10 Ways Businesses and Organizations Can Show a Teacher Support – Today!

- Send a simple thank you letter or note of support (or use ours).
- Send an inexpensive fruit basket, or enlist coworkers to help gather items for a fruit or gift basket. Be sure to send enough for every teacher in your school or enough for teachers to share.
- Celebrate National Education Week – Second week in November.
- Celebrate National Teachers Day – May 6.
- Display a banner or poster in your store (see ours).
- Offer teachers a special discount on merchandise or services during National Education Week or National Teachers Day.
- Write a letter to your local newspaper showing your support.
- Write a short “hero” article and submit to your local newspaper. Many newspapers have a special section devoted to education or teens. Using your company’s digital camera, take a picture of the teacher to submit along with the article.
- Sponsor a “community appreciation” night honoring teachers.
- Periodically send movie, concert, ballet tickets or special event passes to your local school for teachers. Teachers appreciate an “all-expenses-paid” night out with their families.
