LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

THE SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY BOARD

December 26, 1948

To His Excellency, the Honorable J. Strom Thurlow, Governor of South Carolina, Members of the General Assembly of South Carolina:

The objective of the State Library Board is a network of county and regional library centers which foster reading and make books accessible to all South Carolinians. The Board is committed to improving the state's literacy rate and promoting access to information.

Your consideration is requested for the facts in the annual report, which follows, of Miss Estellene P. Walker, Executive Secretary of the State Library Board.

from
THE SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY BOARD
December 28, 1948

To His Excellency, the Honorable J. Strom Thurmond, Govern­nor of South Carolina, and to the Honorable Members of the General Assembly of South Carolina:

Dear Sirs:

We have the honor to transmit the report of the South Carolina State Library Board for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948.

The objective of the State Library Board is a network of county and regional library systems extending over the entire State thus making books easily accessible to every person in South Carolina.

South Carolina is making steady progress in the development of library service. Since the South Carolina State Library Board received its first appropriation, the bookstock in public libraries in the state has increased from 620,500 volumes to 907,766 volumes, a gain of 287,266 volumes. Today 175,793 more people in South Carolina have library service than enjoyed this service five years ago. Expenditure for public library service has increased from $274,373 in 1943 to $526,186 in 1948. But the picture is far from a bright one in spite of the progress made in the past five years. South Carolina still has less than ½ a book per capita. Book resources are gravely inadequate. The conspicuous lack of research materials demands immediate attention because of the new industries coming into the state, the changes in farm practices, and the need for re-education of adults to become economically effective in the new fields of employment. Public libraries in South Carolina have a potential of service which has never been developed because of inadequate financial support. Lack of funds has resulted in libraries with inadequate staffs, inadequate book collections and limited service. No public library in South Carolina meets even the minimum standards of service as expressed in the American Library Association’s Post-War Standards for Public Libraries.

Your consideration is requested for the facts in the annual report, which follows, of Miss Estellene P. Walker, Executive Secretary of the State Library Board.

Respectfully submitted,

"I have often thought that nothing would do more extensive good at small expense than the establishment of a small circulating library in every county, to consist of a few well-chosen books, to be lent to the people of the county, under such regulations as would secure their safe return in due time."—Thomas Jefferson, Writings, Vol. xii, p. 282.

Libraries in South Carolina continue to progress. As established libraries continue and improve their service and as new libraries begin operation, more and more citizens of the State are taking advantage of the opportunity offered by the public library to become citizens of understanding, individuals of culture and persons of economic competence. Wherever it exists, the public library is bringing education, recreation, culture and opportunity to the adults and children of the State.

The past year has seen steady progress made toward the goal of state-wide library service for South Carolina. During the year, county libraries were established in Berkeley, Lexington and Oconee counties. Newberry and Saluda counties joined together to form the Newberry-Saluda Regional Library. These libraries began operation 1 July 1948. The new regional library of Allendale-Hampton-Jasper was in full operation throughout the year. South Carolina now has thirty-six counties with full rural library service. Interest in obtaining county library service continues unabated in the ten counties still without this service. With county library service well established in thirty-six counties and with every probability of six additional counties establishing this service within the year, it seems only a matter of time until statewide library service will be a reality in South Carolina.

State Aid to County Libraries and the Regional Library Establishment Grants have been the deciding factor in establishing new county and regional libraries and in extending and improving the service of established libraries. Libraries in thirty-six South Carolina counties participated in the State Aid Program of the State Library Board during 1947-48. Fifteen county libraries received cash allotments and eighteen county libraries serving twenty-one counties received the equivalent of the allotment in books. One Regional Establishment Grant was made. In all the counties which do not yet have county library service, the State Library Board loaned books to communities, to small libraries, and made many loans to individuals. The services of the State Library Board were available to any resident or any group in the state through direct service or interlibrary loan. The professional staff of the State Library Board were on constant call to libraries needing advice and assistance and to groups working to establish or organize libraries.

The 1947-48 appropriation of $50,765 was spent entirely for the encouragement and development of public library service in the state. $39,881 was returned directly to the counties as State Aid to county libraries or as books for loans to individuals or communities without countywide library service. 14,729 books were added to the collection of the State Board during the year, bringing the total number purchased with State appropriated funds to 30,726.

STATE AID

State Aid to county libraries has been fundamental in the development of public libraries in South Carolina. In 1943 when the State Library Board began to function as the State library extension agency, the program of State grants in aid to county libraries was instituted as a major part of the program for library extension. State Aid to County Libraries and the Regional Library Establishment Grants have been the deciding factor in the establishment of the new county and regional libraries and in the extension of library service to 175,813 South Carolinians who did not have access to public libraries before 1943. In 1943 State Aid was only $200, but it encouraged many libraries to remain open after the W. P. A. library program had been discontinued. Since 1943 State Aid has not only afforded encouragement and help to existing libraries, but it has been basic to the establishment of new county and regional libraries. After five years of State Aid, thirty-six South Carolina counties have complete rural library service. Through the Regional Establishment Grants the State Library Board is encouraging the establishment of library systems with area and support adequate to insure efficient and economical library service for the people of the area. For the small county with low property valuation and scattered population, the regional combination of two or more counties is the best solution for good library service. Two regional libraries have been established which serve a total of five counties. Six counties among the ten still without county-wide library service are engaged in active campaigns to establish regional or county-wide library service. This year, State Aid to County libraries was $500 per county. A cash allotment of $500 went directly to those county libraries which were well established and in charge of a professionally trained librarian. The smaller county libraries in charge of non-professional personnel received the same amount ($500) in books and as an additional service, the State Library Board purchased, processed and delivered the books completely ready for circulation to the library. This additional technical and professional service is greatly needed by the smaller libraries and is much appreciated.

COMMUNITY BOOK DEPOSITS

The Community Book Deposit Service of the State Library Board is designed to supply State institutions without adequate libraries and communities in counties without countywide library service with books and reading material. Any community in the ten counties still without countywide library service and any state institution which will provide housing and arrange for the care and circulation of the books, may borrow from the State Library Board deposits of from one to two hundred books. All books are carefully chosen to fit the needs of the community or institution. Books are provided for both children and adults. Book deposits are delivered and changed for fresh collections every three months by a librarian from the staff of the State Library Board. Communities taking advantage of this service:

Bamberg County—Bamberg.
Barnwell County—Williston.
Chesterfield County—Chesterfield, Cheraw, McBee.
Clarendon County—Manning, New Zion, Paxville, Sardinia, Summerton.
Dorchester County—Harleyville, St. George, Summerville.
Edgefield County—Edgefield and Johnston.
Lee County—Bishopville.
Williamsburg County—Kingstree.

State Institutions using this service:

State Hospital
State Penitentiary
Area Trade School
Opportunity School
Industrial School for Boys

Summer Orthopedic Camp for Children
Crippled Children's Convalescent Home
State Training School

LOANS TO INDIVIDUALS

Loans of books are made constantly to individuals in the ten counties still without countywide library service. These loans are made by mail and may consist of one book especially requested by an individual or a large collection of books for the enjoyment of a big family. The only expense to the borrowers is return postage.
THE BOOK DEPOSIT SERVICE—Youngsters in the summer orthopedic camps operated by the State Board of Health enjoy books from the large book deposit on loan from the State Library Board.

INTERLIBRARY LOANS

By maintaining an active interlibrary loan service, the State Library Board effects a great saving for all public libraries and enables even the smallest library to fill requests for material on almost any subject requested. Serving as a clearing house for interlibrary loan, the State Library Board arranges and makes loans of books to fill special needs and requests from all public libraries in the state. Any book on any subject in any public library in South Carolina may be borrowed through the State Library Board to fill a request of another library in the state. This service is of mutual benefit to all libraries and results in efficient service at low cost. No library can afford to maintain a collection large enough to supply all the special requests of the readers, but every library can fill special requests through the interlibrary loan service of the State Library Board.

INFORMATION AND ADVISORY SERVICES

To Existing Libraries

Although the number of trained professional librarians employed in the county libraries of the state has doubled in the past two years, the smaller county libraries are not yet able to employ professional librarians or to purchase the expensive books and periodicals which evaluate books. These libraries depend entirely upon the trained staff of the State Library Board for guidance and assistance. For these and for all other public libraries in the state, the State Library Board serves as a source of information on all phases of library procedure and practice. For the smaller libraries, lists of books for purchase are prepared to ensure the libraries getting the best books at the least cost. Firms which allow the best discounts to libraries are suggested by the State Board. Assistance in reorganizing book collections and entire libraries, advice on new and better processes, and direction in the general improvement of library services, are all functions of the State Library Board. The State Library Board is constantly consulted by local library boards. Assistance is requested on budget making, book purchases, employing librarians, reorganization of the library, and staff regulations and procedures. A request often made this year has been for advice on library building and bookmobile plans. Fourteen buildings are now being built or renovated. The State Library Board has worked closely with those boards requesting assistance on new buildings and bookmobiles. The staff of the State Board has been on constant call to the new libraries being organized in Oconee, Berkeley, Saluda, Horry and Lexington counties.

To Counties Interested in Library Establishment

Individuals and organizations in counties still without countywide library service consult the State Board on ways and means to procure this service. Information and help in organizing library service is always available to them. During the past year such advisory service was given in Oconee, Lexington, Saluda, Berkeley and Horry counties. All of these counties have now established countywide library service. At present the State Library Board is working with the counties of Bamberg, Barnwell, Dorchester, Edgefield, Lee and McCormick in the expectation that library service will soon be established in these counties. Every assistance is given from visits and talks before clubs and organizations to various types of printed materials.

LIBRARY BUILDING PROGRAM

Activities in the library building program in South Carolina include the recent completion of two libraries, the planned erection of three libraries, and the renovation of the headquarters of two county libraries and one regional library.

The Pickens County Library, which has its headquarters in Easley, has moved into a new building, constructed at an estimated cost of $34,000. This library is a one-story brick structure of Doric architecture. The floor plan includes a foyer, adult and children's reading rooms, a club room, an office, and space for book stacks. A loading platform at the rear of the building facilitates the transfer of books to and from the bookmobile.

A building in Batesburg has been completely remodeled and renovated and now serves as headquarters for the new Lexington County Library. Windows and doors were cut in the building, wall partitions removed or adjusted, a new floor was laid, the interior walls and ceilings were covered and painted, book shelves were constructed, and an attractive front entrance built. The new library has a large reading room for adults, a small room for children, a store room and a work room for the staff. Skillfully planned changes and decorations have converted this building into an attractive and functional community library building. Cost of conversion was about $4000.

The City Council of Myrtle Beach has approved a proposal by the Chapin Foundation to grant a sum of $40,000 for the purpose of erecting a library building. It will be built on the southern end of the site of Myrtle Beach Memorial Park. An additional appropriation of $2,000 was approved for landscaping purposes. The new library includes reading rooms for adults and children, an office, a terrace, a lounge, and a club room. The plans provide for additional assembly and stack rooms.

Charleston County Free Library has opened two branches in new buildings in Mt. Pleasant and in North Charleston.

A new library building will be erected in Whitmire. This library, which is a branch of the Newberry-Saluda Regional Library, will cost an estimated $40,000. The building site for the library and part of the funds for its construction were donated by the mill in Whitmire.

The Lee County legislative delegation and members of the Lee County Library Association have laid plans for the construction of a building to house the County Library. The new library will be constructed of brick and will cost from $10,000 to $15,000. Plans for the building are complete and construction will begin as soon as possible.

The Greenville Public Library, which serves Greenville city and county, has recently undergone extensive renovation. The complete interior of the main floor has been painted and minor repairs made.

The headquarters of the Orangeburg County Library, located in Orangeburg, have been enlarged and modernized. A twenty by thirty foot annex has been added to the rear of the library. This annex houses a work-room, a conference room, and an office. The additional space made room for the construction of a reading room in the central part of the building. These improvements were made possible through a $5,000 appropriation by the county legislative delegation. Construction was done by the veterans' carpentry class of Wilkinson high school.

Headquarters of the Newberry-Saluda Regional Library, located in the old Court House in Newberry, are now being renovated. New heating, wiring, and lighting systems are being installed. The interior of the building is being painted and additional space will be given to the library.

The new library buildings being constructed in Conway and Kershaw are rapidly nearing completion.
THE NEWBERRY-SALUDA REGIONAL LIBRARY BOOKMOBILE—This bookmobile carrying 1600 books visits schools and communities in Newberry and Saluda Counties.

OCONEE COUNTY BOOKMOBILE—This bookmobile planned for use in hilly country is bringing books and reading materials to the entire county.
NEW BOOKMOBILES

South Carolina now has the second highest number of bookmobiles in operation in the nation. South Carolina county and regional libraries are taking a lead in the design and operation of bookmobiles. Five different styles in new bookmobiles are now serving in as many different counties in South Carolina.

The Oconee County Library, which serves a rural population and must travel mountain roads to reach its patrons, chose a one-half ton Chevrolet chassis on which to build a bookmobile body. This body has outside and inside shelving. It carries 800 books on its shelves. A unique feature of the body is that the inside shelves are built only in the front half, leaving the rear section for storage space. The body is of all-steel construction.

Darlington County Library has a bookmobile mounted on a three-quarter ton Ford chassis. It has outside shelves with glass paneled sides. The bookmobile carries 800 books.

The Newberry-Saluda Regional Library bookmobile is mounted on a three-quarter ton Ford chassis. The body, which is all-steel and has inside and outside shelves, carries 1,600 books.

DARLINGTON COUNTY BOOKMOBILE—Carries 800 books and serves 24 communities and 26 schools in Darlington County.
CHESTER COUNTY BOOKMOBILE—A bookmobile which is a real "travelling library" with all inside bookshelving.

The Richland County Library purchased a one-ton flat face cowl Dodge chassis on which a steel body was built. This bookmobile has inside and outside shelves. The outside shelves have glass panels. The total book capacity is 1,800 books.

The Chester County Library has a new bookmobile built on a one and one-half ton International chassis. All the shelving is inside. This bookmobile carries 1,800 books on its shelves.

The Federal Relations Committee of the South Carolina Library Association, in cooperation with the Federal Relations Office of the American Library Association, has worked for three years on local support for national legislative measures affecting libraries. The state committee was organized to develop citizen and library support for the program of the National Relations Office.

Public Library Demonstration Bill

The first and major objective of the Federal Relations Committee is to secure support for the Library Demonstration Bill (HR 874; S 130), which provides:

1. $40,000 per year for five years outright grant to each state for rural library demonstration.

2. $40,000 to $100,000 per year for five years in addition if the state legislature appropriates funds for state aid to match increased federal allotments.

3. No danger of federal control. All decisions as to policy and plans using funds are decided within the state.

Progress of the Bill

The Library Demonstration Bill has been before two Congresses with increasing progress. In the 79th Congress the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare reported the bill favorably, and hearings were held in the House. In the 80th Congress, the bill was passed unanimously by the Senate and reported favorably by the House Subcommittee on Education, before which hearings were held in the Special Session of Congress, December, 1947. For final passage last year, the bill lacked only to be reported by the full committee on Education and Labor and voted on in the House.

The support already gained for the Library Demonstration Bill will greatly favor its passage in the 81st Congress.
Sixty-Seventh Annual Conference

The sixty-seventh annual conference of the American Library Association was held in Atlantic City, New Jersey, June 13-19. The theme of the conference was “The Challenge of Public Affairs”. Over 4,000 librarians, authors, publishers and educators attended the conference.

A large group of South Carolina public, college and school librarians attended the conference, including the Executive Secretary of the State Library Board and the State Librarian.

LIBRARY TRUSTEES

Library Trustees of South Carolina held a breakfast meeting at the annual convention of the South Carolina Library Association at Myrtle Beach. Miss Mary E. Frayser presided over a round table discussion of the role of the trustee in library development. About twenty-five trustees were present.

The trustees expressed a desire to become a section of the South Carolina Library Association and were welcomed by the membership of the association.

SURVEYS

Southeastern State Library Survey

The comprehensive survey of libraries in the nine Southeastern states undertaken by the Tennessee Valley Library Council and financed by the Tennessee Valley Authority is nearing completion. The reports from the South Carolina Committee were completed and sent in in January. A complete report of the survey is expected by 1949.

South Carolina Citizens Committee on Children and Youth: Survey of the Needs of Children and Youth

Since the public library is an important element in the community’s program of worthwhile activities for children and youth, library facilities in thirty-six South Carolina counties are being studied as a part of a general statewide survey of the needs of children and youth. Local committees of citizens are engaged in the study. It is expected that the findings of the survey committees will result in cooperative planning on the part of all organizations serving the needs of children and will implement their work by providing a better informed group of citizens.

LIBRARY PROGRESS DURING THE YEAR

South Carolina has made great progress during the year in establishing new libraries and in improving existing libraries.

The number of trained professional librarians in South Carolina public libraries has been doubled.

Four new library buildings have been completed.

The 1948 General Assembly passed Bills creating the Lexington County Library and the Oconee County Library.

The Newberry-Saluda Regional Library was established.

New and modern bookmobiles were ordered by twelve county libraries.

RECOMMENDATIONS

In view of the pressing social and economic problems of today, the library needs of South Carolina should be re-examined and investigated in order to learn how these problems may best be met on the State and local level. Library needs common to the entire Southeast and to South Carolina are:

1. Assurance of effective library service to all of the public. This involves improvement of present services and extension of libraries to all parts of the state.

2. Inauguration of school library services in schools and school systems now without them and the bringing of all school libraries up to accepted standards.

3. Library service to state and local institutions such as hospitals, orphanages, homes for the aged and destitute, and penal institutions.

4. Specialized services to the principle branches of state governments, as the administrative, legislative and judicial.

5. Renewed attention to the historical documents of the state, including those of local and state government.

6. Legislation to permit the establishment and maintenance of the kind and quality of library service best suited to the needs of the state.
7. State library agency organized, financed and staffed to meet known needs effectively.

8. Appropriations on both state and local levels large enough to assure adequate support for the library programs undertaken.

9. Personnel sufficient in number and in training to carry out library programs put into effect.

10. Cooperative arrangements, both intrastate and interstate, to assure maximum library development in the state and in the region.

11. Lay and professional interest of such sureness of purpose, of such intensity of zeal and of such clearness of direction as to accomplish agreed upon library goals.

STANDARDS FOR PUBLIC LIBRARIES*

"The essence of the many standards for public libraries may be compressed into three basic elements, all of which are necessary in a planned program of library development:

1. Complete public library coverage.
2. Library service of adequate quantity and dynamic quality.
3. Large units and cooperation in library service.

Registration

"Registration standards are affected by city size, age groups and the educational levels of adult population . . . The number of registered borrowers in public library units should meet the following minimum quantitative standards, based on a three-year registration period:

For adult borrowers: 20 to 40 percent of the population 15 years of age and over.

For juvenile borrowers: 37 to 75 percent of the population from 5 through 14 years of age.

For both adult and juvenile borrowers the percent of the population registered will tend to rise as the population of the unit served decreases.

Number of Books

"The total book stock of a public library should be sufficient to insure at all times an adequate collection for consultation and home use. The number of volumes per capita in a public library should meet the minimum standards shown in the following table:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Population of Library Area</th>
<th>Volumes per Capita</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6,000-10,000</td>
<td>3.0 up to 25,000 volumes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10,000-35,000</td>
<td>2.5 up to 70,000 volumes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>35,000-100,000</td>
<td>2.0 up to 175,000 volumes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>100,000-200,000</td>
<td>1.75 up to 300,000 volumes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200,000-1,000,000</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over 1,000,000</td>
<td>1.0 volume</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Post-War Standards for Public Libraries, American Library Association, 1943.
"The minimum size of the book stock of any public library as an independent unit, should be 6,000 volumes regardless of the population served. A smaller collection cannot be expected to achieve the objectives here set forth.

Circulation of Books

"The circulation of books for home use in public library units should meet the following minimum quantitative standards:

For adult books: 3 to 10 volumes per capita for the population of 15 years of age and over.

For children's books: 10 to 30 volumes per capita for the population from 5 through 14 years of age.

For both adult and children's books the circulation per capita will tend to rise as the population of the unit served decreases.

Hours of Service

"At least 40 man hours of public service should be provided annually for each 100 persons in the total population served by a public library. Not more than 60 percent of this public service time should be devoted to circulation procedure."

LIBRARY INCOME

"The following minimum per capita standards of support are recommended for varying stages of development of library service in areas with 25,000 population and over:

For limited or minimum service ___________ $1.50 per capita
For reasonably good service _______________ 2.25 per capita
For superior service ________________________ 3.00 per capita

At $1.50 per capita, 65% of income used for salaries, exclusive of maintenance; 17.5% for books, periodicals and binding.*

Minimum Income—$25,000

In libraries serving areas where $25,000 cannot be raised under the permissible tax levy, consideration should be given to one of two alternatives: enlarge the area of service and support by formation of a library district; or contract for library service from a larger unit.
