AGENCY’S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Elections are the foundation that supports and protects every citizen’s freedoms. The South Carolina State Election Commission (SEC) exists to protect those freedoms by ensuring the security and integrity of our election infrastructure. Our mission is to ensure every eligible citizen has the opportunity to register to vote and participate in fair and impartial elections with the assurance that every vote will count.

Conducting elections is a technologically and legally complex profession, subject to exceptional scrutiny by voters, candidates, media, the legal community, activists, and voter advocacy groups. This requires everyone involved in the elections process, whether at the municipal, county, or state level, to possess a wide variety of core competencies including technological, logistical and management skills, as well as a high level of election experience and expertise.

While state and local election officials share in the responsibility of conducting elections, the SEC, as the chief election agency in the state, is responsible for overseeing the overall voter registration and election process. Specifically, the agency is tasked with:

- Maintaining the statewide voter registration system
- Supporting the statewide voting system
- Supervising 46 county boards of voter registration and elections
- Performing audits and post-election analyses of county boards of registration and elections
- Assisting with county operations if a county election office fails to comply with state and federal law or SEC policies and procedures; or if a county is unable to certify election results in a timely manner
- Conducting a training and certification program for local election officials
- Conducting candidate filing and providing a candidate tracking system

Everything we do as an agency – our programs and projects – emanates from these responsibilities. The primary goal is to provide the highest level and quality of service possible within these mandates.

MAJOR ACHIEVEMENTS

Election Security

Protection of South Carolina’s election infrastructure remained a top priority during FY2019. Elections face numerous threats from a wide variety of actors with various motives. The agency is committed to taking all reasonable measures to further enhance the state’s election security posture. Major achievements in this fiscal year include the selection of a new statewide paper-based voting system and the deployment of network sensors on county networks. The paper-based voting system will provide another layer of security by having a paper record of every voter’s voted ballot. This allows for audits of paper ballots and, if necessary, the ability to hand recount paper ballots. The SEC continued its security partnership with the State Law Enforcement Division (SLED) by working to deploy network sensors on county networks throughout the state.

The SEC continues working with a broad-based team of federal, state, and private cybersecurity, law enforcement and intelligence professionals to ensure the agency takes every prudent measure to enhance the security and resilience of the state election infrastructure. The agency does this through an array of end-to-end measures including, but not limited to:

AGENCY NAME:	State Election Commission
AGENCY CODE:	E28	SECTION:	101

- Network Based Security – Networks are protected against threats using various tools and concepts including firewalls, intrusion prevention and detection systems, network sensors, 24/7 monitoring, data encryption, incident reporting mechanisms, software application patch management, two-factor user authentication, user password strength requirements, and user password expiration.
- Risk and Vulnerability Assessments – Cyber and physical security assessments and penetration tests are performed to identify vulnerabilities. All vulnerabilities, regardless of severity, are addressed immediately.
- Training and Education – We work to establish a strong security culture by training election officials to follow security policies and procedures and to recognize cyber threats and attack methods including identifying phishing emails and other social engineering attacks. Users are required to complete cyber security training before being granted access to systems and on an ongoing basis to maintain access. The SEC conducts field audits to ensure election officials are following security policies and procedures.

The SEC continues to improve its security posture by adding layers of security to address changes in the environment and the emergence of new technologies and threats. Taking all reasonable measures to bolster the security and resilience of the state’s election infrastructure will remain a top priority for the agency.

New Paper-Based Voting System

The State of South Carolina announced on June 10, 2019, the award of a contract for a new statewide voting system. After a lengthy evaluation of numerous proposals, an evaluation panel unanimously selected the Election Systems and Software (ES&S) ExpressVote voting system. The new paper-based system will replace the state’s aging paperless system that has been in place since 2004.

The system will not only provide voters with a dependable system for years to come, but it will also greatly enhance the security and resilience of our election process. Paper ballots will allow election officials to audit paper ballots to verify results. This is a significant measure that will go a long way in providing voters and election officials the assurance that every vote is counted just as the voter intended.

The ExpressVote ballot-marking device provides voters with the familiarity of a touchscreen combined with the security of a paper ballot. Voters will navigate the ballot and make selections using a touchscreen. After verifying selections, voters will print their paper ballot. Voters will then review the paper ballot before inserting it into a scanner. The scanner counts the votes, and the paper ballot is automatically dropped into a ballot box. Votes are recorded on the scanner, and the paper ballots are saved for auditing and verification of results.

The award was made after a six-month procurement process overseen by the S.C. Department of Administration and the State Fiscal Accountability Authority. An evaluation panel made up of the five members of the State Election Commission considered a total of seven proposals including both hand-marked and ballot-marking systems from three voting system providers. Over the course of six-weeks, the panel read the proposals, participated in the demonstrations, and heard from industry experts. Advisors included state and private cybersecurity experts, advocates for voters with disabilities, experts on accessible technology, national voting system technology consultants, and county and state election administrators. After deliberation and independent scoring by panel members, the panel unanimously selected the ExpressVote voting system as being the most advantageous to the voters of South Carolina.

Implementation was set to begin July 1, 2019, and first use of the system is planned for later in 2019.

2018 General Election

The SEC and county boards of voter registration and elections successfully conducted the Statewide General Election on November 6, 2018. The SEC created databases for 40 counties and provided election support to all 46 county elections offices. More than 1.7 million South Carolinians voted on a variety of contests on the federal, state and local levels. More than 18,000 poll workers and election officials across the state worked diligently to ensure the general election was a success.

Voter Education and Outreach

The SEC continued to reach out and educate voters on all aspects of voter registration and elections through the Agency’s SC Votes voter education initiative. The statewide initiative helps ensure voters are informed about the requirements, processes, procedures, and deadlines associated with voter registration and voting in South Carolina. FY2019 efforts were focused on educating voters on efforts to secure South Carolina’s election infrastructure, how to register and update your registration, how to vote absentee, how to vote on election day, and Photo ID requirements. The initiative includes educational brochures, posters, videos, outreach at public events, a voter education website (scVOTES.org), social media messaging, and a statewide media campaign.

KEY OPPORTUNITIES & CHALLENGES

Election Security

The greatest challenge for the SEC has been ensuring we have taken all reasonable measures to improve and protect the security and resilience of the state’s election infrastructure. The U.S. Department of Homeland Security designated election systems as critical infrastructure in January 2017. The SEC has applied considerable resources to hardening both the state’s voting and voter registration systems by applying testing, assessments, and technological and human resources. The development of an unprecedented security partnership of state, federal and private security professionals as well as state and federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies was launched to improve protection of the state’s election infrastructure during this period.

Despite these efforts, the SEC continues to face threats that challenge the agency’s cyber and physical security initiatives. The agency faces extraordinary challenges in updating and maintaining information technology resources, hiring human resources, and educating and training state and local election officials. To aid in our security efforts, the agency has taken advantage of a multitude of resources and services through the U.S. Department of Homeland Security’s cyber hygiene scanning program, risk and vulnerability assessments, and security trainings. The S.C. Department of Administration, Division of Technology assisted the agency to install endpoints in each county to improve the voting systems security posture during this period as well. Our agency has been proactive through partnerships with federal, state, private, and local entities. However, the need for increased security information that can be acted upon in short measure along with the mandate to train election officials statewide on security-related threats is a major challenge that the agency continues to address. Implementation of security policies and procedures related to the new paper-based voting system, deployment of county network scanners, security training, assessments, testing, and remediation are all security challenges facing the SEC moving into FY2020.

Implementation of the Statewide Voting System

In June 2019, the SEC announced the award of a contract for a new statewide paper-based system to replace the state’s aging paperless system that has been in place since 2004. The SEC plans to begin using the system in late 2019. Implementing the new system will be a major challenge for the agency in FY2020. Specific challenges include:

- Deploying nearly 14,000 ballot-marking devices, nearly 3,000 ballot scanners, approximately 50 election management workstations, and other associated hardware, equipment and supplies
- Overseeing delivery confirmation and acceptance testing
- Development of policies and procedures related to use of the system at the state, county and polling place levels
- Development and conduct of training for state and county election officials as well as poll managers
- Development and implementation of election results auditing processes
- Educating voters on the use of the new system

Funding for Costs Associated with New Voting System

The SEC received $40 million in state funding to purchase a new statewide voting system in FY2019. While these funds, along with previously appropriated state and federal funds, proved adequate to replace the statewide voting system, other initiatives associated with the new voting system and included in the agency’s FY2019 request were not funded. These initiatives include electronic poll books, risk-limiting and other audits, independent verification of election results, and voter education.

Electronic Poll Books – Having a statewide, uniform electronic poll book application is critical to reducing lines and creating other efficiencies at polling places, reducing the time and resources necessary to process voter participation data, and improving the security of election infrastructure. South Carolina currently has an antiquated electronic poll book solution. The software was developed in-house and provided to counties at no charge. Counties are required to purchase laptops to use the software. This approach was prudent more than a decade ago when very few poll books were commercially available and development was in its infancy. Today, competition in the electronic poll book marketplace has resulted in available options that have far greater functionality, ease of use, and security features than the SEC could match with our in-house application.

Not only will poll managers be able to process voters much faster, electronic poll books will also reduce errors in the election process by ensuring voters receive the correct ballot style. In addition, fully eliminating paper voter registration lists will greatly reduce the amount of time and resources necessary to update the statewide voter registration list with information about the voters who participate in a particular election.

AGENCY CODE:	E28	SECTION:	101

Auditing – Having a paper-based voting system adds an important layer of security to the election process. The paper record produced by the new system can be audited to verify the results of the election as tabulated by the ballot scanners. However, this layer of security cannot be fully realized without a program in place to conduct risk-limiting audits, independent third-party verification of results, or other audits.

Voter Education – Educating the public on the new voting system will be critical to the success of the new system. The SEC conducts general voter education on all aspects of the voter registration and election process and will incorporate new voting system messaging into these education efforts. However, the agency currently has no funds dedicated to conducting initiatives above and beyond these baseline efforts.

Election Legislation

Each year the SEC provides information to the General Assembly to develop and enact legislation to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of voter registration and elections.

- Funding – The Agency's priority is to continue working with the General Assembly to obtain the funding necessary to implement electronic poll books, to establish an election results auditing program, and to conduct voter education initiatives related specifically to the new voting system.
- Early Voting – The SEC will advocate for the establishment of an early voting period. Early voting will improve the election experience for every South Carolinian by making voting more convenient and by reducing wait times at polling places on election day. In addition, early voting would greatly reduce the time necessary to process paper absentee ballots.
- Voting System-Related Legislation – Fifteen years have passed since elections have been conducted using paper ballots. The paper-based voting systems of today differ greatly from those of the past. Various updates are needed to make the operation of the state's modern paper-based voting system more efficient.
- Uniform Voter Registration Deadline – Voter registration deadlines currently vary depending on the method of registration. This is confusing to voters and to election officials and voter advocates. Amendments to various sections of the S.C. Code of Laws are need to establish a uniform deadline for all methods of voter registration.
- Lengthy Referendums – The Agency also seeks legislation or statutory changes which alleviate concerns regarding lengthy referendums or other questions appearing on general election ballots.

RISK ASSESSMENT AND MITIGATION STRATEGIES

The most negative impact on the public would be an event that causes the loss of public confidence in the election process. The election process is made up of a combination of laws, policies, procedures, people, places and systems. The election systems most critical to the Agency are the statewide voter registration system and the statewide voting system. A failure of either of these systems would have the potential to cause a statewide failure to register voters and conduct fair and accurate elections.

The SEC works with the Department of Administration (DOA), other agencies, and a private security vendor daily to manage, monitor, and secure South Carolina’s election infrastructure. These efforts include identifying ways to increase the security of all agency networks, public facing websites, and both the voter registration and voting system used in our state.

The SEC alone does not have the capabilities to protect the State’s election infrastructure. The nature and level of outside help would depend on the type of threat or vulnerability. The agencies listed below would be called upon to assist in identifying and addressing security threats and vulnerabilities which have the potential to impact the Agency’s ability to conduct voter registration and elections.

- S.C. Department of Administration
- S.C. General Assembly
- S.C. Law Enforcement Division
- S.C. Governor’s Office
- U.S. Department of Homeland Security
- U.S. Department of Justice
- Federal Bureau of Investigation
- U.S. Election Assistance Commission
- Multi-State Information Sharing & Analysis Center
- Election Infrastructure Information Sharing & Analysis Center
- County governments
- County boards of voter registration and elections
- S.C. Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV)
- S.C. Department of Social Services
- S.C. Department of Health & Human Services
- S.C. Department of Health & Environmental Control
- S.C. Department of Mental Health
- S.C. Commission for the Blind
- S.C. Department of Alcohol & Other Drug Abuse Services
- S.C. Department of Disabilities & Special Needs
- S.C. Vocational Rehabilitation Department

Following are five risks in the election process that can be mitigated by action of the General Assembly:

- 1) Long lines at polling places create a barrier and impact a voter’s ability to vote. The SEC will continue working with the General Assembly to strengthen the election process by reducing wait times at polling places. Electronic poll books and early voting are critical to removing this barrier.
- 2) The SEC has an opportunity to enhance the security of the statewide voting system by establishing a comprehensive program to verify election results by auditing paper ballots. The SEC will continue working with the General Assembly to acquire the funding to establish this program.

AGENCY CODE:	E28	SECTION:	101

3) The use of paper ballots will impact election officials' ability to process absentee ballots in a timely manner. For the past 15 years, South Carolinians have become accustomed to seeing election results reported from the absentee precinct shortly after the close of the polls. This was made possible by the use of voting machines for the majority of absentee voting. With paper ballots, election officials will again be required to handle and process every paper absentee ballot. By law this process cannot begin until 9:00 a.m. on election day. Exacerbating this problem is the fact that the rate of absentee voting has increased exponentially over the past 15 years. In the most recent presidential election, nearly 25% of those participating voted absentee. As a result, the counting of votes in a major statewide election could take days to complete.

The General Assembly could mitigate this problem in several ways:

- Requiring an in-person absentee ballot to be challenged at the time it is cast.
 - Allowing absentee ballots to be opened and processed beginning at 9:00 a.m. on the day before an election. Results would not be reported until after 7:00 p.m. on election day.
 - Establishing early voting. Early voting would allow ballots to be processed in the same way ballots are processed on election day.
- 4) Voter registration deadlines vary by registration method which causes confusion and could lead to voter disenfranchisement. The General Assembly could remedy this by establishing a uniform voter registration deadline for all methods.
- 5) As adjustments to county lines are made to reestablish statutorily defined boundaries, voters are impacted by the implementation because precinct lines are not changed at the same time. The General Assembly could establish a process by which county lines and precinct lines are adjusted simultaneously. To further lessen the impact on elections, county and precinct lines should not be adjusted during general election years.
