jobretention.scvrd.net

Anxiety, depression, substance abuse or physical impairments can interfere with your job

If you have a disability that is jeopardizing your employment, we can help.

We can provide therapies and adaptations to overcome a physical disability that is causing you pain or impairing your ability to do your job.

In our residential substance abuse treatment services, caring professionals can guide you through the emotional, physical and medical aspects of confronting an addiction.

If needed, mental health services are available through a variety of partnerships.

If you are an employee, benefits may include:

- Counseling and guidance
- Medical or psychological evaluation and/or treatment
- Training in personal and social skills
- Job-site modifications or accommodations
- Referrals to other service providers

“Job retention services get people back on the right track.”

— Jimmy Kerr, owner, AMCS, Charleston

If you are an employer, benefits may include:

- Better quality and quantity of work
- Better employee relationships
- Less absenteeism and tardiness
  - Less disciplinary action
  - Less turnover
  - An improved safety record

VR can also provide training for supervisors on how to communicate with and provide assistance to employees with disabilities.

Referral for services

Employees can apply for VR services on their own. However, an employer can also make a referral when performance issues could be the result of a disability.

If the problem does not involve a disability, a VR counselor can refer the person to another service in the community.

These services are completely confidential and can help you stay on your job while getting help and support.
