Tobacco Report

South Carolina Department of Agriculture

G. Bryan Patrick, Jr., Commissioner

In Memoriam

William L. Harrelson, long-time friend of the South Carolina tobacco industry and the sixth commissioner of the South Carolina Department of Agriculture since its 1904 reorganization, died Oct. 9, 1976, at his Mullins home following a long illness. Along with being a spokesman for the industry, he was a tobacco grower himself. He had served as Commissioner of Agriculture since being appointed to the remaining two years of the term of J. Roy Jones in January of 1956. He had been reelected to full four-year terms since November of 1958.

G. Bryan Patrick, Jr., a farmer-businessman from Bowman in Orangeburg County, was appointed Nov. 1, 1976, by Governor James B. Edwards, to fill the unexpired two-year term of Harrelson.

1976 Season: Record Average & Orderly Sales

Record average prices and orderly marketing combined to make the 1976 South Carolina flue cured tobacco season one of the most enjoyable in recent years.

"Prices were higher than projected," declared Bob Martin, tobacco specialist with the South Carolina Department of Agriculture. "Things moved very smoothly in the warehouses and we finished the selling season three weeks earlier than in 1975."

Producer sales on South Carolina markets for the season in the 41 warehouses on 11 markets amounted to 146,154,824 pounds for $163,895,718.20. The average price per hundred pounds of $112.14 is the highest ever recorded on the market for a season.

The previous average price record was the $103.96 per hundred pounds of the 1974 season while the highest producer cash sales on record was the $175,654,832.50 of the 1975 season.

South Carolina producers for their share of sales for the season accounted for 139,920,274 pounds for $156,944,688.85 with an average per hundred of $112.17. South Carolina producers sold 95.7 percent of all tobacco on state markets.

The Federal-State Market News indicated quality was better than in 1975. "A six percent increase in good grades occurred with a similar drop in low quality," stated the Market News Service. "More leaf tobacco was sold with less lugs. For the season, 18 percent of sales graded good, 52 percent fair and 20 percent low quality."

A top average of $130 per hundred was paid for choice orange leaf, according to the Market News Service, with most grades two dollars to 11 dollars above support levels.

If the 1976 selling season had a sore spot, it was the excessive quantity of certain low stalk grades of tobacco which went into the member-grower Stabilization Corporation. "We had 37.3 million pounds or 13.6 percent of gross sales to do this in 1976," said Martin, "to go along with the 56.6 million pounds and 16.8 percent of sales from 1975."

Cold, Dry Weather Hurt Crop Early

Cold weather and an April dry spell got the 1976 crop off to a slow start. During the early to mid-April transplanting period, farmers were jolted by cold weather damage to their tender plants. On top of this, the month was one of the driest on record.

Luckily, the hardy crop was not damaged too much.

A late April, early May drought-breaking rain perked up the crop despite some accompanying wind and hail damage in Horry County, the state's largest tobacco area.

On the eve of the July 13 opening day, weather conditions again were a factor. Excessive rainfall kept farmers from cropping bottom leaves and a return to sunny weather brought fear of too much sun burning sand lugs and flopping acreage across the entire growing belt in South Carolina.

The rainfall also caused some of the maturing tobacco to turn green again.

Opening day sales brought higher average prices than 1975 to the delight of all concerned. However, both price and volume were down for the second day of sales.

Week by Week Breakdown

For the first week, 41 warehouses on 11 markets reported sales to the South Carolina Department of Agriculture for producers of 10,690,697 pounds for $9,620,558.66 with an average per hundred pounds of $89.99.

Second week activity went to 13,417,464 producer pounds sold for $13,005,098.62 with an average per hundred of $96.03.

The third week showed 17,594,818 producer pounds sold for $18,281,436.62 with the weekly average hitting $103.90 per hundred pounds.

Fourth week figures showed 10,994,930 producer pounds bringing $12,031,383.83 with an average per hundred of $109.43. This excellent showing lifted the season's average to $100.46.

The end of July marked the revival of the tobacco festival in South Carolina with Lake City hosting a three-day event, patterned after festivals which once drew thousands to Timmonsville, Mullins and Lake City. Later tobacco salutes were held at Kingtree, Loris and Pamplico during the '76 season.

Fifth week sales rose to 10,173,759 producer pounds for $11,542,-107.19 with an average per hundred of $113.45.

Sixth week totals dipped to 9,708,212 producer pounds for $11,-352,852.32 with the average showing a sizzling $116.94 per hundred pounds.

The seventh week figures showed 9,473,075 producer pounds bringing $11,155,598.06 with an average per hundred of $117.76.

For the eighth week, 8,994,440 producer pounds resulted in cash receipts of $10,778,611.53 with an average per hundred of $119.84.

The magical $120 plus average per hundred pounds was reached for the ninth week of sales with 6,746,896 producer pounds bring $8,206,770.44 with an average of $121.64.

Only a slight drop was noted for the 10th week with producer sales of 10,619,926 pounds worth $12,865,726.89 with an average per hundred of $121.16.

Another high weekly average was recorded for the 11th week with 10,567,116 producer pounds for sales of $12,917,027.50 with a whopping $122.24 average per hundred pounds.

This weekly average slumped just pennies in the 12th week when 10,798,915 producer pounds resulted in sales of $13,181,613.32 for a $122.06 average.

Week 13 was unlucky of sorts with the average slumping to $115.86 per hundred pounds on 11,290,690 producer pound sales for $13,081,141.65.

This slide continued into the 14th and final week with 5,084,786 producer pounds being sold for $5,875,791.57 with an average per hundred of $115.56.

There Were Some Legal Battles

As in past years, the tobacco marketing season was not without its share of legal battles with a U. S. District Judge refusing to issue an injunction to block the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture from pulling nine of 21 sets of buyers off South Carolina auction markets.

A 12 percent reduction in flue cured tobacco marketing quotas for the 1977 marketing season was announced in late November, 1976, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Overall, the 1976 flue cured season for South Carolina was one of the best in history and certainly, the smoothest flowing in recent years with few farmer complaints.

Take some 300 pounds of tobacco, add an estimated 200-man hours of work and you get a Liberty Bell replica like the one pictured on the front cover of the 1976 South Carolina Tobacco Report.

The three-foot high bell was a feature attraction of the exhibit hall at the October 1976 State Fair in Columbia. Constructed by personnel of the art department of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, the bell was donated to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., by the firm.

Showing every detail of the authentic Liberty Bell, the tobacco replica symbolizes the importance of the crop in the history of the entire nation. Tobacco was one of the first export crops grown in this country.

Today tobacco is both the leading cash crop in South Carolina and the number one agricultural export commodity for the state.
