AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The General Assembly established the State Ethics Commission's mandate to restore public trust in governmental institutions and the political and governmental processes. The State Ethics Commission's mission is established by the statutory provisions of the Ethics Reform Act of 1991, Sections 2-17-5, et. seq., and 8-13-100, et. seq., Code of Laws for South Carolina, 1976, as amended. The State Ethics Commission has one program, Administration. This program encompasses four distinct areas of responsibility of the Ethics, Government Accountability and Campaign Reform Act of 1991: lobbying registration and disclosure; ethical rules of conduct; financial disclosure; and campaign practices and disclosure. Three of the four areas are driven by disclosure and now that all disclosure is done electronically, the Ethics Act needs to reflect that change throughout the Act.

Enforcement of the very complex Ethics Reform Act is one of the major challenges before the State Ethics Commission. Citizens' and state agencies' concern with public corruption and violations of the state's ethics laws have caused increased investigative and non-compliance caseloads. The Commission's mandate requires close analysis of critical issues of which the outcomes have significant impacts on the lives of the affected individuals, to include criminal prosecution. As the number of complaints and forms filed has increased each year, the need for additional staff increases.

This mandate coupled with personnel and equipment needs, and limited funds, are major barriers to the fulfillment of the agency's mission and goals. The Commission must ensure that the latest technological advances are taken into account to balance the technology versus personnel scale. The security of technology and personnel are major concerns. The Commission collects large quantities of data that must be securely maintained. Commissioners and staff deal with issues with the potential to engage individuals, so personnel security must be a goal and can dovetail with computer security to certain extent.

A highlight of 2014 is having a full Commission. The Commission's nine appointed members began meeting in April for training and conducted their first meeting in May. Seven members are attorneys and two members are retired law enforcement officers.
