Agency History

The South Carolina Legislature restructured a significant portion of state government in 1993. Effective February 1, 1994, Act 181 created the South Carolina Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation (LLR). This legislation merged the Department of Labor, State Fire Marshal’s Office, the South Carolina Fire Academy and 38 professional and occupational licensing boards to form the new agency.

The legislation empowered the Governor to appoint a director of the agency with the advice and consent of the Senate.

LLR is organized into four divisions: Fire and Life Safety, Labor, Professional and Occupational Licensing and Administration.
Mission Statement

Making South Carolina a Safer and Better Place to Work and Live

The South Carolina Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation will accomplish its mission by:

- Promoting a regulatory climate that provides a safe and healthy environment where businesses can be successful in a manner that benefits our citizens;
- Conducting appropriate inspection and complaint investigation programs and, when necessary, pursuing enforcement options as provided by law;
- Administering licensing, permitting and certification programs, as provided by law; and
- Providing appropriate education, information, and outreach programs.
The Division of Fire and Life Safety serves as the fire safety focal point for South Carolina, maintaining a statewide delivery system for fire prevention, protection and training services. The division provides leadership, guidance and services needed by the fire service to carry out its responsibilities at the local level. The Office of State Fire Marshal and the S.C. Fire Academy comprise the division.

Responsibilities

Statutory responsibilities for the primary programs of the division are as follows:

Code Enforcement (23-9-10 through 23-9-180):

Charges the State Fire Marshal with responsibilities for requiring compliance with national and state-adopted fire safety codes and standards promulgated by the Division of Fire and Life Safety and the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Board and gives authority to the State Fire Marshal to inspect buildings for codes compliance.

South Carolina Fire Academy (23-10-10):

Charges the Fire Academy with the operation of a training facility to upgrade the state’s fire service personnel—paid, volunteer and industrial.

Office of State Fire Marshal

Programs

The Office of State Fire Marshal has regulatory responsibility to ensure compliance with state fire safety regulations. This is accomplished through inspection activities by deputy state fire marshals in the field, code consultation and plans review services provided by the Engineering Services Section. Fire prevention activities aimed at reducing the state’s fire death rate are managed by the Public Fire Safety Education Section. Activities include the distribution of smoke alarms, programs in the schools to educate youth and the dissemination of timely fire safety information to the public.

Public Fire Safety Education

“Get Alarmed, South Carolina”

The “Get Alarmed, South Carolina” program is an on-going public fire safety awareness campaign where the main objective is to lower fire deaths by 1) alarming citizens about the fire problem and teaching them about fire safety, and 2) to provide smoke alarms to high risk citizens—the elderly, economically depressed and handicapped. Forty-six county coordinators serve as liaisons to assist in distributing materials and smoke alarms for this program.
School-Based Public Fire Education Curriculum

The “Freddie the Fire Cat” curriculum is a comprehensive fire safety educational curriculum for students in kindergarten through fifth grade. “Freddie’s Fire Smart Kids” is a curriculum for kindergarten and first grades. “Freddie’s Fire Safety Friends” is an expanded curriculum for second and third grades. During the fall of 1998, the fourth- and fifth-grade curriculum, “Freddie Gets Fired Up,” was piloted and was introduced into the school system during the fall of 1999. To date, more than 285,000 students (out of a possible 299,000) in kindergarten through fifth grade have received vital fire safety and survival education through these programs. Each curriculum contains lesson plans, student activity workbooks, graduation certificates, a video to coincide with each lesson plan and a storybook introducing “Freddie” and his life story. A video has been produced to accomplish in-service training for teachers to acquaint them with the “Freddie” curriculum.

“Freddie the Fire Safety Cat” is the Office of State Fire Marshal’s mascot and is used at various functions by schools, civic groups, churches, government agencies, fire departments, etc. “Freddie,” along with educational materials, provides children and adults with a powerful message of being fire safe. The office has two “Freddie” mascot suits.

Fire Incident Reporting

State law requires the division to collect and analyze data on fire incidents. The division does this through a comprehensive National Fire Incident Reporting System (NFIRS) created for fire departments in South Carolina. This system provides accessibility to data and reports which help departments focus on current problems, predict future problems in their communities and measure whether their programs are working. At a broader level, this information aids the state through work with the legislature. NFIRS has been used to justify the state budget and has helped in the passage of important bills on smoke alarms. It also enables the division to provide more accurate statistical information to the national level.

A software package can be obtained from the Office of State Fire Marshal that takes the place of departments sending in fire incident forms. By entering their own reports, the departments can extract statistics to identify their fire problems. The Office of State Fire Marshal trains the departments to use the software and provides troubleshooting as needed. Training is also provided on the fire incident forms. Seventy computers have been distributed to fire departments.

A document describing the fire statistics collected is compiled and printed in a handbook that is distributed to fire departments across the state.

Fire Death Reports

When a fire death occurs in South Carolina, a fire fatality form is filled out by a deputy state fire marshal, a fire chief or sometimes a coroner. Once this form is completed, it is returned to the Office of State Fire Marshal and compiled into a database. These statistics are analyzed at the end of each month to give the total number of fire deaths for the month and for the year to include death by county, cause of death, smoke alarm present, structure that death occurred in and age of the deceased. These statistics are used statewide by the media, fire departments, fire organizations, government agencies, etc.

South Carolina now ranks 32nd in the nation for fire deaths, according to the United States Fire Administration, the state’s lowest ranking ever. That ranking is based on 1998 figures – the latest year that nationwide statistics are available.

Fire Safety Materials for Distribution

The office receives many requests for public fire education materials. Coloring books, flyers on smoke alarm maintenance, general fire safety booklets, pencils and stickers are some of the materials sent to fire departments, government agencies, schools, etc. In addition, the office serves as a resource to local fire departments by maintaining a resource center housing videos on various fire safety subjects. They are available on a check-out basis.
Programs and Presentations

Various presentations are given on fire safety throughout the year. The S.C. Department of Disabilities and Special Needs, Carolina Health Care and S.C. Department of Health and Environmental Control’s Division of Women and Children’s Services, are some of the agencies receiving continuous training. In addition to presentations, many programs have been established by partnering with DHEC, such as the “Save Our Children” program, a sub-program of “Get Alarmed South Carolina.”

When home health care nurses discover a home without a smoke detector, they call the county coordinator for their area to schedule a visit to the home. Nurses are taught to conduct home fire safety inspections, and this becomes part of their routine survey.

The S.C. Department of Disabilities and Special Needs contracts with the Office of State Fire Marshal to provide four annual training sessions on fire safety to its staff. The office also trains its staff to provide home fire safety inspections and to install smoke alarms when needed.

The Office of State Fire Marshal also makes presentations and provides displays at annual meetings of state associations including the S.C.State Firemen’s Association, S.C. State Association of Fire Chiefs and S.C. Fire Inspectors’ Association.

A partnership with the SC. Safe Kids Coalition enables the development and distribution of a safety calendar to 13,000 elementary classrooms, pediatric offices and day care facilities.

Due to a continual increase in deaths involving alcohol or other drugs, collaborative efforts between the Office of State Fire Marshal and the Department of Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse Substances (DAODAS) have led to the development of educational brochures addressing the increased risk of fire deaths while impaired by alcohol or other substances. Plans are under way to include formal training in the various outreach programs sponsored by DAODAS and the Office of State Fire Marshal.

News Releases

Monthly news releases are generated to inform the public on fire education issues such as heating safety and smoke detector distribution. The releases are sent to newspapers and TV and radio stations. Heating safety, holiday safety, dormitory safety and Fire Prevention Week activities are among recent news releases distributed.

Fire Prevention Week

The Office of State Fire Marshal coordinates statewide Fire Prevention Week campaigns focusing on a specific fire safety topic. The fire service is often involved in activities such as holding exit drills within their communities simultaneously. The office serves as a resource to the general public and the fire service for fire safety materials and presentations.

Burn Camp

The Office of State Fire Marshal has participated in the Children’s Burn Camp of Florida at Walt Disney World since 1995. South Carolina sends burn survivors (children) and buddies. These children are recommended through hospitals and organizations dealing with burned children. The participants are entertained at no expense to the families. A visit to a major theme park is the highlight of the weekend. Private individuals, fire service organizations and corporations contribute to this cause.

Special Projects

The office participates in several special events each year including the S.C. SAFE KIDS teleconference. South Carolina also has participated in special studies conducted by FEMA to look at community-based fire education and received a grant to implement such programs. In another study conducted by USFA, South Carolina was identified as one of four states leading the way with effective fire education programs. Partnering with DHEC, a $150,000 grant dealing with residential fire safety and the installation of smoke alarms was awarded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.
Field Services
The Field Services staff continued to work to improve its inspection skills and overall employee skills. This was done by attending periodic training classes including proper handling of LP Gas, code changes, legal requirements and customer relations.

The deputies were also encouraged to participate in a wide range of other professional association activities, such as attending their county fire chiefs’ association and other fire service organizations. They were encouraged to keep these organizations abreast of changes in code and regulations as they occurred.

The staff continues to work to improve the delivery of services to our customers.

Inspections for Codes Compliance
Inspections continue to be one of the core functions. Listed below are some of the activities and inspections conducted by deputy state fire marshals.

In addition to inspections, the field services section also implemented quarterly training for all fire inspectors statewide. Additionally, the State Fire Marshal also contracted with NFPA to bring national certification programs to the state with the Certified Fire Inspector I and Certified Fire Plans Examiner Curriculum.
Engineering Services

Plans Reviews
The engineering staff provides comprehensive reviews of building designs and building systems to determine compliance with state laws, regulations and codes. These may be plans of state buildings which are referred by the state engineer’s office, day care centers referred by the Department of Social Services (DSS), local prisons referred by the S.C. Department of Corrections, building plans referred by local jurisdictions, and others as required by state law. This service can identify unsafe designs before the building is constructed, resulting in less expensive and often more effective code compliance. The staff’s efforts to improve and streamline the review process with fewer delays for the “customer” (owners, designers, contractors) continues. In FY 01-02, 605 projects were reviewed, representing almost 100 million square feet of building space.

Technical Assistance
The staff provides technical assistance to owners, designers, contractors and private citizens, as well as state and local government officials. This assistance is provided through phone conversations (5,000), meetings, on-site visits, and letters (1,861). The type of assistance ranges from simple questions on requirements, to large and difficult fire protection engineering problems that are not specifically addressed by codes. The office maintains a comprehensive and up-to-date reference library for research into the latest opinions and methods of fire protection design. The staff also maintains working relationships with regional and national fire protection organizations. This information base, coupled with a trained staff specializing in all aspects of fire and life safety design, is a resource that is not available anywhere else in South Carolina.

Education
In FY 01-02, the engineering staff continued to expand its role in educating designers, contractors and local officials about fire protection requirements and methods. The staff conducted presentations at seminars and professional association meetings, taught courses and published newsletter articles.

South Carolina Fire Academy

The Fire Academy’s mission is to develop an instructional delivery system through which a standardized, statewide firefighter training curriculum is developed and implemented to train a maximum number of career, volunteer and industrial fire service personnel. Services are provided to accomplish the following activities: developing the skills necessary to command and control emergency operations involving fire, rescue and hazardous materials incidents; developing the managerial and leadership skills for all levels of fire service officers; and developing skills in fire department support functions to include public fire education, fire prevention inspections and investigations.

The Fire Academy has three separate program areas: Resident Training; Regional Training; and Curriculum, Instructor Certification and Accreditation. South Carolina has an estimated 700 fire departments with about 16,000 paid and volunteer firefighters. Last year, the Fire Academy trained 18,962 public fire service and emergency personnel and 2,249 industrial fire brigade members for a total of 21,211 students in 1,643 programs. This was an increase of 14.3 percent in programs and 17.3 percent in students from the previous year.

Resident Training

The Fire Academy has been in operation at its present site since July 1995. This premier fire-training facility features modern classrooms, a 60-room dormitory, cafeteria, drill tower, six-bay fire station, student processing center, two burn buildings, flammable liquid and gases training, propane live-fire training, and two computer-controlled Federal Aviation Agency-funded aircraft training props. The Fire Academy conducted 337 municipal programs as resident programs at the Fire Academy’s main campus in Columbia, an increase of 55.3 percent. Many specialized programs that require live burns are conducted at the Fire Academy site. Also, many industrial customers come to the Fire Academy for their emergency training. Last year, we conducted 155 industrial programs with 2,249 students attending. Industrial customers are both in-state and out-of-state companies. They pay a reasonable fee for this training, and the revenue helps operate the Fire Academy. Industrial revenue is about 33 percent of the Fire Academy budget. The Fire Academy also conducts haz-mat and rescue programs for the S.C. Emergency Preparedness Division, funded by Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) grants. This grant of $121,117 funded 41 programs for 646 students, with 14,960 student contact hours at a cost of $8.09 per student hour. The Fire Academy received an $80,000 grant from FEMA and the National Fire Academy to conduct specialized terrorism and rescue programs and to purchase equipment, books and materials to support these programs. The $80,000 terrorism grant was used to purchase some equipment and materials to support the 24 programs conducted for 383 students with 7,776 student contact hours at a cost $10.28 per student hour. The Fire Academy also received a $30,000 grant from FEMA, NFA for Incident Command type training. The $30,000 FEMA NFA grant was used to conduct 28 programs for 410 students with 6,560 student contact hours at a cost $4.57 per student hour.

Curriculum, Accreditation and Certification
The Fire Academy maintains an instructor certification program for more than 650 part-time instructors, who teach courses at the Fire Academy, and in their local fire departments. We recertified 290 of the 358 “even-year” instructors. The instructor certification system involves establishing requirements for entry-level instructors and the recertification of existing instructors. The instructor certification system is a vital part of the off-campus training. This past year, the curriculum section completed many courses. The driver operator curriculum and courses 1201 and 1220 were completely rewritten, and a new course, 1221 Pump Ops II, was developed. All are fully implemented. A new National Fire Academy course, Wildland/Urban Interface Firefighting, was received and modified to meet the specific needs of South Carolina, and a new course, 8335, was made available to the fire service. The 8118 Positive Pressure Ventilation course was completely rewritten and released for use. All of the the Fire Academy certification test banks were validated and changes and corrections were made. New certification tests for each of the 7 regions were created and delivered. All old certification tests were destroyed. The 8168 Aerial Operations Course has been updated and revised, and will be new program, 1250. The lesson plan development has been completed and pilot programs and instructor updates will be completed soon. The Basic Auto Extrication course 3330 has been revised and updated. A Technical Review and Development Committee is working on a major upgrade to the rescue curriculum to meet the new NFPA standard. The lesson plan for new course, 3350, Water Rescue Operations, was developed and was pilot tested in August 2002. Development is in progress for a new course, 3351, Swift Water Rescue Technician I.

The Fire Academy operates a firefighter certification program that is accredited by the International Fire Service Accreditation Congress. The Fire Academy’s program includes eight separate certification areas; Firefighter I, Firefighter II, Driver/Operator, Instructor I, Fire Officer I, ARFF, Fire and Life Safety Educator I and Industrial Fire Brigade.

Regional Training
The Fire Academy operates six regional offices, three with full-time staff personnel, and three with part-time staff personnel. The regional offices coordinate and schedule training programs to be conducted at local fire departments or at the regional offices.

This was the busiest year ever at the Fire Academy. There was an increase of 5 percent in courses taught and a 2 percent increase in student attendance. The Fire Academy started 1,032 regional programs, of which: 279 were request; 424 were in-house training. This shows that 68 percent of the programs were delivered when requested. The balance of the programs (or 32 percent) were catalog courses, which also were requested in advance by individual fire departments and advertised in the catalog.

The Fire Academy completed 1,492 municipal programs for 18,962 students. Many of the programs taught in the regions also come to the Fire Academy’s main campus in Columbia for live fire burns. The Fire Academy’s full-time resident staff also teach and assist with most of the haz mat tech, haz mat tech refresher, confined space, rope rescue and terrorism programs conducted in the regions. The Fire Academy sends instructors and equipment to deliver these programs and supports municipal programs in the region by delivering equipment trailers. The Fire Academy made 270 deliveries and traveled 51,134 miles. The regional coordinators traveled more than 37,000 miles to support delivery of Fire Academy programs. They also attended 104 fire association meetings in their regions and many of these are conducted at night after normal working hours. The Fire Academy management staff attended 80 association meetings around the state.

Special Fire Academy Programs
The Division of Fire & Life Safety conducted four regional call-in teleconferences for the fire service on the following topics: Special Propane Emergency Response, Special Weapons of Mass Destruction, Domestic Response Casualty Decontamination, and Special High-Level Rope Evaluation with the S.C. Highway Patrol. The Fire Academy staff also participated in three OSHA-sponsored teleconferences for the fire service.

Emergency Services for the Citizens of South Carolina
Under the South Carolina Emergency plan, the Division of Fire and Life Safety, State Fire Marshal, is responsible for Emergency Support Function (ESF) 4 - Structural Firefighting and ESF 9 - Urban Search and Rescue. The Fire Marshal also is responsible for Firefighter Mobilization. Three times during this fiscal year, ESF4 and 9 were activated to support emergency needs.

• On Sept. 11, 2001, the state emergency plan was implemented and the Division of Fire and Life Safety had representatives at the state EOC for two days. The division implemented the Firefighter Mobilization Plan and contacted fire service teams from around the state and placed them on stand by to respond to terrorist attacks in the state, or to send resources to New York, if requested.

• On November 8, 2001, ESF 4 was activated and the Firefighter Mobilization Plan was implemented due to the Long Bay forest fire in Horry County. Thirty-eight fire departments were mobilized and sent personnel and equipment to assist the Forestry Commission and the Horry County Fire Department. The division was actively involved with this mobilization coordination until Nov. 13.

• On June 17, 2002, ESF 4 was activated and the Firefighter Mobilization plan was implemented due to the Legends forest fire in Horry County. Twelve fire departments were mobilized and sent personnel and equipment to assist the Forestry Commission and the Horry County Fire Department. The Division was actively involved with this mobilization coordination until June 19.

The Division is actively involved with EMD and the State Emergency Plan. Personnel attended five ESF planning meetings and seven table-top drill exercises and drill planning meetings. Personnel were actively involved as both players and a controller for the State Emergency Drill on June 5 and 6 and the drill after action review on June 7.
Division of Labor

South Carolina and federal laws are the source of various rights employers and employees have in their employer/employee relationships. LLR, Division of Labor, is one of several state and federal agencies which administers the laws. Occupational safety, payment of wages, child labor, migrant labor and mediation of disputes between unions and businesses fall under this division as well as elevators and amusement rides.

Office of Occupational Safety and Health

Compliance Section

The purpose of the state Occupational Safety and Health Act is to assure working men and women a safe and healthful working environment. To see that the objectives are met, the Compliance staff of 16 compliance officers and 11 industrial hygienists conducts inspections to ensure compliance with safety standards and initiate enforcement procedures in cases of noncompliance. In FY 2001-2002, Compliance conducted 1,855 inspections. Safety inspections numbered 1,490 or 80.3 percent of this total. Health inspections numbered 365 or 19.7 percent of the total. A further analysis of compliance activity reveals:

- 1,278 planned inspections
- 235 complaint inspections
- 71 accident and fatality investigations, which involved 37 fatalities
- 49 referral inspections
- 65 unprogrammed related inspections
- 74 follow-up inspections
- 45 programmed related inspections
- 38 monitoring inspections

There were 4,164 violations cited. The 1,509 other-than-serious violations accounted for 36.2 percent; 2,604 serious violations accounted for 62.5 percent; 46 repeat violations accounted for 1.1 percent; and five willful violations accounted for less than 1 percent. The adjusted penalties for these violations amounted to $778,395. Penalties collected totaled $675,404.

Technical Support Section

Integrated Management Information System

This section has the responsibility to compile, analyze and prepare accurate data concerning safety and health inspections and activities which will assist in the management of the state OSH program. Data collected is used to plan, direct and evaluate the OSH program and to provide objective information on which to base policy decisions.

Statistics Section

Annual Occupational Injuries and Illnesses Survey

The annual Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) Survey of Occupational Injuries and Illnesses by Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) and the Census of Fatal Occupational Injuries (CFOI) Program are conducted by the OSH Statistics Section in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Only a relatively small percentage of the total private sector employers are required to report on the BLS survey. Data collected in this survey is based on uniform recordkeeping requirements, which are mandatory under provisions of both the 1970 Occupational Safety and Health Act and corresponding state laws. The data compiled in this survey is used to provide a management tool for safety engineers and persons interested in measurements of work injuries and illnesses.

In 2000, workers in South Carolina’s private industry experienced job-related injuries and illnesses at a rate of 5.5 per 100 full-time employees. Of the 1,507,900 persons employed in South Carolina’s private sector workforce in 2000, about one out of every 19 suffered a work-related injury or illness. A total of 69,500 occupational injuries and illnesses were reported in the state’s private industry workplaces in 2000, a 3.3 percent decrease from 1999. Of the 69,500 recordable cases, an estimated 31,200 involved lost workdays. About 94.6 percent of the recordable cases were occupational injuries, and 5.4 percent were illnesses.

BLS survey questionnaires were mailed to 4,625 BLS sample units. A relatively small portion of these were excluded because: the employer was no longer in operation; they were included in a report for another location; duplicate survey forms were received for the same location; or the survey form was not mailed because of an inadequate address. Mailings, original and follow-up, and telephone calls resulted in 3,577 usable BLS survey questionnaires.

A total of 89 fatal occupational injuries were reported in South Carolina in 2001 under the CFOI Program. Transportation incidents were the leading cause of the fatal work injuries in South Carolina, accounting for 37 fatal injuries, followed by 19 fatalities involving falls.

Standards Section

Two public hearings were held during 2000-2001 to correct, amend or revise 10 existing OSHA standards. The following telephone calls were addressed:

Legal Review Section

During fiscal year 2001-2002, there were 54 protested citations. These protests were docketed with the South Carolina Occupational Health and Safety Review Board for hearing under the rules of the board. During this period, 35 cases were closed by agreement of the parties. Others were heard by the Board.
South Carolina Occupational Health and Safety Review Board

Under §41-15-600 through §41-15-640, South Carolina Code of Laws, 1976 (as amended), the South Carolina Occupational Health and Safety Review Board is responsible for hearing and deciding contested cases resulting from citations and penalties and determining time periods for abatement of citations issued by the director of LLR.

The board consists of six members, one from each Congressional district.

Office of OSHA Voluntary Programs

The Office of OSHA Voluntary Programs (OVP) provides safety and health courtesy inspections, technical assistance, and safety and health training to aid the business community in voluntary compliance with all areas of the Occupational Safety and Health Act. These confidential services are free to both public and private sector employers. Training resource materials, brochures, booklets, audio-visual programs, seminars, lectures and extended courses have been developed to assist employers in providing employees a safe and healthful work environment. The Voluntary Protection Program (VPP) or Palmetto Star Program continues to recognize manufacturing facilities with exemplary safety and health records and reduced injury and illness rates.

Office of Elevators and Amusement Rides

The office was created in 1986 to administer the South Carolina Elevator Code and the South Carolina Amusement Ride Safety Code. To ensure compliance with both codes, the licensing staff of 10 inspectors conducts inspections of new and existing elevator facilities, amusement rides and bungee jumps.

Elevator Safety Inspections

Under Chapter 16 of Title 41 of the South Carolina Code of Laws, 1976 (as amended), the Office of Elevators and Amusement Rides administers regulations governing construction, alteration and installation of new elevators, escalators, dumbwaiters, handicapped lifts and moving walks. It also administers safety standards for existing facilities. All safety standards are national consensus standards in accordance with the American National Standards Institute. The office, and the private inspectors it licenses, inspects elevator facilities and issues operating certificates.

Since registration of elevators and related equipment formally began in July 1986, 8,475 elevators and related equipment have been registered in South Carolina. The highest number of registered facilities were in Richland, Charleston, Greenville and Horry counties. The Office of Elevators and Amusement Rides conducted 6,364 annual inspections of elevators, escalators, dumbwaiters, handicapped lifts and moving walks. Licensed private inspectors conducted an additional 1,034 annual inspections. There were 7,398 annual inspections of elevator-related equipment in FY 2001/02.

Fees for the inspections performed by the Office of Elevators and Amusement Rides are based on the contract price for new elevators under construction or the number of floors served by existing elevators. Fees collected for elevator inspections and permitting are as follows:

Amusement Ride Safety Inspections

Under Chapter 18 of Title 41 of the South Carolina Code of Laws 1976 (as amended), the Office of Elevators and Amusement Rides administers regulations to guard against injuries in the assembly, disassembly and use of amusement devices at carnivals, fairs and amusement parks. The office, and any special inspector it licenses, inspects amusement devices and issues operating permits. Inspection fees are based on the type of device being inspected and are set by regulation no more than once per year. During FY 2001/02, the office issued 749 operating permits for amusement devices and collected $67,237.50 in inspection fees.

Bungee Jumping

The office began regulating the practice of bungee jumping in July 1994. In FY 2001/02, Myrtle Beach was the only site in the state with a bungee jumping device. The office collected $450 in inspection fees related to bungee jumping.

Office of Wages & Child Labor

It is the responsibility of the Office of Wages & Child Labor to enforce the South Carolina Labor Laws regarding Payment of Wages and Child Labor. In 1986, the office was given new responsibilities and authority by passage of Act No. 412, a complete revision of the Payment of Wages Law. As signed by the Governor on April 21, 1986, this Act requires employers to give written notice to employees of certain key terms and conditions of their wages, to pay according to this notice, and to keep records of the payments. LLR is authorized to make inspections, issue warnings and citations, and assess civil penalties for violations of the Act.

In 1989, the office was given new responsibilities by passage of Act No. 209, which is an amendment to state child labor laws as signed by the Governor on June 8, 1989. The amendment allows the agency to make findings concerning employers who engage in any oppressive child labor actions, to issue warnings and citations and assess civil penalties for violations of the Act.

Wage-Related Activity - Fiscal Year 2001-2002
During fiscal year 2001-2002, 2,052 businesses were investigated; 980 warnings were issued for violations of the record-keeping requirements of 41-10-30; and 1,013 citations were issued against employers for failing to pay wages in violation of 41-10-40. Penalties were assessed against employers, collectively, for $347,900.

Office of Labor-Management Mediation

Under §41-17-10 of the South Carolina, 1976 (as amended), the LLR director is responsible for assisting in the settlement of labor disputes (except railroads and express companies doing business by rail). Through the Office of Labor-Management Mediation, the director investigates industrial disputes, strikes, lockouts and their causes, and tries to help the two sides reach an agreement. When requested by both sides, mediators will act as arbitrators or appoint other arbitrators. In general, the Office of Labor-Management Mediation tries to eliminate the causes of misunderstanding and differences between organized labor and management.

This office also administers the South Carolina Right to Work Law (S.C. Code of Laws, §41-7-10 through §41-7-90), which provides that the rights of workers shall not be denied or abridged based upon their affiliation or non-affiliation with a labor union.

Migrant and Seasonal Farm Workers Commission

The South Carolina Migrant and Seasonal Farm Workers Commission is charged with the responsibility of “examination and supervision of the migrant labor programs in South Carolina, the cooperation with state and federal agencies in improving existing programs, and the coordination of programs to improve the conditions for migrant labor.”

The office operates as a clearinghouse by assisting, coordinating and monitoring programs and services provided by public and private organizations. The office works closely with all agencies addressing the laws pertaining to farmers and migrant and seasonal farm workers in South Carolina.

During FY 2001-2002, the office accomplished the following goals:

1. Referred problems and issues that affected migrant and seasonal farm workers to the appropriate state or federal agency. These cases involved housing, hiring practices, emergency assistance, terminations, immigration and referrals.

2. Continued to operate a toll-free phone line with voice mail features so farm workers and individuals would have access to the office when it is closed or the staff is out of the office.

3. Distributed the South Carolina OSHA all-in-one poster in English and Spanish.

4. Updated and printed 3,700 copies of the Services for Workers in South Carolina handbook in English, which includes emergency numbers to help farm workers and growers obtain needed services. Obtained a grant from the U.S. Department of Labor, ETA, Office of Workforce Security, South Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, and South Carolina Peach Council to publish the handbook.

5. Distributed the video package containing two videos, “Steps to Compliance - An Educational Tool for Growers in South Carolina” and “Avoiding Immigration Discrimination in Agriculture” to grower’s associations, agencies and individuals.

6. Collected and distributed clothing, toys, books and toiletries for migrant workers.

7. Worked with a non-profit company to obtain a grant for migrant housing. Growers are working with the non-profit company to build the housing.

8. Spoke to church and civic groups about migrant workers in South Carolina.

9. Began work on a task force to assist employers who hire Spanish-speaking workers.

10. Obtained a quote to have the S.C. Services Handbook translated into Spanish. Approached three organizations to sponsor the publication of the book.

12. Began locating all ESL classes in South Carolina to add to the SC Services Handbook and to the LLR web page.

13. Received a $500 grant from the March of Dimes to purchase materials in Spanish to distribute to clinics, workers and growers.
South Carolina Migrant and Seasonal Farm Workers Commission

Under South Carolina Code of Laws 46-43-20, 1976 (as amended), the South Carolina Migrant and Seasonal Farm Workers Commission is responsible for “maintaining a continuing consultative examination and supervision of the migrant labor program relating to living conditions; health, housing and public assistance and the coordination of federal, state and local programs relating thereto.”

DIVISION OF PROFESSIONAL AND OCCUPATIONAL LICENSING

Occupational licensure has a long history. Modern day licensure has its roots in workers’ guilds, which can be traced back to the 10th century in England. The first modern effort to regulate occupations and professions was Virginia’s medical practice act in 1639. In the late 1800s, state licensure activity began in earnest, and by 1900, a majority of the states had licensed attorneys, dentists, pharmacists, physicians and teachers. Between 1900 and 1960, most states licensed an additional 20 occupations and professions including accountants, nurses, real estate brokers, barbers, hairdressers, chiropractors and funeral directors. Today, more than 80 occupations and professions are licensed by one or more states.

Occupational licensing is an exercise of the state’s inherent police power to protect the health, safety and welfare of its citizens. State licensure is deemed appropriate when:

- unqualified practice poses a serious risk to a consumer’s life, health, safety or economic well-being;
- the public cannot accurately judge a practitioner’s qualifications; and
- benefits to the public clearly outweigh potential harmful effects of licensure (such as a decrease in the supply of practitioners).

The absence of these conditions generally indicates that licensure is not justified or that some alternative form of regulation such as registration or certification may be appropriate. Proponents of licensure argue that the purpose of licensure is to raise standards of practice, ensure quality service, and establish accepted codes of ethical behavior. In the last two decades, there has been a growing awareness of licensure’s concomitant responsibility to promote continuing professional education and competence and to enforce licensure laws against fraudulent, incompetent and unethical behavior.

On Feb. 1, 1994, Act 181 created the South Carolina Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation (DLLR). This Act restructured a significant portion of state government by merging the Department of Labor, The State Fire Marshal’s Office, the South Carolina Fire Academy and 37 professional and occupational licensing boards to form the new agency. The Professional and Occupational Licensing (POL) Division was established to oversee the administration of the licensing boards. The boards are categorized and separated into three related offices:

- Office of Business and Related Services and Dental, Pharmacy and Long Term Care Administrators (BRS/DPL)
- Office of Property, Environmental, Design and Construction Services (OPEDACS)
- Office of Health and Medically Related Professions (OHMRP)

The Legislative Liaison Office (LLO) within the South Carolina Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation (LLR) reports to the Office of the Director. Its charge is to review, facilitate and introduce legislation that impacts all LLR divisions. The Department consists of 40 professional and occupational licensing boards/commissions, the Division of Labor, the S.C. Fire Academy and the Office of State Fire Marshal. As a cabinet agency, the LLO provides legislative reports and advisory opinions for the Director to submit to the Governor and his staff as to the status of all legislation affecting LLR.

The LLO initiates the submission of legislation to the General Assembly by reviewing, analyzing and interpreting the impact that legislation may have on:
- The Division of Professional and Occupational Licensing, serving a quarter of a million licensed professionals.
- The Division of Fire and Life Safety, which includes the Office of State Fire Marshal and Fire Academy;
- The Division of Labor, which includes Occupational Safety and Health, OSHA Voluntary Programs, Office of Payment of Wages and Child Labor, Elevator and Amusement Rides and Migrant Labor.

Subsequently, the LLO works directly with elected officials and legislative staff to advise and propose legislation to ensure that “South Carolina is a safer and better place to work and live.”

In 1996, Act 453 was passed into law that established Title 40, Chapter 1. This statute governs the board regulation of professions and occupations within LLR. One of the LLO’s primary directives has been to assist agency boards and commissions in revising their practice acts to comply with Act 453.

The 2002 legislative session was the second half of a biennium in which LLR filed and passed two regulations, four practice acts, and 14 bills offering statutory changes. Thirty-one additional regulations were introduced and are poised for review during the 2003 legislative session. The following is a list of LLR practice acts, bills and regulations that passed during the 2002 meeting of the S.C. General Assembly:

Practice acts passed this session and effective date:
- Environmental Certification Practice Act March 5, 2002
- Social Work Examiners Practice Act March 12, 2002
- Funeral Board Practice Act June 5, 2002
- Residential Builders Practice Act Aug. 2, 2002

Bills passed offering statutory changes:
- Building Codes Council March 5, 2002
- LLR-Administration March 5, 2002
- Real Estate Commission March 6, 2002
- Board of Medical Examiners April 22, 2002
- Long Term Heath Care Administrators May 14, 2002
- Board of Nursing May 14, 2002
- Division of Labor May 15, 2002
- Liquefied Petroleum Gas Board May 29, 2002
- Environmental Certification Board June 3, 2002
- Board of Pharmacy June 4, 2002
- Board of Medical Examiners June 5, 2002
- Board of Architecture June 6, 2002
- Board of Nursing July 1, 2002
- Office of the State Fire Marshal July 2, 2002
- Division of Labor July 26, 2002
- Contractors Board Aug. 2, 2002

Regulations passed this session
- Medical Examiners-5th Pathway Regulations May 2, 2002
- OSHA June 3, 2002
OFFICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION

The function of the Office of Public Information is to keep the public aware of LLR’s programs, activities and services. In addition to answering questions from the media and the general public on every aspect of the agency, this office publishes and distributes the agency’s posters, booklets, newsletters and other publications. The office also oversees the content and design of the agency’s Web site.

In response to requests from workers, licensees, members of the fire service, the public and businesses, the Office of Public Information provides copies of various agency publications. The office also fulfills the department’s obligations under the state’s Freedom of Information Act by providing information from the agency’s files in response to requests from the news media, businesses, workers and other interested persons. The Office of Public Information also is responsible for publication of the agency’s Annual Report, administration of the Safety Achievement Awards Program and management of the South Carolina OSHA Subscription Service.
