Legislative Oversight Update

In 2014, the Legislature passed a law providing for the House and the Senate to each, separately, perform a periodic review of all State agencies. The Senate selected SCDMH for review in 2015, issuing its final report in March of 2016. In 2018, the House of Representatives selected SCDMH for study.

The purpose of these reviews is to inform the Legislature in detail about an agency's programs and operations and to ensure the Agency is operating as the State intended. Stewart Cooner, director of Special Programs and Telepsychiatry, will serve as the SCDMH liaison to the House staff conducting the Study, and employees throughout the Agency will work with him to provide information sought by the legislative staff.

Thus far, SCDMH has provided extensive written background information to the House Legislative Oversight Committee (LOC), as requested. The full LOC took comments from the public at a hearing on January 14, 2019, wherein several advocates provided positive feedback about SCDMH. This testimony and all future hearings is available for viewing at this URL: www.scstatehouse.gov/CommitteeInfo/HouseLegislativeOversightCommittee/AgencyPHPFiles/MentalHealth.php.

On February 5 and 19th, SCDMH staff provided in-depth presentations about the Agency's history and operations. Director Binkley gave an interesting and information overview of the agency, its history and the evolution of mental health care. Leadership from DIS presented detailed information about inpatient services.

Future Legislative News editions will include updates on the progress of the Study until its completion.
