Section D: Processing of State Documents – Physical Items

I. General Information

When a physical state document is received by the State Library, a decision is made as to whether the document is to be cataloged. All publications sent to depository libraries have been cataloged. All documents in a depository shipment will be listed on the shipping list which accompanies the shipment.

II. The Shipping List for Physical Documents

A. Organization on the shipping list

1. The Shipping List is arranged by State Documents Classification number. Ephemera are listed by issuing agency, title, and OCLC number. Serials, including annuals, monthly and weekly publications, and periodic publications, are listed separately, as are documents not included in depository shipments.
2. The format of the shipping list is as follows:
  - a) Serials
  - b) Monographs
  - c) Ephemera (cataloging supplied, but libraries are not required to keep these items)

B. Sample shipping list

(see Appendix 2)

Shipping lists may also be found online in our Digital Collections:

<https://southc.dspace7.dspace-express.com/handle/10827/5405>

C. Checking in items on shipping list

1. The shipment should be checked against the shipping list for possible errors or omissions.
2. If a document has been omitted, please notify the State Library giving the specific title of the document and the date of the shipping list.
3. A decision should be made by the individual depository library as to the disposition of documents categorized as “ephemera”. Any document selected to be cataloged should be routed to the technical services or appropriate department for processing.
4. Items of limited distribution:

When the State Library determines that an issuing agency cannot supply sufficient copies of a document to meet depository requirements, the State Library will make a decision as to which depository library will receive the publication. Such decisions will be based on local interest in the topic covered by the particular document. The item will be crossed out in red on the shipping list denoting that the library will not receive the document. In all cases, the State Library will acquire copies for interlibrary loan.

5. Each document should be stamped with the depository library's state documents depository stamp. The stamp should include local ownership and date of receipt. The following is an example of a depository stamp:

6. Retention of shipping list:

Libraries may discard shipping lists at their own discretion after cataloged items have been added to the collection.

III. Cataloging and classifying state documents

A. General information

Refer to the shipping list for the OCLC number for cataloging and classification. The descriptive cataloging conforms to RDA which all depository libraries should use. The subject cataloging uses Library of Congress subject headings. The State Documents Classification number is given, although depository libraries may determine which classification system to use.

B. Cataloged documents

1. Libraries may use the OCLC number to retrieve bibliographical records on the OCLC database.
2. Those libraries using the state documents classification system will need to refer to the shipping list and input the state documents classification number in the 099 field of the OCLC record. If the 099 field is already used for another special classification, the library may have to request a change in the OCLC profile.

3. "Cataloging required" documents

- a) Monographs should be fully cataloged through OCLC and included in the public catalog.
- b) Serials, excluding periodicals
  - 1. Same as 3. a. Monographs
  - 2. Once the State Library has supplied cataloging data for a serial, no further cataloging will be sent on the shipping list. The shipping list will include the serial title and date of issue being sent which is to be used to update local library holdings records.
  - 3. When a serial has been cataloged, depository libraries may exercise local option in selecting a check-in procedure.
  - 4. For monographic serials, cataloging will be supplied.
- c) Periodicals – see 4b.

4. Supplementary materials to previously supplied items

- a) Supplements, revision pages and errata sheets, which are occasionally issued by state agencies, will be listed on the shipping list by state documents classification number and the title of the document which they supplement.
- b) Supplements should be marked and treated like the parent document.
- c) Revision pages and errata sheets require no processing and should be inserted in the base volumes promptly.

IV. Ephemera

- 1. Publications which the State Library has decided not to catalog will be listed in alphabetical order on the shipping list by agency. The decision to declare an item ephemera may be based on one or more of the following reasons:
  - a) Information is not of lasting value.
  - b) Information is extracted from a more substantial state document.
  - c) Information is not unique to South Carolina state government and has been produced as a public information service.

2. Maintenance of ephemera is not required under the depository library agreement. Depository libraries may wish to consider the following options in dealing with ephemera:
  - a) file in vertical files
  - b) use as display materials
  - c) place on general distribution table
  - d) catalog
  - e) discard immediately

Section E: Documents in Electronic Format

The State Library harvests agency publications that had been published in electronic format, including born-digital. To date, there are 65,000 electronic state documents available on SCSL. Documents are saved as PDFs and made accessible online in the South Carolina State Documents Depository. Documents are archived and backed up in library servers, so that they will be permanently accessible. A monthly list of new born-digital documents are provided by the State Library, and sent to the SC State Documents Depository libraries. Each document has its own unique URL. As with print documents, electronic format documents may be candidates for a Notable State Documents award.

- Depository Libraries are encouraged to save electronic documents to their own library catalogs.
- Depository Libraries should also record on catalog records electronic editions of serials, particularly the major titles listed in: Section D-2 (Retention and Discarding of State Documents), I.A. (Retention of State Documents, Guidelines), 2.b.; Section F (Public Service Use of State Documents), II. (State documents of reference value).
- If saving electronic documents to library catalogs is not a policy of the Depository Library, the depository librarian should direct users to the online State Library catalog, SCLENDS, or to the electronic documents in the South Carolina State Documents Depository. *To search for electronic documents, users must be search the catalog collection of "South Carolina State Library," rather than "All of SCLENDS."
- Depository staff should become familiar with electronic documents in the South Carolina State Documents Depository.
- Depository Librarians are encouraged to become familiar with information found in the South Carolina State Documents Depository subject guide.

Section F: Retention and Discarding of State Documents

- I. Retention of state documents
  - A. Guidelines
    1. All materials received through the state document depository system that are designated as required or optional cataloging must be retained for a period of five full years from the date of the document's publication.
    2. Exceptions
      - a. In the case of a title which has been clearly superseded by a newer edition, the earlier edition may be discarded.
      - b. Due to their historical value, the following titles may not be discarded without prior approval by the South Carolina State Library.
        - 1) Legislative manual
        - 2) S.C. Vital and Morbidity Statistics
        - 3) Detailed Mortality Statistics, South Carolina
        - 4) South Carolina Statistical Abstract
        - 5) Economic Report, the State of South Carolina
        - 6) South Carolina State Budget
        - 7) Crime in South Carolina
      - c. There are no retention requirements governing state documents received as ephemera.
  - II. Discarding of state documents
    - A. Procedures
      1. Using your discretion to distinguish between "less important" titles, send a list of the "important" titles you plan to discard to the State Government Documents Librarian at the State Library to fill in any losses in that collection.

Section G: State Documents Classification System

The classification system for South Carolina state documents was devised by the State Library in 1970. It is based on a combination of the system devised by Raynard Swank for international, state, county, and municipal documents and the Documents Office Classification for federal documents.

Utilizing letters and numbers, the state documents classification system provides an alphabetic by agency arrangement with form division numbers for type of publication. Individual publications are denoted by year of coverage or by Cutter number.

The 3-figure Cutter table is used to identify agencies; a simplified Cutter table devised for Florida documents is used for individual publications (see Simplified Cutter Table for South Carolina).*

SIMPLIFIED CUTTER TABLE FOR SOUTH CAROLINA

A-B	1
C-D	2
E-G	3
H-K	4
L-O	5
P-R	6
S-T	7
U-W	8
X-Z	9

The “Cutter” number is formed by writing the first letter of the word to be Cuttered, followed by the numbers for the next two letters:

e.g. Birds = B46

Tax = T19

*See Appendix 1 for full Outline of South Carolina State Documents Classification System.

Section H: Marketing and Promotion of State Documents

Using state documents depends upon two concepts: knowing that the documents with the needed information exist, and finding that information. Promotion of the collection must first make the users aware of the information available to them. Only then can library staff begin to help find the needed information.

To help promote your collection, consider some of these ideas:

- Include mention of and stop at the collection when giving tours of the library.
- Display the South Carolina State Documents Depository logo on websites and letterheads, or on related LibGuides. The logo is available at <https://www.statelibrary.sc.gov/about/media-kit>.
- Inform other staff of state government information.
- Consider offering introductory sessions or classes on state government information.
- Include state documents in information displays, particularly in offsite displays.
- Include state documents in a “new resources” newsletter.
- Add state documents titles and resources to your catalog.
- Promote and showcase state documents through your social media resources. Consider re-sharing State Library's weekly #SCDocsRock posts on your social media platforms.
- Consider nominating state publications for annual Notable State Documents Awards that you find exemplary.

- (2) If only the year of publication is given, then the last three digits of the year will follow the form division.

e.g. A4 for the House Journal of 1852
3.852

- (3) An extra session will be indicated by adding an “x” to the session number (e.g. 99-2x).

b. Form division 8

For all committee reports issued annually covering the committee’s activities, the form division 8 will be followed by the last three digits of the year of publication. For other committee publications, excluding hearings, the form division will be followed by a simplified Cutter number taken from the subject of the publication. Subcommittee reports will be indicated by Sub.-1, etc. on the third line.

c. Form division 9

Form division 9 will be used only for hearings and will be followed by a simplified Cutter number for the subject of the hearing. When necessary, the location of the hearing will follow the Cutter number. Location designation will be based on Cities and Towns symbols devised by the State Library.

(See p. E9). The date of the hearing will be given on the 3rd line if necessary.

C. Designation of collected departmental reports (Reports and Resolutions)

1. First line A9

2. Second line

a. Number indicating series

1. Title—“Reports and Resolutions” is No. 1

Subsequent series would receive 2., 3., etc.

2. Additional form divisions beginning with the number "10" may be used as needed for expansion.

3. Individual publication designation

If the form division is:

a. 1 – follow with a three-digit code for the final year of the report.

e.g. L6165 S. C. State Library. Report, 1.981 1980/81.

b. 2, 4, 7, 8, 9 – follow with simplified Cutter number for distinctive word in title (preferably subject).

e.g. G7461Ec S. C. Office of the Governor. Division
2.H31 of Economic Opportunity. HEAP, home energy assistance program.

A second publication, entitled Operations Manual...
HEAP would be: G7461Ec
2.H31-2

c. 3 – follow with Simplified Cutter number for distinctive word in the series title (preferably subject).

e.g. H5386 S.C. Dept. of Highways and Public
3.A22 Transportation. South Carolina traffic accidents.

d. 5 or 6 – For publications applicable to (or by the authority of) an entire department or agency, follow the method which will keep like rules, regulations, or laws together on the shelf in logical sequence.

(1) In the case where laws or regulations are issued by year, follow the form number by the 3-digit code for the year.

e.g. Ele255 S.C. Election Commission.
5.980 Registration and election laws of South Carolina. 1980.

(2) For those publications on a specific subject, or those not applicable to or by the authority of the department or agency as a whole, follow with a Simplified Cutter number for distinctive word (preferably subject) in title.

e.g. W6463 S.C. Wildlife and Marine Resources
6.F47 Dept. South Carolina fishing and 1980 hunting regulations, 1979/80.

(3) In the case where laws or regulations are issued separately with a distinctive numbering system, use the form number 5 or 6 followed by a Cutter number for the title of the set. The number of the law or regulation on the fourth line and the date on the last line.

e.g. Ad495 S.C. Adjutant General's Office
6.R33 Regulations

no. 40-3            no. 40-3
C1                    Change 1
970/10/8            8 Oct. 1970

[ In the filing and shelving, the 5 or 6 with the three-digit code for year comes before the 5 or 6 with a Simplified Cutter number ]

4. Separates (i.e. publications lifted from a larger work and issued separately) are classified like their parent publication and followed by an accession letter (lower case). This type of publication is rare.

e.g.    Ae825            Separate from 1969 Annual Report of 1.969a            Aeronautics Commission

C. Third line

1. Further identification of individual publications is as follows:

a.        2, 4, 7, 8, 9 – indicate new edition or revision of publication with four digits of year published, adding month and date if necessary. For coverage of an upcoming time period, use last year given; for a span of years, use both.

e.g.    Ed8332            S.C. Dept. of Education, List of 2.L41            sources selection: library materials...
      1980            3rd ed., 1980.

Ed8332            S.C. Dept. of Education. Directory
8.S24            of South Carolina schools, 1980/81.
1980            1980.

W6463            S.C. Dept. of Wildlife and Marine
3.S548-2        Resources. South Carolina wildlife
1978-1979      magazine index, Jan.-Feb. 1978-Nov.-Dec. 1979.

b.        3 – give, in order of preference:

1.        Number within the series

e.g.    C5935Ex        Clemson University. Extension 3.C46        Service. Circular no. 611.
      no. 611        Revised 1980.
      1980

2. Whole series number

e.g.    W7375Li        Winthrop College. Dacus Library.
      3.D12        Dacus focus. No. 15, 1981.
      no. 15

3. Volume and issue number

L6165            S.C. State Library. News for 3.N38            South Carolina Libraries.
v.13/6            v. 13, no. 6.

e.g.

4. Year, month, day (if series is issued once a year, just put year) e.g.
So135 S.C. Dept. of Social Services.
3.T47 Title XX: comprehensive 1979 annual services program plan.

c. 5 or 6 – see III. B. 3.d (2) and (3)

2. Indexes are given inclusive numbers of coverage with the word “Index” on the last line, thus filing at the end of the material indexed.

3. Supplements to publications are noted as:

a. For dated supplements, the 3 digits of the year will follow sup.

e.g. sup. 980

b. For undated supplements, add sup. 1, sup. 2, etc.

c. Parts, addenda, etc. will be pt. 1, ad. 1, etc.
