THE SOUTH CAROLINA CONSERVATION BANK

The South Carolina Conservation Bank was created by the General Assembly and signed into law by the Governor under Act. 200 in April 2002. It did not officially begin operations until January 1, 2003. The Act deferred all State funding until July 2004. It is currently operating administratively with one employee-utilizing private sector dedicated funds. It is a new agency and will begin operating on state funds in September, 2004. Additionally, there are no prior years to provide comparative data or are there any appropriate benchmarks available at this time. When the Bank receives funding and begins administering its grant program these issues will be more fully addressed.

SECTION 1-EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

3. OPPORTUNITIES AND BARRIERS

Opportunities:

1. Because the Conservation Bank is a new agency and because many other states already have similar agencies the Conservation Bank has had the opportunity to study other states efforts and utilize their successes and failures.

2. The opportunity to partner with other government and private entities having similar goals and objectives.

3. Many large landowners are currently placing large tracts of land on the open market. The window of opportunity to conserve large tracts of land in SC is available now.

Barriers:

1. The fact that the Conservation Bank previously had no state funding and the oscillating economy may present continuing problems.

2. The window of opportunity to conserve large tracts of land that currently exists may be short lived.

3. Section Five of the SCCBank Act stipulates that if the General Assembly in the annual general appropriations act provides less appropriations than what was provided the previous year to at least half of the state agencies or departments or if the Budget and Control Board orders across the board budget cuts the Conservation Bank will receive no further funding for that fiscal year.

4. Section 11-9-95 now puts documentary stamp tax revenues on an accrual basis thereby deleting important revenues from available funding.
4. MAJOR ACHIEVEMENTS FROM PAST YEAR

The Conservation Bank has only been in existence for six months of this reporting period. It has however achieved the following:

a) The Bank is recognized as a state agency officially and has two separate accounts in the State Treasurers office.
b) It has re-negotiated an MOU with a state agency to provide
c) A web site has been created and is online. http://sccbank.sc.gov Updating is ongoing.
d) The Bank has already completed its second independent audit and was found in compliance.
e) An official focus group for input and communications with stakeholders has been implemented with environmental, conservation, hunting and fishing, and business interests represented and is providing valuable input.
f) A technical review panel has been implemented.
g) The Conservation Bank has formulated and approved its grant application process and its awards criteria program and is online. Legal review is now complete.

SECTION 111- ELEMENTS OF MALCOLM BALDRIDGE AWARD CRITERIA

Category 1-Leadership

Leadership of the Conservation Bank consists of a twelve-man board, a chairman, vice chairman, and treasurer. This Board sets the policies of the agency. An executive director provides the administration and management as set by the Board. Direction is set by the Business Plan and the Strategic Plan. Leadership is focused on external and internal customers by supporting the goals and objectives of the agency. These objectives are directly related to the Strategic Plan and the performance measures thereof. Management provides a monthly update to the Board Chairman. Fiscal accountability is promoted and maintained by having an outside state agency provide accounting and financial services to the Bank. Oversight is by the Board in quarterly reviews. Only the Board has authority to make grants which are reviewed by outside counsel and the CG office. The agency also has an annual audit by an outside accounting firm.

The Executive Director has been trained in quality management principles, team leadership, and Baldrige Criteria. Public trust is a vital element of maintaining voluntary participation in conservation. We maintain a high degree of business ethics by 1) communicating with and including customers and stakeholders in our planning processes proactively 2) availability for input through e-mail and advisory positions from agency staff 3) and by review of the agency processes and procedures by the Technical Review Team and outside legal counsel. The Conservation Bank has partnered with business groups such as The State Chamber Of Commerce, SCBIPEC, Farm Bureau; state agencies such as PRT, SCDNR, and SC Forestry; and private sector groups such as The Conservation Fund, Ducks Unlimited, The Nature Conservancy, and others. This collaboration has provided private sector funding, office space, technical review, and legal counsel. We are frequently called upon to make presentations on conservation and the role the Conservation Bank plays.

Category 2 -Strategic Planning

The agency’s strategic plan is the basis for the planning process. The plan is directed towards the future for business decisions, management, and resource allocations as well as agency priority decisions. Our focus is to continue to seek input from our customers and stakeholders and to form and implement collaborative partnerships with all qualified entities. The annual business plan objectives are specifically related to the Strategic Plan.

Category 3-Customer Focus.

The Bank’s implementation and planning process has identified the agency’s key customers and stakeholders as those qualified entities who qualify for funding under the Conservation Bank Act such as: land trusts, environmental, and conservation organizations; the state agencies which qualify (PRT, SCDNR, SC Forestry); federal government and municipalities; elected officials, The Governor, Lt. Governor, The General Assembly; and landowners in South Carolina. We determine our customers from the services we provide. We then seek our customer feedback through our focus group and technical review team. This gives us the opportunity to determine our customer needs by defining terms, asking questions, and allowing our customers and stakeholders to proactively be involved in setting the standards by which they will have to comply in order to partner with the Conservation Bank. We will then generate strategies to address and include our customers' needs. This process not only builds public awareness and confidence but also gives the stakeholders and customers a real ownership in the process and the product. Quarterly progress reviews are given to the Focus Team and the Technical Review Team to disseminate what has been accomplished and to receive feedback and improvement suggestions. Our WEB site contains status updates and the opportunity for feedback from the general public. Many of our performance measures are tied directly to customer expectations.

Category 4- Measurement, Analysis, and Knowledge Management

The agency uses the feedback data from its Focus Team and its Technical Review Team and other partners to identify improvements that will further educate our customers and stakeholders as well as the general public as to the role of the Conservation Bank in conserving significant lands in S.C. Continued research on other state’s programs will lead to common key measures and national performance measures when the data is available for comparison. The SCCBank has only one employee.
Extensive business records of all grant transactions and award criteria will be available when made.

Category 5-Human Resource Focus.

The South Carolina Conservation Bank currently has one employee, an executive director. The position description is written to tie directly to the mission of the agency. The director has direct access to the Chairman of The Board and to all Board members. Additionally, the agency has direct communication ties to PRT, SCDNR, and the SC Forestry Dept. that enhances the resource capability of the office. The executive director has attended the SC Executive Institute, The Federal Executive Institute, and many quality and leadership training skills courses. The executive director as well as the entire Board is well known and active in their respective communities. Employee well being is important to the agency and if any new employees are hired the agency will continue to stress this priority.

Category 6-Process Management

The key processes of the Conservation Bank will be the Grant Application process, the Project Priority grading process, and funding capability of the Bank. The grant application and project priority process have been established utilizing the majority of the feedback from the end users and will soon be ready to implement. It should have a high level of customer satisfaction as it was designed by a consensus of end users. Mission, service performance, and operational performance is, as yet, untested, as The Bank has not yet received any State funding with which to purchase interests in lands. When this occurs, performance measures in these areas will be attainable. Financial performance internally has relied solely on private sector funding to this point. The Bank has just completed an outside audit and has been found to be in compliance. The agency is well within its adopted budget.

Category 7-Business Results

The current short term business plan of the agency is to have its administrative responsibilities, its policies, its processes including grant application, funding cycles, and funding priorities as well as public education and awareness proactively ready for procurement of interests in land in SC as soon as State funding becomes available.

a) Customer satisfaction-The Bank has involved the majority of its customers and stakeholders in all of its processes to date.
The level of customer satisfaction in the process has exceeded expectations according to feedback from our Focus Group and Technical Review Team. While the Bank is not yet funded when funding becomes available a different level of customer satisfaction will be expected along with different key measures to consider same.

b) What are your performance levels and trends for key measures of mission accomplishment? In our short term business plan our performance measures meet or exceed expectations. This is with the knowledge that funding will change this short term plan to a larger vision and accompanying key measures.
