Draft Billing

The Simple and Convenient Way to Pay Your Power Bill.

Don't like writing checks, paying postage, wasting gasoline or forgetting to pay bills?

Then Draft Billing from Santee Cooper is for you.

With Draft Billing, you'll still receive a bill each month as usual, but you don't have to do anything! We'll automatically draft your checking or savings account for the amount indicated on your bill. We'll also tell you which day your account will be drafted.

Draft Billing saves you postage, time, and the worry of whether your payment arrives through the mail on time. It makes paying your electric bill easier than ever!

Budget Billing

It Takes the Surprise Out of Your Power Bill.

Budget Billing helps make household expense planning a breeze by allowing you to pay a fixed amount on your monthly power bill. Here's how it works.

Santee Cooper will project the total of your electric bills for the coming year, based on your previous 12 months of electric use.

The amount you pay is essentially an average for the year with an annual adjustment made in May to correct for over or under estimation.

You simply pay the fixed amount every month or it can be automatically drafted if you wish.

Even though you're on Budget Billing, your meter will be read every month as usual, and your bills will show the actual number of kilowatt-hours you used that month.

With Budget Billing, you'll never be caught by surprise when you get your monthly electric bill. Inquire now to see if you qualify.

It's Easy to Apply.

Santee Cooper offers Draft Billing and Budget Billing as free services to you. If you would like more information on either program, simply complete the information below and include it with your next bill payment or mail it to your nearest Santee Cooper customer service office.
