About DMH

The South Carolina Department of Mental Health (DMH) provides care via an outpatient, community-based system, comprising 17 community mental health centers (each with clinics and satellite offices), three psychiatric hospitals, three veterans' nursing homes, and one community nursing home.

- Provides treatment services to approximately 100,000 patients per year, approximately 30,000 of whom are children and adolescents;
- Provides consultation, evaluation and referral services to thousands of individuals in other community settings, such as jails, hospital emergency rooms and shelters;
- Is one of the largest hospital and community-based systems of care in South Carolina; and
- Includes operation of a forensics program.

Treatment

Outpatient Care

Community mental health centers (MHCs) provide comprehensive mental health services, offering outpatient, home-based, school, and community-based programs to children, adults, and families in every county in South Carolina. All 17 DMH community MHCs are accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities, an independent, nonprofit accreditor of health and human services.

Inpatient Care

DMH's inpatient services are provided at three hospitals: Patrick B. Harris Psychiatric Hospital, G. Werber Bryan Psychiatric Hospital, and Morris Village Alcohol & Drug Addiction Treatment Center.

Nursing Homes

DMH operates three veterans' nursing homes: Richard M. Campbell Veterans Nursing Home, Veterans Victory House, and C.M. Tucker Nursing Care Center-Stone Pavilion; and one community nursing home, C.M. Tucker Nursing Care Center-Roddey Pavilion.

Mission

To support the recovery of people with mental illnesses.

Priorities

The Department of Mental Health gives priority to adults, children, and their families affected by serious mental illness and significant serious emotional disorders.

Pursuit of Quality

DMH continues to evaluate and establish mechanisms in its process to ensure that the highest quality behavioral healthcare services are implemented throughout its system.

Collaboration

DMH strives to maximize services through the coordination and pooling of human and material resources through joint partnerships with other public and private agencies.

Service System

DMH's unified system of care provides acute care, long-term care, child and youth care, substance abuse services, hard of hearing/deaf services, elderly and veterans' nursing care, forensic care, and a sexually violent predator treatment program.

Staff

DMH's clinical staff of physicians/psychiatrists, nurses, social workers, and psychologists provides diagnostic and therapeutic services upon which its clients and their families depend.

DMH understands that the single-most important service the Agency provides is compassionate care that respects patients' dignity and individuality.

A History of Service

Founded in 1821, DMH admitted its first patient in 1828. It is the third mental health system in U.S., the third funded by a state government, and one of the oldest government agencies in South Carolina.
