

Mackay, David, comp. A flock of words; an anthology of poetry for children and others. Collected, introduced, and annotated by the author. Preface by Benjamin DeMott. Drawings by Margery Gill. Harcourt, $5.95. Extraordinary unity and impact in a collection—wide-ranging in subject, time, and place—uniquely arranged in clusters linked by themes and subthemes. $5.57 net

McNeill, Janet. The other people. Little, $4.50. Set in an English seaside resort, this story of a teenage girl is distinctive for its suspense, elegance of style, and remarkably subtle characterizations. $4.55 net

Mayne, William. Ravensgill. Dutton, $4.25. A half-century-old murder mystery and a family feud are both resolved in a tale—full of local atmosphere and unforgettable characters—of two Yorkshire farm families. $4.38 net

Monjo, F. N. The drinking gourd. Pictures by Fred Brenner. Harper, $2.50. A mischievous mid-century New England boy helps a Negro family to escape on the Underground Railroad in an excellent, well-illustrated I Can Read history book. $3.15 net

O'Dell, Scott. Sing down the moon. Houghton, $3.75. A young Navaho girl tells the proud, dignified story of the tragic degradation of a great people in their forced march to Fort Sumner in 1864. $4.17 net

Peyton, K. M. Flambards in summer. Illus. by Victor G. Ambrus. World, $4.95. Bringing to a close the trilogy about the Russell family, the mature, substantial novel is as filled with incisive characterizations and intense human relationships as its predecessors. $4.87 net

Robinson, Joan G. Charley. Illus. by Prudence Seward. Coward, $4.95. An unsentimental, convincing story of an artistic, imaginative, but "difficult" girl who discovers that running away, though exciting, can be a desolate and frightening experience. $4.73 net

Segal, Lore. Tell me a Mitzi. Pictures by Harriet Pincus. Farrar, $4.95. Flat, comic-strip colors and deliberately homely, lumpish faces add earthy humor to the illustrations for three funny, unromanticized stories of urban Jewish family life. $4.96 net

Sendak, Maurice. In the night kitchen. Harper, $4.95. In an extraordinary picture book, a little boy's dream fantasy is set luminously against a transformed, darkened city, looking like the flat backdrop on an old vaudeville stage.

$4.87 net

Sleator, William. The angry moon, retold. With pictures by Blair Lent. Little, $4.95. Full-color paintings, executed with careful research and creative invention, heighten the dramatic quality of a Tlingit Indian legend. $4.87 net

Sutcliff, Rosemary. The witch's brat. Illus. by Richard Levenson. Walck, $4.95. A crippled orphan boy, having learned the skills of healing from his grandmother, leaves his monastery home in the twelfth century to help found St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London. $4.87 net

Townsend, John Rowe. The intruder. Lippincott, $4.50. A sixteen-year-old boy and his native environment on the west coast of England are inextricably bound together in a compellingly real story of suspense. $4.33 net

Vasilisa the beautiful. Tr. from the Russian by Thomas P. Whitney. Illus. by Nonny Hogrogian. Macmillan, $4.95. Lovely full-color pictures on lightly textured paper illustrate a fine new translation of the familiar Russian Cinderella tale. $4.96 net

Waber, Bernard. A firefly named Torchy. Houghton, $4.95. Explosive colors splashed on alternately light and dark backgrounds give strong visual impact to a story of a firefly whose glow was too bright. $4.96 net

Walsh, Jill Paton. Fireweed. Farrar, $3.95. Against a background of London during the 1940 blitz, two homeless teenagers meet and develop a poignant relationship in a haunting story made more powerful by the controlled intensity of the writing. $4.17 net

White, E. B. The trumpet of the swan. Pictures by Edward Francino. Harper, $4.50. A voiceless trumpeter swan learns to read, write, and play the trumpet to woo his love in an engaging fantasy that ranges the continent from Central Canada to Boston. $4.55 net

Wildsmith, Brian. Brian Wildsmith's circus. Watts, $4.95. Strikingly brilliant water colors evoke an imaginary circus in an almost wordless picture book. $4.96 net

NOTABLE CHILDREN'S BOOKS 1970

Selected by the Book Evaluation Committee of the Children's Services Division of the American Library Association.

This Bulletin Published April 1, 1971

All 47 Titles Listed Are in Stock, Sapsis Prebound in "Treasure Trove."

The Prices Shown as Net — Are Our Prices Net in Prebound Editions, for Long and Useful Wear.

Order from:
PERC B. SAPSIS CO.
1795 Del Monte Blvd.
Seaside, California 93955

Adoff, Arnold, comp. Black out loud; an anthology of modern poems by Black Americans. Drawings by Alvin Hollingsworth. Macmillan, $4.95. A proud, candid, and vigorous collection representing the work of many young, unknown poets as well as of mature, recognized writers.

$4.96 net

Adoff, Arnold. Malcolm X. Illus. by John Wilson. Crowell, $3.75. For younger children, an introduction to the life of a black man who rose from poverty and crime to become a forceful, inspiring leader. $4.07 net

Alexander, Lloyd. The marvelous misadventures of Sebastian; grand extravaganza, including a performance by the entire cast of the Gallimaufry-Theatricus. Dutton, $5.95. An eighteenth-century court musician becomes the possessor of a magic violin in a fast-paced, comic, picaresque fantasy. $5.61 net

Anno, Mitsumasa. Topsy-turvies; pictures to stretch the imagination. Walker/Weatherhill, $3.50. Tiny elves, defying the laws of both gravity and perspective, tumble about the bright pages of a picture book without words, full of delightful visual tricks and puzzles. $3.98 net

Babbitt, Natalie. Kneeknock rise. Pictures by the author. Farrar, $3.95. How people cherish their foolish illusions is shown in a gently satirical fable, told with freshness and artless clarity. $4.17 net

Bertol, Roland. Sundiata; the epic of the lion king, retold. Illus. by Gregorio Prestopino. Crowell, $3.95. In an important addition to African literature for children, the triumphant legend of Sundiata, ruler of old Mali, is told in graceful, cadenced prose. $4.17 net

Brenner, Barbara. A snake-lover's diary. Illus. with photos. Scott, $4.25. Humorously written in the form of a boy's enthusiastic journal, the book presents a wealth of information for young herpetologists. $4.38 net

Burton, Hester. Beyond the weir bridge. Illus. by Victor G. Ambrus. Crowell, $4.50. A thought-provoking, distinguished historical story of unshakable faith and political commitment—as well as of romantic love—featuring three people in the strife-ridden period of England's Civil War. $4.55 net

Byars, Betsy. The summer of the swans. Illus. by Ted CoConis. Viking, $3.95. A fourteen-year-old girl and her brain-damaged younger brother are the chief characters in a subtly told story dealing with the problems of the pain of adolescence and the tragedy of retardation.

$4.17 net

Coolidge, Olivia. Come by here. Illus. by Milton Johnson. Houghton, $4.25. Superb characterization and a penetrating analysis of human situations distinguish the story of a tragically orphaned black child and her struggle for survival in the early years of the century. $4.38 net

Cooper, Susan. Dawn of fear. Illus. by Margery Gill. Harcourt, $4.95. In an uncommon war story, an English schoolboy is shattered by tragedy and a sudden awareness of adult hatred, violence, and fear. $4.87 net

Dejong, Meindert. A horse came running. Illus. by Paul Sagsoorian. Macmillan, $4.95. Deeply felt experiences, rather than mere incidents, mark the story of a boy trying to cope with the devastation brought by a tornado to his parents, animals, and neighbors. $4.87 net

Dillion, Eilis. A herd of deer. Illus. by Richard Kennedy. Funk, $4.95. Story of a teenage boy and his adventures in tracking down a missing herd of deer, told with humor and a strong flavor of Irish village and countryside.

$4.87 net

Emrich, Duncan, comp. The nonsense book of riddles, rhymes, tongue twisters, puzzles and jokes from American folklore. Illus. by Ib Ohlsson. Four Winds, $6.50. An unusually attractive, extensive collection, delightfully illustrated, with impressive notes and bibliography.

$5.96 net

Engdahl, Sylvia Louise. Enchantress from the stars. Drawings by Rodney Shackell. Atheneum, $5.95. Three worlds at different levels of development represented in a rich work of science fiction that suggests some interesting philosophical questions for thoughtful young readers.

$5.61 net

Foster, Laura Louise. Keeping the plants you pick. Illus. by the author. Crowell, $4.95. An elegant, meticulously illustrated book describing various methods of preserving plants and flowers, along with suggestions for fashioning them into gift items and decorative arrangements.

$4.90 net

Fuchs, Erich. Journey to the moon. Delacorte, $4.50. Following a chronological summary of the Apollo 11 mission, a series of beautiful water color paintings conveys some of the wonder and excitement of the incredible achievement. $4.73 net

Goble, Paul and Goble, Dorothy. Red Hawk's account of Custer's last battle; the Battle of Little Bighorn 25 June 1876. Pantheon, $4.50. A unique, handsome book in which a narrative of the famous battle, as witnessed by a fictitious Indian boy, shares the storytelling with brilliant, stylized pictures. $4.68 net

Gorodetzky, Charles W. and Christian, Samuel T. What you should know about drugs. Harcourt, $4.95. Color photographs illustrate a simple, clear, and forthright discussion of the characteristics and abuse of drugs, written by two specialists at the National Institute of Mental Health Addiction Research Center. $4.87 net

Grimm, Brothers. King Thrushbeard. With pictures by Felix Hoffmann. Harcourt, $4.50. Handsome illustrations emphasizing pattern and design extend a folktale with a familiar theme—the humbling of a haughty princess.

$4.55 net

Haley, Gail E. A story, a story, an African tale retold and illus. by the author. Atheneum, $5.95. Brilliant colored woodcuts illustrate a splendid Ananse tale from Africa.

$5.71 net

Harris, Rosemary. The moon in the cloud. Macmillan, $4.95. An imaginative, suspenseful novel based upon the story of Noah and notable for its memorable characters and sparkling blend of comedy and fantasy. $4.90 net

Hodges, C. Walter. The overland launch. Illus. by the author. Coward, $3.95. A vivid recreation of one wildly stormy night on the Devonshire coast in 1899 when a lifeboat was hauled thirteen miles by land to be launched for a rescue at sea. $4.17 net

Johnson, James Weldon and Johnson, J. Rosamond. Lift every voice and sing; words and music. Illus. by Mozelle Thompson. Historical introduction by Mrs. Augusta Baker. Simple piano arrangement with guitar chords by Charity Bailey. Hawthorn, $3.95. Known to many as the Negro national anthem, the song is accompanied by stark, dignified charcoal drawings. $4.26 net

Kadesch, Robert R. Math menagerie. Drawings by Mark A. Binn. Illus. with photos. Harper, $4.50. Twenty-five ingenious mathematical experiments—clearly described and illustrated—utilizing inexpensive, readily available materials. $4.55 net

Kraus, Robert. Whose mouse are you? Pictures by José Aruego. Macmillan, $4.95. Bright red and yellow contrast happily with mouse gray in pictures for a brief text that has the satisfying simplicity of a nursery rhyme.

$4.94 net

Langstaff, Nancy and Langstaff, John, comps. Jim along, Jossie; a collection of folk songs and singing games for young children. Piano arrangements by Seymour Barab. Guitar chords by Happy Traum. Optional percussion accompaniments for children. Illus. by Jan Pienkowski. Harcourt, $5.50. A generous gathering, particularly suitable as an introduction to both music and poetry.

$5.36 net

Lionni, Leo. Fish is fish. Pantheon, $3.95. Wonderfully imaginative pictures, alive with color and movement, glorify a brief text with a familiar moral. $4.33 net

Lobel, Arnold. Frog and Toad are friends. Harper, $2.50. In a fresh, wholly delightful addition to the I Can Read series, the humorous adventures of the two animals are told in enchantingly simple words and pictures. $3.15 net

Macbeth, George. Jonah and the Lord. Pictures by Margaret Gordon. Holt, $3.95. Lively verses and vividly colored, stylized illustrations lend a humorous spirit to a picture book version of the Biblical fish story. $4.26 net