Old Citadel at Marion Square is still occupied as faculty apartments, housing about 30 officers for whom there are no quarters at the New Citadel.

Entire value of Citadel property in Charleston, including real estate at the new site, is over $5,000,000.

The Citadel is a member of the Association of Colleges of the Southern States and on the approved list of the Assn. of American Universities. It gives courses in liberal arts, engineering and business administration leading to A.B. and B.S. degrees. The civil engineering course is accredited by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development.

The cadet corps is organized as a regiment having three battalions, of which one is made up of cadets of the Infantry unit, one of the cadets of the Coast Artillery unit and one half Infantry and half Coast Artillery. The War Department details 8 officers and 5 noncommissioned offices as instructors in military science and tactics.

Board of Visitors

(Stated meetings: During June Commencement and on the third Tuesday in October).

The Governor, Adjutant General, Supt. of Education, Chm. of Senate and House Military Committee, ex officio, 7 Citadel graduates elected by the General Assembly for 6 years and one member elected by the Alumni for 2 years.

CLEMSON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

(Located at Clemson, S. C.)

Clemson College is the outgrowth of the interest of Dr. Thomas G. Clemson in agricultural and mechanical sciences. He was a distinguished scientist, graduate Royal School of Mines in Paris, Charge D'Affaires American Legation in Belgium, Supt. of Agricultural Affairs of U. S. during President Buchanan's administration.

At close of Confederate War, Dr. Clemson took up his residence again in S. C. In his will he devoted bulk of his property to establishment of an agricultural college on his Fort Hill Plantation, which had been the home of his father-in-law, John C. Calhoun.

Clemson College was opened in July, 1893, with departments of agriculture, chemistry and engineering. Later there were added textiles, general science and vocational education. When U. S. Government began cooperation with States in establishing certain public activities, these were placed under control of Clemson College.

The services today include the divisions of Agricultural Extension, Agricultural Research, Livestock Sanitary Work, Crop Pest Commission and Bd. of Fertilizer Control (Inspection and Analysis). They bring the college in close contact with agricultural and industrial enterprises throughout the State. Federal government has always maintained a dept. of military instruction.

The college lands consist of approximately 5,812 acres. Agricultural experiment stations, in different parts of the State consist of 4,201 acres. Inventory values of lands, equipment and buildings is $7,255,933.43.

Total student enrollment: 1893-1946	24,803
Total graduates: 1893-Oct. 1, 1946	6,805
Student enrollment: first semester, 1946-47	2,965

SOUTH CAROLINA EXPERIMENT STATION

Director of Research—H. P. Cooper, Clemson College.

Main station at Clemson, with substations at Florence, Pontiac, Drainland, Charleston and Blackville. Work supported by both Federal and State governments.

Investigations now under way include spacing, fruiting, mechanization and insect control for field crops, fruits and vegetables; feeding, breeding and management of livestock; chemical studies of foods and feedstuffs; economic studies of production, consumption and marketing; food and health habits of children and adults.

THE COAST EXPERIMENT STATION

(At Drainland, near Summerville, S. C.)

Here emphasis is placed upon beef cattle, hogs, pastures, forage crops and forestry. Grazing and mineral feeding tests are conducted and various legumes and pasture grasses are studied. An experimental forest area was established here in 1912 and is yielding valuable information on the growth habits of various species of pine. The effects of draining and liming cutover lands are being investigated.

THE PEE DEE EXPERIMENT STATION

(At Florence, S. C.)

This Station deals with cotton breeding production and insect control, tobacco investigations and corn breeding. Here were worked out many of the spacing and cultural practices which have resulted in more economical cotton production. The tobacco work at this station has recently been expanded and important results are being secured.

THE SAND HILL EXPERIMENT STATION

(At Pontiac, near Columbia)

Dairying, fruits and vegetables are receiving much attention here. Soil investigations are yielding valuable data on fundamental soils problems.

THE TRUCK EXPERIMENT STATION

(At Charleston, S. C.)

Work here is confined to studies designed to determine best practices for successful truck farming. Varieties, breeding, insects, diseases, fertilizer requirements, cultural practices, harvesting and marketing methods are being investigated.

THE EDISTO EXPERIMENT STATION

(At Blackville, S. C.)

This is the most recent sub-station. It was established by Act of the General Assembly in 1936 to work primarily with watermelons, cantaloupes, cucumbers and asparagus. Various phases of sweet potato production are also being investigated. The research work done is proving of much value to the growers of these crops.

CROP PEST COMMISSION

(At Clemson, S. C.)

The work of this agency is under the direction of the South Carolina Experiment Station and includes the certification of nursery stock, sweet potato and other plants. It also undertakes to prevent the importation into South Carolina of destructive new insects and diseases, and carries on the work of all inspection in the State.

FERTILIZER INSPECTION AND ANALYSIS

The inspection and analysis of fertilizers is under the supervision of the Fertilizer Board of Control consisting of a Committee of the Board of Trustees. The Dept. of Fertilizer Inspection and Analysis is a department of the Agricultural Experiment Station. District Inspectors are located in different parts of the State. Their duties are to collect official fertilizer samples for analysis and check on the tagging and labeling of all fertilizer material.

The chemical work consists of the analysis of commercial fertilizers as provided for by the Fertilizer Law of the State. This Department also undertakes the analysis of waters, ores, minerals and other naturally occurring materials, portions of human bodies in cases of suspected poisoning (as provided for by law), and the analysis of home-mixed fertilizers. All the work of this Department is done without charge.

Secretary of Board—B. D. Cloaninger, Clemson.

Livestock Sanitary Department

408-417 Calhoun Bldg., Columbia—Telephone 6112
Maintained by Clemson College

The office was established about fifty years ago under authority granted to the Board of Trustees of Clemson Agricultural College. The work of the Department is to assist animal and poultry owners in the prevention and eradication of contagious, infectious and communicable diseases. All livestock imported into the State must pass inspection and tests before they are received in order to prevent the introduction of contagious and infectious diseases. In the prevention, control and eradication of livestock and poultry diseases, the dept. aids in the promotion of these industries in the State. A laboratory is maintained to assist in the diagnosis of animal and poultry diseases. Also cooperates with an office maintained in the State by the Bureau of Animal Industry for the purpose of assisting in the control and eradication of animal diseases.

State Veterinarian—Dr. R. A. Mays, 3425 Blossom St., Tel. 3222.

Assistant State Veterinarians—Dr. Jack Scott, Dr. E. T. Fisher, Dr. F. K. Peterson, Dr. S. M. Witherspoon, Dr. H. B. Hood, Dr. J. G. McKee, Dr. I. R. Cooper.

Assistant to Veterinarians—L. F. Gaillard.
Bookkeeper—R. K. Donly.
Clerk—J. M. Leaphart.
Steno-Bookkeeper—Mrs. Ruth B. Danielson.
Secretary—Mrs. Anne W. McCall.
Technician—Mrs. Louise T. Hodges.

JOHN DE LA HOWE SCHOOL

Established under 1918 Act, taking over property, in accordance with the will of this deceased Frenchman, Dr. John de la Howe (emigre judge and counselor for Huguenots of South Carolina, who died on this estate in January 1797), as an agricultural and mechanical school for training free of charge normal dependent boys and girls of the State.

It is the policy of the Institution to give the children the best physical care possible, as well as to give them the best mental training which they are capable of receiving; and then place them in self-supporting jobs. Most of the boys and girls who go out from de la Howe make good citizens, and are successful as wage earners.

Enrollment—220.

The John de la Howe school is located nine miles from McCormick and has a modern and well-equipped plant. There are 1,844 acres of land on the estate, 1,000 of which are in virgin forest.

The Institution has a modern and well-equipped physical plant.

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF THE STATE of South Carolina

At Charleston, Corner Lucas and Calhoun Sts.

The Medical College of S. C. was established by Act of Legislature upon the petition of the Medical Society of S. C., December, 1823. The college was opened in the Fall of 1824.

In 1827, the City of Charleston donated $15,000 for a building, in return for which medical attendance was to be furnished the charitable institutions of the city for 25 years. In 1825 the State Legislature made an appropriation of $10,000 and in 1830 one of $7,000 for the maintenance of the college.

In 1831, a disagreement arose between the faculty and the Medical Society which led to the resignation of the faculty who organized a new college. "The Medical College of the State of South Carolina," which was incorporated in 1832. The two colleges existed until 1838, when those conducting the Medical College of S. C. ceased to operate and the old organization took over the original buildings.

The college was suspended for four years during the War Between the States, but reopened in 1865, operating continuously since.

In 1913 it became a State college operated and controlled by the State. $76,000 was raised, chiefly by popular subscription of the citizens of Charleston for the erection of a building in 1913 upon a site donated by the City Council of Charleston.

In 1881 a Dept. of Pharmacy was created by Act of Legislature; operated for two years and temporarily discontinued until 1894, then reopened under the old charter.

The School of Nursing was created in 1919.

In Jan. 1920, the General Assembly appropriated a fund of $55,000 for the erection of a building for physiology and pharmacology.

In Sept. 1930, a two-story bldg. was erected, the lower floor to be used for the library and the upper floor for the dept. of pathology.

In 1938 the General Assembly authorized a bond issue of $150,000 which was augmented by a grant of $115,095 from the Federal Govt. and by a fund of approximately $22,000 from the Alumni Assocn., making possible new bldgs to provide for additional space for clinics and laboratories.

In 1939 Bernard M. Baruch gave $125,000 in memory of his father, Dr. Simon Baruch, which along with an additional sum of $21,000 from the Medical College Alumni, was used for constructing the auditorium, the wing between the library, and for extensive remodeling and equipping of old buildings.

The College is a member of The Association of American Medical Colleges. It is on the approved list of The Council on Education of the American Medical Association.

Value of lands, $116,000.00; buildings and equipment, $730,000.00; total $846,000.00.

THE STATE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON ADULT EDUCATION

The State Arvisory Committee on Adult Education is an outgrowth of the Illiteracy Com., appointed in 1918 by Gov. Richard I. Manning at the request of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. The members of this group have worked without traveling expenses or any remuneration whatsoever.

The duty of the committee is to cooperate with the division of Adult Education in setting up a program of general adult education for the specific purpose of making plans for the tremendous educational task which will confront the State in the postwar period.

The need for the work of this committee is revealed in the following facts compiled from the last census report:

	S. C.	U. S.
No. school years completed	7.9%	3.7%
Less than 5 years completed	34.7%	13.5%
High school graduates	8.7%	14.1%
Median school year attained	6.7%	8.4%

During the two decades in which this committee has focused its attention on the elimination of illiteracy, the percentage of illiteracy in the State has been reduced from 18.1% in 1920 to 7.9% in 1940.

SOUTH CAROLINA EMPLOYMENT SECURITY COMMISSION

Office, 1003 Main St.—Tel. 2-3366

Duties of the Commission—Administration of the S. C. Unemployment Compensation law which provides for the collection of contributions from subject employers and the payment of unemployment benefits to their workers when out of jobs through no fault of their own, or when only partially employed.

Administrative Expenses—Administrative costs of the department are paid from grants from the Federal Social Security Board, to the State of South Carolina, upon budgets submitted by the Commission.

Coverage—Generally, all employers in the State engaged in business or industry who have eight or more workers within as many as 20 different weeks of the calendar year are covered by the Law, and their workers may become eligible for benefits when unemployed.

Contributions—Employers subject to the Act pay contributions at rates ranging from .9% to 3.6%, depending on how well they have stabilized their employment.

Job Insurance—Weekly benefit amounts for total unemployment range from $4 to $20, as determined by a benefits table in Section 3 (b) of the Act. No individual may receive more than 16 times his weekly benefit amount during his benefit year. Benefits are also paid for partial unemployment. The Act prescribes that all benefits shall be paid through free public employment offices.

Unemployment Compensation Fund—Contributions collected by the Commission are placed with the State Treasurer. He, in turn, deposits the collections with the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the Unemployment Trust Fund. These funds draw interest while thus deposited.

Servicemen's Readjustment Allowances—In addition to its regular function of administering the State Unemployment Compensation law, the Commission is charged with the duty of paying Readjustment Allowances to South Carolina veterans of World War II, as provided by Title V. of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act. (G. I. Bill of Rights), passed by Congress in 1944. Allowances are paid unemployed veterans at a maximum rate of $20 per week for not more than 52 weeks. Veterans self-employed for profit, whose net earnings are less than $100 per month, are paid the difference between $100 and thir net earnings for such month. Maximum allowances payable to either are $1,040, deductible from any bonus that hereafter may be paid.

Commission

FORESTRY COMMISSION, S. C. STATE

Established 1927—includes 5 non-salaried members.

Item 1. Cooperative forest fire control provided on over 11,600,000 acres of forest land. Maintains 127 lookout towers and over 2,300 miles of telephone line for fire detection and reporting. Over 3,000 miles of firebreaks constructed and maintained annually in cooperation with landowners in 20 counties.

Item 2. Responsible for the acquisition, development, operation and maintenance of the State Park System composed of 18 State Parks totalling approx. 38,000.00 acres. Total valuation of land and improvements is approximately $4,500,000. During the year nearly one-half million people made use of the recreational and educational facilities offered by the State Parks.

Item 3. Operates forest tree seedling nursery with an annual capacity of 20,000,000 seedlings. Distribution of seedlings made to landowners at approximate cost. Approximately 85% of the seedlings distributed received and planted by the farmers of S. C.

Item 4. Operates and maintains five State Forests comprising approximately 124,000 acres of land. Two were purchased by the Federal Government but are operated by the Commission under a 95-year lease. The State Forests are operated for the production of timber, game management and recreation, and serve as demonstration areas in application of sound forestry practices.

Item 5. Renders advice and direct assistance to private landowners in the proper management and utilization of forest lands. Under authority granted by the General Assembly, marks and tallies forest trees for cutting at a nominal cost to landowners. Conducts forest management demonstrations and cooperates with the U. S. Forest Service and the Soil Conservation Service on forestry practices.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, STATE

Created by Act of the Legislature in 1929, and charged with the duty of creating public libraries over the State and, acting through its Board of Directors, to be known as the State Library Board, of devising and carrying into effect methods by which public libraries may be extended to the rural districts of the State.

In Nov. 1942, the Board was reorganized and in March, 1943 an office was organized with a $1,000 grant from the Budget Commission and a $2,000 appropriation. For each of the next two years, 1943-44 and 1944-45, the Board received an appropriation of $15,000. For 1945-46 it was increased to $20,000 and for 1946-47 to $25,000. These appropriations are expended for State aid to county libraries, for books for loan to individuals and communities without library service and to render informational and advisory services to existing libraries and in the establishment of libraries. Through these services, the State Library Board aims to reach the goal of a network of libraries over the State making library service easily accessible to every citizen.

MEMORIAL COMMISSION, S. C.

Established by Act of 1919 to provide two memorial buildings for men and women of S. C., who "offered their lives as the supreme sacrifice in the winning of the World War I." $100,000.00 was appropriated by the legislature for each building, one a memorial to white people; the other to the Negroes, amounts appropriated to be paid when, in the judgment of each of the Memorial Commissions, a sufficient amount was raised by donations.

All donations received by the treasurer of the fund for the buildings for whites were invested in State and Highway bonds, which compounded until they reached about $90,000 to which the P. W. A. added a donation of $33,200.00. With these funds the Commission constructed during 1935 a building costing slightly over $100,000.00 and has not asked for the legislative appropriation. This building stands at the southeast corner of Sumter and Pendleton Streets, Columbia, on State property, and is occupied by the Historical Commission of S. C.

SOUTH CAROLINA PUBLIC SERVICE AUTHORITY

Principal Office, Monck's Corner, S. C. with branch offices at 1246 Main St., Columbia and Conway, S. C.

Created by Act of Legislature 1934 (Act 887) to construct and operate Santee-Cooper hydro-electric, navigation, flood control and health betterment project. The Santee-Cooper reservoirs and lock are vital parts of the waterway from Columbia and Camden to Charleston. Installed capacity of generating machinery is sufficient to produce 700,000,000 kw hrs. of firm and secondary power annually.

When project is finally completed including transmission lines the total cost will be approximately $60,000,000 which was financed entirely by loan and grant from the United States without the State having any money invested. Total bonded indebtedness now drawing 2½% rate of interest outstanding Jan. 1, 1947 is approximately $26,000,000 which will be paid from revenues entirely without any tax being levied for that purpose. In addition to the large generating station near Monck's Corner the Authority operates the electrical distribution facilities in Conway, Myrtle Beach and Loris, certain rural lines in Horry County, and the distribution facilities in the towns of Pinopolis, Monck's Corner and St. Stephen in Berkeley County.

ELECTRICAL UTILITIES DIVISION

329 Hampton Office Bldg.—Tel. 2-5616

Prepares information for use by the Commission in connection with its regulation of privately-owned electric utility companies operating in South Carolina, promotes the adoption of more satisfactory rate schedules by these companies, investigates service complaints, and has secured rate reductions amounting to $5,138,130 annually, and a total saving to electric consumers of $45,687,294 thru Dec. 31, 1946.

One of the major activities has been the promotion of rural electrification. including surveys and investigations of potential electric distribution lines to the farms of the State and requests to the privately owned and publicly owned power utilities to construct and operate rural electric distribution lines. Under this stimulus these agencies during the 14 years ending June 30, 1946, have built 20,596 miles of rural lines, to which are connected 105,131 customers, compared with a total of 394 miles and less than 2,000 customers prior to the organization of this Division.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE

Office, 2nd Floor, Hampton Office Bldg.—Tel. 2-1911

The Department of Public Welfare was created by Act No. 319, Acts of 1937, to enable the State to join with the Federal Social Security Board in extending financial assistance to the needy aged, the needy blind, and dependent children, and to cooperate with the Federal Government in various other activities of mutual concern. The Dept. also cooperates with the various counties of the State in extending general relief to unfortunate persons in need who are not eligible for other forms of assistance provided in the Act, and performs miscellaneous welfare services, including distribution of surplus commodities, investigation of dependency claims of selective service men, etc.

The Dept. operates under the S. C. Bd. of Public Welfare, composed of one member from each congressional dist. and a Chm. from the State at large. County Boards of Public Welfare are appointed by the State Board or the State Director, upon the recommendation of a majority of the county legislative delegation, including the Senator.

The State Dept. is administered by a State Director, appointed by the State Board, and county directors are selected by the respective county boards. All employees except the State Director and his confidential Secretary are selected under a merit system required by the Social Security Act of Congress.

COUNTIES IN S. C., FORMATION OF

(The following information was compiled by A. S. Salley, Jr., Secretary of the State Historical Commission.)

By an Act ratified in 1769 the province of South Carolina was divided into seven judicial districts: Charlestown, Georgetown, Beaufort, Orangeburgh, Ninety Six, Camden and Cheraws. The first six of these were given the names of the principal towns within their borders and those towns were made the seats of their respective districts. Cheraws District derived its name from the fact that the Cheraw Indians had formerly occupied a considerable portion of the land within its borders and, after they had gone elsewhere and white settlers moved in, the section was, at first called "the Cheraws' lands" soon simplified into "the Cheraws."

In 1795 Pinckney and Washington Districts were established. Pinckney embraced the present counties of Union and York and a part of Cherokee. Washington embraced the present counties of Greenville, Pickens, Oconee and Anderson.

In 1798 the nine districts then existing were divided up into twenty-four. From Ninety Six Districts, Abbeville, Edgefield, Newberry, Laurens and Spartanburg Districts were formed; from Washington District, Pendleton and Greenville Districts were formed; from Pinckney District, Union and York Districts were formed; from Camden District, Chester, Lancaster, Fairfield, Kershaw and Sumter Districts were formed; from Cheraws District, Chesterfield, Darlington and Marlborough Districts were formed; and Ninety Six, Washington, Pinckney, Camden and Cheraws were discarded as district names; Georgetown District was divided into Georgetown and Marion Districts; Charlestown into Charleston and Colleton; and Orangeburgh into Orangeburgh and Barnwell.

In 1799 Richland District was formed from Kershaw.

In 1802 Horry and Williamsburg Districts were formed from parts of Georgetown.

In 1804 Lexington was formed from Orangeburgh.

In 1826 Pendleton District was divided into Pickens and Anderson Districts and the name Pendleton discarded as a district name.

In 1855 Clarendon District was formed from a part of Sumter.

The Constitution of 1868 changed the entitlement of the thirty subdivisions from district to county and established a new county from a part of Pickens and named it Oconee.

In 1871 Aiken County was established from parts of Orangeburg, Barnwell, Edgefield and Lexington Counties.

In 1878 Hampton County was established from a part of Beaufort.

In 1882 Berkley County was established from a part of Charleston County.

In 1888 Florence County was created from parts of Marion, Darlington, Williamsburg and Clarendon Counties.

The Constitutional Convention of 1895 established Saluda County from Edgefield.

In 1897 Bamberg from Barnwell; Cherokee from Spartanburg, Union and York; Dorchester from Berkeley and Colleton; Greenwood from Abbeville and Edgefield.

In 1902 Lee from Darlington, Kershaw and Sumter; 1908 Calhoun from Orangeburg and Lexington; 1910 Dillon from Marion; 1912 Jasper from Beaufort and Hampton; 1916 McCormick from Abbeville and Greenwood; and in 1919 Allendale from Barnwell and Hampton.

There are 46 counties in South Carolina, with areas varying from 373 square miles in Cherokee to 1,238 in Berkeley. The density of population per square mile is greatest in Greenville County, with 153.7 and least in Jasper, with 16.7 (see page 12 for Constitutional limitations as to area, population, etc., in the formation of new counties).

The estimated true wealth of the State in 1937 was reported as $2,236,000.00.

DIVISION OF WILDLIFE REFUGES

Cape Romain National Wildlife Refuge

McClellanville

Cape Romain National Wildlife Refuge consists of 61,000 acres of brackish, salt, and fresh marshes, as well as barrier beaches and a timbered coastal island. The refuge is 40 miles north of the City of Charleston, and 20 miles south of the City of Georgetown.

How to Reach—Bus from Charleston or from Georgetown. By auto 40 miles north of Charleston on U. S. Highway 17; 20 miles south of Georgetown, on U. S. Highway 17.

Accommodations—Tourist homes at McClellanville, and Government-owned accommodations on Bull's Island Unit.

Interesting Features—Impounded waterfowl marsh areas. Concentration area for all shallow water ducks and diving ducks which frequent this section of the coast. Clapper rails, gallinules, and coots aboundant. Most species of shorebirds present the year 'round, but the refuge is point of high concentration for shorebirds during spring and fall migrations.

Refuge Manager—Andrew H. Dupre, McClellanville.

Carolina Sandhills National Wildlife Refuge

(4 miles northeast of McBee, on U. S. Highway No. 1)

Description and Purpose—The Carolina Sandhills National Wildlife Refuge is an upland area of 45,000 acres being administered as a demonstration and experimental area for the management of native wildlife, particularly bob white quail, wild turkey, white-tailed deer and mourning dove. Other wildlife species present include: squirrel, rabbit, beaver, raccoon, and opossum.

Refuge Manager—Ernest F. Holland, Box 30, McBee.

The Santee National Wildlife Refuge

The Santee National Wildlife Refuge was established under a cooperative agreement with the S. C. Public Authority and comprises approximately 90,000 acres within the Santee and Pinopolis Reservoirs of the Santee-Cooper project. Under the terms of the agreement, the 90,000 acre refuge is administered by the Fish and Wildlife Service for the protection of waterfowl and fish. Approximately 3,000 acres within the refuge area have been placed under secondary dikes which will tend to stabilize the water levels in part of the reservoir in the interests of waterfowl and fish.

Refuge Manager—John H. Sutherlin, Manning.

Savannah National Wildlife Refuge

(Headquarters, U. S. Highway 17, 10 miles southwest of Hardeeville)

Jasper County, S. C., 13,000 acres approximately; Chatham Co., Ga., 6,000 acres approx.

This wildlife refuge was established primarily as a sanctuary for Wood Ducks and a wintering ground for other waterfowl. In addition the refuge provides protection for deer, wild turkey, otter, raccoon, opossum, quail and dove. As many as 100,000 waterfowl have used the refuge at one time. The refuge consists essentially of abandoned rice fields. Developmental work on the areas has been that of restoring old rice field banks. About 2, 000 acres of land have been surrounded with new banks so that the water levels can be controlled.

Refuge Manager—Edgar S. Jaycocks.

Mailing Address—The Refuge Manager, Savannah National Wildlife Refuge, R.F.D. 1, Pt. Wentworth, Savannah, Georgia.

Division of Wildlife Refuges

Refuge Management Biologist—William P. Baldwin, P. O. Box 40, McClellanville.

The Refuge Management Biologist assists and advises refuge managers of the South Atlantic coastal refuges on the preparation and execution of biological management plans, including control of pest vegetation in impoundments, introduction of the better food producing aquatics under adverse conditions, and controlled burning of both marsh and upland areas.

Division of Game Management
U. S. Game Management Agent

Headquarters, Estill

Description and Purpose of Project—The Game Management Agent represents the Division of Game Management, Fish and Wildlife Service, in the State of S. C. which enforces the provisions of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, the Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp Act, the Lacey Act, and the Federal Black Bass Law.

Game Management Agent—J. Herman Zeigler, Estill.

Division of Wildlife Research

Description and Purpose of Project—Primary work is concerned with the study of the migrations of North American waterfowl and other migratory birds. This assignment requires the annual travel into the Canadian provinces and the Arctic in order to check the status of waterfowl on the nesting grounds so as to provide information on the annual adjustment of waterfowl hunting regulations.

Flyway Biologist—Harold S. Peters, 54 Folly Road, Charleston.

Division of Game—Fish and Hatcheries

Cheraw Hatchery

The Cheraw Hatchery is located within the Cheraw State Park, Cheraw, S. C., and comprises a total water area of about 12 acres consisting of twenty rearing pools. The station is under the immediate supervision of the Hoffman, N. C. main station. Large-mouthed black bass, blue gill bream, and crappie are propagated for distribution at this station.

Foreman in Charge—Russell B. Richard, Hoffman, N. C.

Orangeburg Hatchery

The Orangeburg hatchery is located about 2 miles southeast of Orangeburg. The reservation covers 56 acres of which approximately 16 acres are in brood ponds. Two large reservoirs of about 4 acres and 6 acres each supply the 15 brood ponds and the canning racks with water.

At the Orangeburg station, the following species are propagated: L. M. Black Bass, Bluegill Bream, Red-breasted Sunfish, Warmouth Bass, Crappie and Catfish. The distribution area embraces all of S. C. In addition to the Orangeburg hatchery, a sub-station known as the Orangeburg Co. hatchery comprising 20 ponds, is operated for the production of bream and other sunfish.

The personnel of the Station numbers four regular employees.

Superintendent—Harry C. Minch.

Walhalla Hatchery

The Walhalla Hatchery is located at the confluence of the East Fork of the Chattooga River and the Indian Camp Creek in Oconee County, 23 miles north of Walhalla, S. C. The Walhalla Trout Hatchery was started in 1935 and completed in 1938.

The Walhalla Hatchery propagates and distributes Rainbow, Brook (speckled) and Loch Leven (brown) trout, for the vast mountain areas of South Carolina, Georgia and portions of N. C. The mountains of these three states contain a great number of trout streams.

Trout hatching, rearing and distribution of same is a year-round activity and visitors are welcome at all times. In connection with the hatchery, a picnic area with ample room, plenty of tables, fireplaces, drinking fountains of spring water, rest rooms, shelter house and parking space, is open to the public.

The hatchery is comprised of a hatching building with 72 hatching troughs, office feed room and electric power unit. A battery of 40 rearing pools of the circular type is used to rear a large number of large size fingerling trout for distribution. The personnel of the Walhalla Hatchery consists of four employees and an attendant is on hand at all times.

Superintendent—Jas. W. McPhail.

U. S. FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE

Division of Fisheries Biology

Experimental Oyster Farming in South Carolina

Four experimental oyster farms are operated in Beaufort County to study methods of improving oyster culture in S. C. and Ga. Approximately twenty-five acres are under cultivation on reservations provided through the cooperation of the Board of Fisheries of S. C.

Emphasis is placed on solving oyster culture problems in a practical way for the benefit of the industry. Data are collected on water conditions (temperature, salinity, turbidity and pH); rate of growth in various localities; time and extent of spawning and setting; effect of transplantation and culling of seed; suitability of various types of bottom for collection of seed, growth to maturity or fattening for market. Due to manpower shortages, shell planting, and some other phases of the field work, have been discontinued temporarily.

Aquatic Biologist in Charge—Robert O. Smith, Beaufort.

Division of Predatory Animal and Rodent Control

N. C. State College, Raleigh, N. C.

District Agent—Laurence C. Whitehead.

Description and purposes—The Division, Predator and Rodent Control, cooperates with State, County and City Governments and other groups in the application of scientific methods to control or suppress destructive rodents and predatory wild animals.

SELECTIVE SERVICE SYSTEM

The urgent necessity for increasing and training the personnel of the armed forces of the United States required the enactment by Congress of the "Selective Training and Service Act of 1940," approved Sept. 16, 1940. The purpose of Selective Service is to make the military manpower available for training and service in the land and naval forces of the United States through orderly, just and democratic processes, consistent with a free society and a minimum of interference with the social and economic life of the nation.

The Governor of S. C. has charge of the administration of the Selective Service Law in this State, and is authorized to nominate for appointment a State Director of Selective Service, who shall have administrative control of an office through which Selective Service duties are performed within the State, known as "State Headquarters for Selective Service," and a State Procurement Officer, who shall procure and account for supplies and equipment and approve vouchers for all purposes. Any necessary expense for operation of State Headquarters, and supplies, equipment, and office assistants of the various subsidiary units, are paid for by the Federal Government.

In constructing the required state-wide organization, the Governor selected representative civilians of the respective local communities for appointment as members of the 83 Local Boards to classify registrants, Examining Physicians to make physical examinations, Government Appeal Agents to protect the interests of the Government and the registrant, 46 Advisory Boards for Registrants to aid registrants in preparing questionnaires, filing appeals, etc., 12 Medical Advisory Boards, composed of specialists, to aid in determining doubtful cases of physical condition, and 3 Boards of Appeal, whose members represent all activities of the respective district, to review appeals from decisions of classification of local Boards, to establish a Personnel Div. of Re-employment Committeemen to render aid to returning veterans in replacement in their former positions or securing positions.

The total registration for the State now amounts to 578,030.

Areas—19,576,800 acres or 30,495 square miles, of which 494 sq. mi. are water.

The Name Carolina—Derived from the Latin word "Carolus," and was first given in 1629 in honor of Charles I, of England, in a grant by that monarch to Sir Robert Heath as "Carolana"; chartered again in 1663 by Charles II to eight noblemen as "Carolina."

Admitted to Statehood—May 23, 1788, being the 8th State to come into the Union.

Nickname—The Palmetto State. Also referred to as The Wonderful Iodine State, on account of the large quantity of goiter-curing and goiter-preventing iodine in its fruits, vegetables and milk.

Mottoes—(See State Seal, p. 182 and Color Section). "Animis opibusque Parati" (Prepared in Spirit and Wealth, or Ready With Minds and Resources) and "Dum Spiro, Spero" (While I Breathe, I Hope.)

State Bird—The Mockingbird. (See p. 184 and Color Section).

State Flag—A navy blue field having in the center a white palmetto tree that occupies approximately one-sixth of the area. In the upper left-hand corner a white crescent, its points facing the staff and upward. First adopted in 1776. Made National flag in 1861. (See p. 184 and Color Section).

State Flower—The Yellow Jessamine. (See p. 185 and Color Section).

State Song—Timrod's "Carolina." (See p. 185).

State Tree—The Palmetto Tree. (See p. 186 and Color Section).

A GENERAL PICTURE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

(The Manual is indebted to the Research, Planning and Development Board for the following article and for many of the accompanying illustrations.)

A general picture of South Carolina industry in 1946 shows several very encouraging facts, not the least of them being that the income from the State's industries far exceeds that from agriculture. A new industrial development represents an investment of more than $73,000,000—this, despite the fact that 75 per cent of the people spend their time producing 35 different crops.

The State is at last approaching a well-balanced agrarian-industrial society, the happy goal dreamed of and despaired of and fought for by so many of South Carolina's early statesmen.

The people themselves are accomplishing this feat. They are becoming increasingly aware of the State's latent industrial possibilities, and are taking advantage of them. World War II gave a tremendous impetus to the existing manufactures and encouraged the founding of others.

An important factor in South Carolina's present industrial boom is the Research, Planning and Development Board, created by the Legislature in the spring of 1945 to coordinate and streamline nine separate State agencies.

The Board's major policies are (1) to cooperate with the present industries, (2) to stimulate incentive and enthusiasm within the State, and (3) to attract outside businesses. Its primary, long-range purpose is to keep South Carolinians and South Carolina capital in the State.

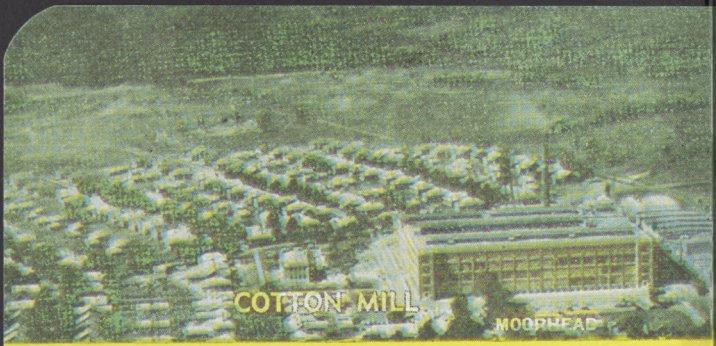
JULIEN

The tourists—an estimated $10,000,000,000 business in America this year—are becoming more and more aware of South Carolina's historical and recreational attractions. The three airlines and the three major railroads serving the State have already begun to publicize the attractions of South Carolina and expect to bring thousands into the State to play or rest.

During 1945 and the first half of this year, about 150 industries listed plans for new plants or the expansion of established ones. The figure of $73,000,000 involved does not include all the new construction programs as some of the firms have not yet announced the sums to be spent.

Among the larger new industries are a corporation manufacturing synthetic yarns which is planning to build a plant for about $40,000,000 and a cement company which is planning a factory to cost approximately $1,500,000.



In line with the same program, a paper company will spend $6,000,000 on improvements, one of the larger textile mills has set aside $1,500,000 for its expansion program, and a glass-manufacturing concern has earmarked $600,000 for expansion. Preliminary figures indicate a total expansion program by existing manufacturers of $100,000,000 in the next two years.

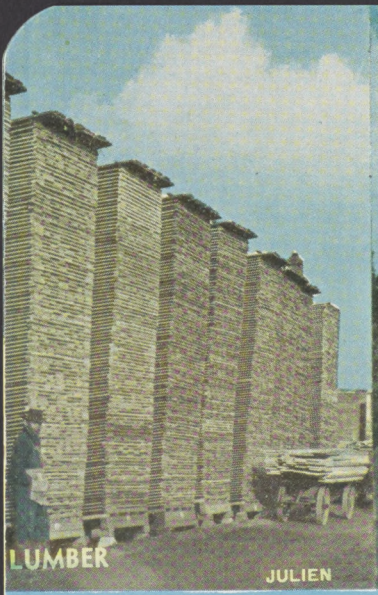
The great textile region centering around Greenville, Greenwood, Spartanburg and Anderson is healthier than ever. In 1943, when the State's value of manufactured products passed the billion-dollar mark for the first time, more than 230 textile plants turned out some $800,000,000 worth of products.

THRASHING TIME

As regards population, the State is still primarily agricultural with its 147,000 farms and a ratio between agricultural revenue and industrial employment of approximately 2 to 1. However, the total value of the finished product in industry is over four times that of the farm crops. It is interesting to note that this cotton crop—more than 660,000 bales valued at $73,000,000 last year, plus $12,000,000 worth of by-products—amounts to less than one-tenth of the total value of product of manufacturers.

On the other hand, tobacco production, which is competing lustily and successfully as South Carolina's second crop realized more than $62,000,000 in 1945, and the estimated value of the present crop is $80,000,000. Most of this crop, produced by an estimated 20,000 persons, goes out of the State, although one South Carolina plant produces 1,400,000 cigars a day.

TURKISH TOBACCO



Turkish tobacco is making a bid to become an important crop in the Piedmont.

South Carolina's peach production for the fresh market this year placed the State second only to California and above Georgia in supplying the nation's peaches. Over 9,000 carloads of the $15,000,000 crop were shipped to 83 cities throughout the nation and Canada. Canneries in the State processed a part of the crop for future consumption.

Turkey raising which was inconsequential only a few years ago was a $2,700,000 product last year when 460,000 turkeys were raised.

At present, furniture and other wood-working plants are producing an annual income of about $50,000,000 a year, from sawmills, lumber veneers, plywoods, breakfast and bedroom pieces, sewing machine cabinets, and so forth.

South Carolina, with about a twentieth of the nation's total growth of timber, has excellent possibilities for a larger wood industry. Timber offers the foundation for an estimated $35,000,000 furniture industry, plus increased usage of hardwoods as plywoods and veneers for residential and commercial construction.

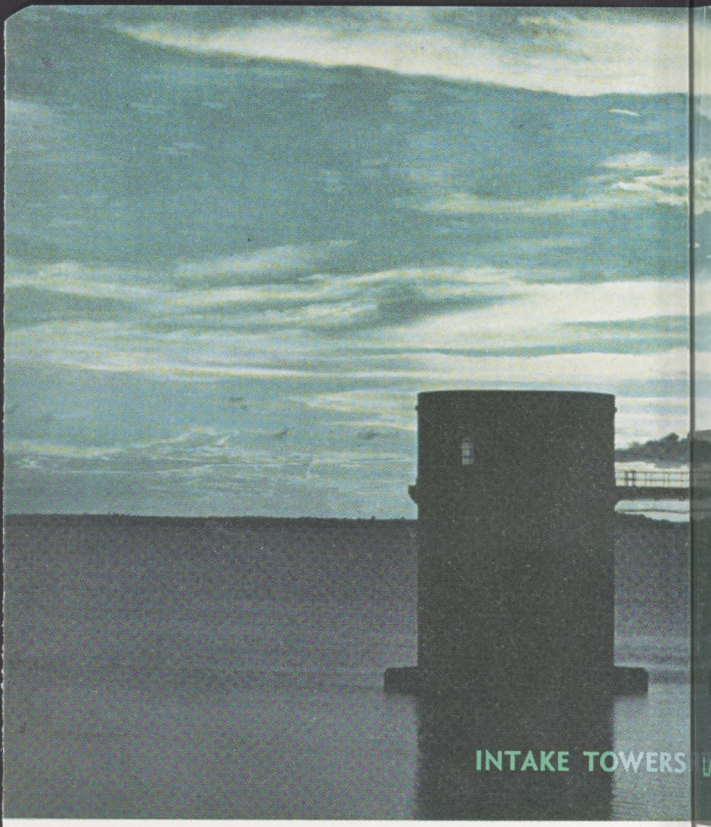
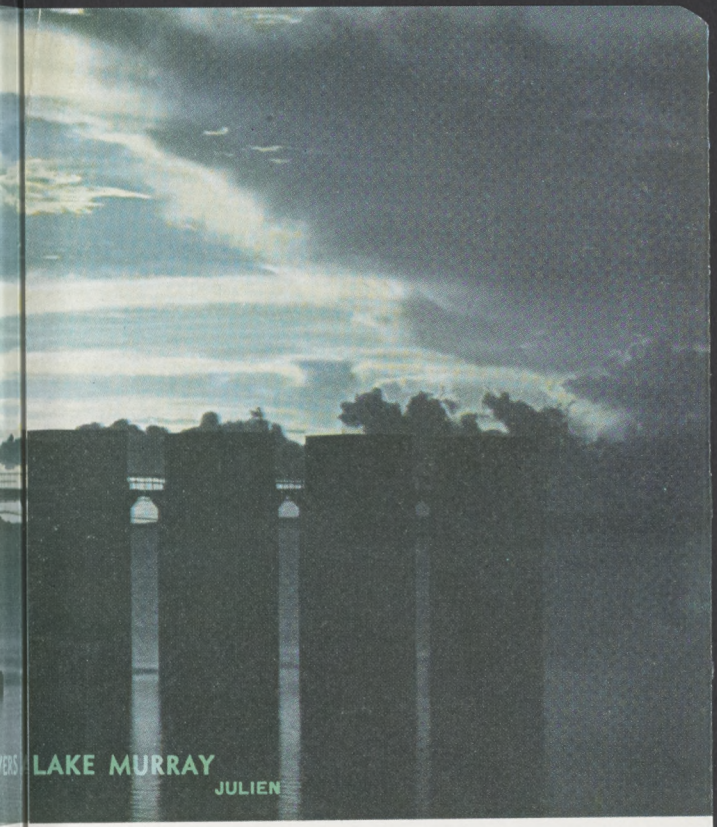
Figures on the pulp and paper industry show the same marked increase in recent years. The annual value of product for the industry is more than $33,000,000. What is reported to be the largest paper machine in the country is in operation in the State, at a plant producing paper containers, kraft papers and corrugated boxes. There are outstanding paper plants at Georgetown, Charleston, Hartsville and Darlington.

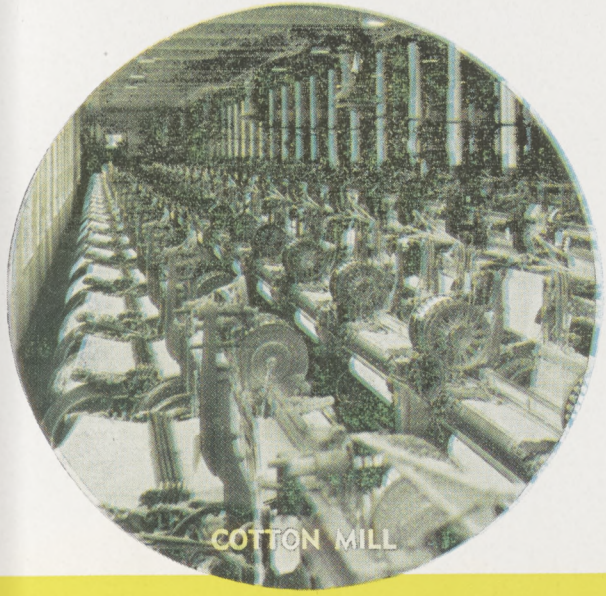
In the chemical field, South Carolina contains one of the first metallurgical plants manufacturing ferro alloys to be established in the South Atlantic coastal area. Other chemical plants include the Southeast's largest asphalt plant and a plant making alumina from kaolin. Fertilizers are made at Blacksburg, Charleston and Spartanburg and elsewhere.



The development of South Carolina's water power, a potential giant, has increased with the immigration of heavy industry. The State advertises "abundant electric power," and 2,000,000,000 kilowatt hours are available. Hydro-electric plants supply the State with over 80 per cent of its electrical power.



The State's important deposits of granite and kaolin are being mined, but not as extensively as they should. Almost 1,200,000 tons of stone and 120,000 tons of kaolin were mined in the State during 1944. The larger granite concerns are located at Columbia, Cayce and Blairs and the kaolin industry is centered in Aiken County.

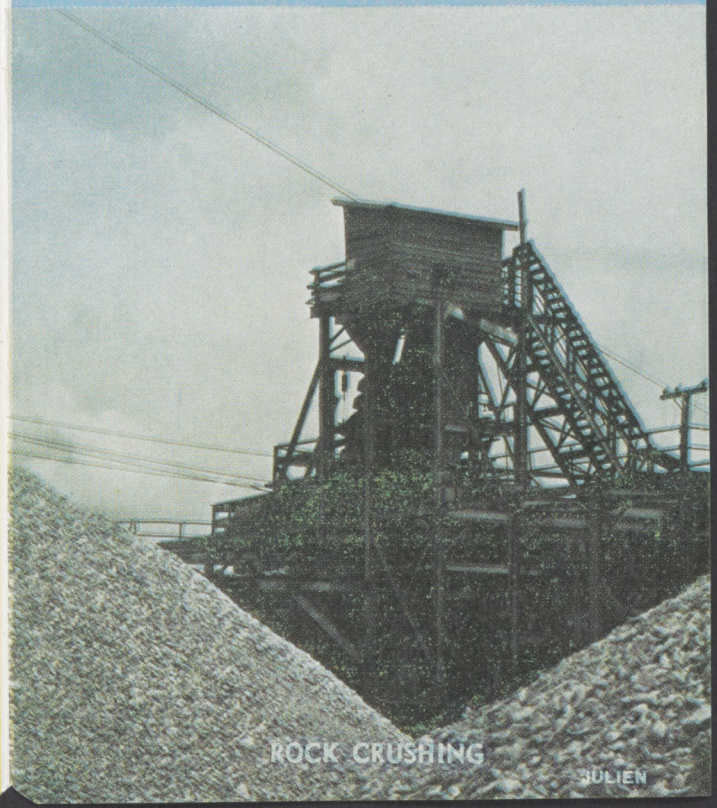


COTTON MILL

In the State is located one of America's largest producers of diapers. Mills of the State have 16,969 cards, 5,984,413 spindles and 144,770 looms in place. The State consistently leads the nation in spindle hours during 1944 the 30,600,000,000 spindle hours in South Carolina was almost double the amount for the entire New England States.

South Carolina has benefited, as has every other Southern state, in the large scale decentralization of the big industry plan. Her skilled labor pool and natural resources, adequate transportation systems, and mild climate are big drawing cards for the establishment of many types of industry.

However, the most important fact about South Carolina's status is that the people of the State are becoming increasingly aware of the State's industrial potentialities and their development. The State is on its way—with the future brighter than at any time since the British outlasted the Indians, whether from the angle of industry, tourist volume, leadership or progress.



ROCK CRUSHING

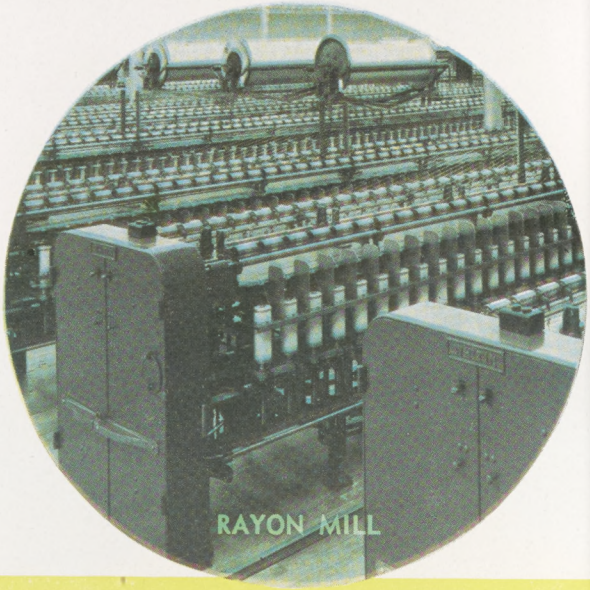
Glass and other ceramic products total more than $8,500,000 a year. In the State there is a large plant turning out bottles and other glass containers. Other ceramic plants are located in Society Hill, North Augusta, Columbia and elsewhere.

LIMESTONE PLANT



RAYON MILL

The booming textile industry, cited as the leading industry with $826,000,000 in value of products of a total of $1,106,000,000 as of 1945, exclusive of ship construction, employs over 121,000, or almost three-quarters of the State's 164,000 industrial workers in 230 of its 1,500 manufacturing plants. Products include wearing apparel, upholstery fabrics, window-shade cloth, bags, asbestos cloth, tire cord, duck and canvas. Clothing and other finished textile products are manufactured in approximately 100 sewing plants located in every section of the State.

SALUDA RIVER

NATIONAL FORESTS

FAMED HORRY STRAND—With a highly indented coast line 200 mi. long, South Carolina has a wealth of fine strands—at Myrtle Beach 35 mi. long, Isle of Palms, 10 mi. long, Pawley's Island, Edisto and elsewhere—accessible by highway from Miami to Maine. Bathing safe and good, fishing excellent.

WILD LIFE—South Carolina abounds in quail, wild turkey, deer and other small game. We are one of the very few States that have not been compelled to erect hatcheries for restocking our lands with game. So much of the State consists of timbered lands and swamps, affording good cover to game and abounding in natural game foods, that, so far, our national supply of game has been adequate.

According to the leading Naturalists of the Nation the South Carolina wild turkey is the purest strain now left in North America. As a matter of fact, our game is one of our greatest financial assets. The wealthiest men in America, such as Bernard M. Baruch, Thomas A. Yawkey and the DuPonts have purchased hunting preserves in this State, along with hundreds of other wealthy men who are able to buy property anywhere they desire in the world.

The fishing in South Carolina is excellent. All of our low-country clear water streams abound in all kinds of game fish, and the large power reservoirs at Buzzard Roost, Lake Murray and especially at Santee-Cooper, afford excellent fishing. The Santee-Cooper will not only furnish some of the best fishing in the Nation but will also furnish wonderful waterfowl hunting.
