Tobacco Continued No. 1

Tobacco continued to be the mainstay of South Carolina's agricultural economy in 1982 when many other key crops were troubled by low prices vs. high production costs.

True, tobacco farmers in South Carolina faced still another year of increased production expenses in '82, but they fared much better in the market place than other crops.

Producer sales on South Carolina's markets in '82 amounted to 115,927,611 pounds bringing $204,695,354.75 for an average price per 100 pounds of $176.57

Pounds were down from the 138,971,244 sold in 1981 and cash receipts were off from the $229,185,803.95 of the same crop. But the average price established a new record against the $164.91 of last year.

Opening day on July 26 saw heavy volume, increased amounts of tobacco going to Stabilization and improved quality.

South Carolina markets for the first four sales days showed an average price per 100 pounds of $152.13 compared to $150.65 in 1981. The lone sour note was the 36 percent of gross sales received by the Flue-Cured Stabilization Corporation.

With improved quality of offerings and higher grade averages, second week sales climbed an average of almost $19 dollars. This improvement continued for the third week also with more and more upper stalk tobacco showing up on the warehouse floors.

The fourth week saw a new weekly high average of $184.73 set for South Carolina with Stabilization deliveries dropping to 15 percent of gross sales for the week.

Record prices were recorded again in the fifth week with an average of $189.57 per 100 pounds. Stabilization receipts were lower, 11 percent, too, for the week with upper stalk tobacco dominating sales.

A slight drop of about three dollars per 100 pounds was noted for the sixth week and an even worse dip took place for the seventh week. The downward trend continued into the eighth week, but held firm for the ninth week. Tenth week sales figures were still on a declining note with a drop reported in quality.

Markets began to wind down after the 11th week which also was lower in average price and higher in Stabilization Corporation receipts and in lower quality tobacco being offered. Sales wrapped up during the 12th week.

Total Sales Days Were Less

The markets opened July 26 and closed Oct. 14 with 46 sales days, seven less than in 1981. Flue-Cured Stabilization receipts for the season amounted to 26.4 percent of net sales against just five percent in 1981.

Duncan Morrison of the Federal-State Market News Service reported quality in '82 showed an improvement due to an increase in good and fair quality with a 15 percent drop in low, poor and nondescript tobacco. For the season, 70 percent was designated good or fair quality, 28 percent low, poor and nondescript.

"Tobacco was one of the few bright spots in South Carolina agriculture in 1982," said Mrs. Susan Hardwick. "It was the first year our tobacco farmers have been involved in the no-net-cost price support program of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. They paid three cents per pound and will go to seven cents per pound in 1983. This money is being used to assure that no tax money is needed to pay tobacco farmers for leaf not sold at auction warehouses, supporting the Stabilization Corporation."

It Was Wet Weather Crop

Mrs. Hardwick, tobacco specialist for the South Carolina Department of Agriculture, pointed to the crop as a wet weather one. "We had cold weather in the late winter and early spring," she said, "Which caused much of the early transplanted tobacco to be reset. Some tobacco growing areas experienced something like 28 inches of rain during the growing season which leached the nitrogen needed to give the body and needed chemistry to the cured leaf.

"It was not the type of quality crop our South Carolina producers were use to taking to market. Hail damage cut back on production in some key areas and the excess moisture hurt the total weight of the crop. Wet harvest time conditions made this expense greater to farmers as they had to use more hand labor than machines for their first two croppings."

Mrs. Hardwick noted the demand for the crop from buyers started off weak, but picked up when the better leaf got to market, "which helped make the season the kind it was price-wise."

In a manner of speaking, South Carolina tobacco growers gave a vote of confidence to their crop by approving through the 1985 auction season the federal price supports programs.

Once again during the '82 marketing season, the South Carolina Department of Agriculture through its Consumer Services Division maintained a close watch on weighing practices for the tobacco industry. Meters on fuel oil and L.P. gas trucks for the growing areas were calibrated for accuracy prior to the opening of the season and all scales on warehouse floors were checked.

Weighing practices of the leaf at all warehouses were monitored during the selling season.
