We also attended the SCCPC Job Fair. Current attorneys were given increases in order to retain experience.  |
| 4TH CIRCUITChesterfield, Darlington, Dillon, Marlboro | 4  | 12  | 4  | 0   | 16   | To recruit attorneys, we have attended job fairs, posted the job openings on our website, promoted the job openings through online job sites (Zip Recruiter and Indeed), and we have reached out to nearby law schools to assist in recruiting.   |
| 5TH CIRCUITKershaw, Richland                          | 4  | 36  | 7  | 5   | 38   | Every ASOL received a salary increase of at least 5%. Minimum starting salaries increased by approximately 15%. Regular advertisements for ASOL jobs have been posted on the SC Bar Career Center Classified page, LinkedIn, and the SC Commission on Prosecution Coordination website. Office representatives attended four different job fairs to include one in Washington, DC.  |
| 6TH CIRCUITChester, Fairfield, Lancaster              | 4  | 15  | 5  | 1   | 19   | For the most part, our efforts to retain current talent have been fruitful. With help from local governments, we've been able to maintain our current career ladder and offer other benefits unique to our circuit. Although we've hired several new attorneys, recruiting remains difficult in this rural circuit. We've attended job fairs all over the Southeast and will continue to do so. We offer a benefits package that is unmatched by any other law office. We will continue aggressively recruiting in the upcoming months to try to fill all open vacancies. |
| 7TH CIRCUITCherokee, Spartanburg                      | 4  | 25  | 7  | 2   | 30   | We continue our practice as outlined last year and it has allowed us to retain our prosecutors. We look to have seven (7) attorneys starting with us in August.   |

We increased the starting salaries and our salary ranges are now much more competitive. Our most experienced people, who also handle the largest caseloads and most critical cases, are much less likely to be lured away by private firms and other government agencies. * We developed a recruitment strategy focusing on younger attorneys that can be trained by experienced attorneys to take lower end of the docket cases. This helps to lower prosecutor caseloads and move cases more efficiently. * We have conducted on campus interviews at USC Law School, which resulted in two new hire commitments. We also participated in job fairs hosted by the NDAA in Washington, D.C., the SCCPC and USC Law School in Columbia, and the Southeast Prosecutor job fair in Nashville. We have several pending job offers out to prospective hires. * Solicitor Stumbo judged a Moot Court competition at USC, and made a job offer to a 3L student, who will be joining our circuit in 2025. * We are also using social media more extensively to advertise prosecutor positions and actively reaching out to law clerks and law students. * We made a recruitment video called "Why the 8th Circuit?" that highlights our counties and what each area has to offer. |

Two are now Assistant Solicitors and one left our office to move to Horry County in April 2024. We have made offers to 2 current law school graduates who will join our office in August as interns and will become Assistant Solicitors after successful passage of the Bar. We also will be making an offer to another attorney in late July. This attorney has passed the bar, and we anticipate that he will accept our offer as Assistant Solicitor sometime in mid-August. We have re-doubled our recruitment efforts and are continuing our commitment to retention of existing attorneys. Not only are we posting vacancies with our county human resources, we post vacancies in many other locations. We have purchased marketing items to boost our in-person recruitment at state and regional recruitment fairs (including NDAA). In an effort to retain our current employees, we have expended funding allocated in the proviso to increase compensation among our experienced attorneys so that it is commensurate with like positions in similar offices. New attorneys are trained under a Senior Solicitor to mentor and advise on our office's procedures and case management process. We continue to collaborate with the Circuit Defender to triage jail cases to quickly dispose of those defendants' cases which are not complex. We also triage non-jail cases to identify cases for diversions or plea. The net result of this effort has been that we moved over 500 more cases than were filed this year and our pending case inventory is approximately where it was pre-Covid. Where we still have work to do is in the reduction of our pending trial caseload, but we are making progress there as well with a steady improvement of our pending cases over 365 days percentage. |
