

South Carolina 2013 Notable State Documents

The South Carolina State Library was pleased to recently announce the selection of the most notable South Carolina state government documents of 2013.

Awards were presented to the winning agencies and authors on April 15 at 10:30 a.m. at the South Carolina State Library in Columbia.

According to South Carolina State Library Director, Hulen E. Bivins, "South Carolina state documents provide a wealth of knowledge that enhances the abilities of government and industry; aids the education of students and the workforce of the state; and continues the development of an informed citizenry. State documents explore not only what has been accomplished but also presents plans for future accomplishments. The South Carolina State Library is pleased to recognize diligent efforts that have been judged as this year's exceptional publications and websites. These recognized efforts continue the tradition of the State of South Carolina in providing high quality, useful, and pertinent knowledge data."

Winning documents were selected by the staff of the South Carolina State Library. All documents are available to view at the State Library.
