1983 TOBACCO REPORT

State of South Carolina
Department of Agriculture

D. Leslie Tindal - Commissioner

S. C. Average Led Flue-Cured States

South Carolina topped five southeastern states in average price for flue-cured tobacco sales in 1983 with a sparkling $180.87 per hundred weight.

This figure, highest on record for the state, was reached on producer sales for nine markets and 39 warehouses of 103,235,309 pounds of leaf for $186,724,262.28.

The amount of total pounds sold was the lowest since 1966 when 97,196,999 pounds were auctioned. Cash receipts were the lowest in three seasons.

"Weather conditions were severe for the '83 crop," said Commissioner of Agriculture D. Leslie Tindal, "but the final average figures gave a tremendous boost to our tobacco growers.

"A cold, wet spring delayed farmers preparing land for transplanting and a mid-April freeze forced more replanting. Plants became scarce and some growers went out-of-state for them. This replanting resulted in a two-week delay in crop maturity," he said.

Some rain fell on the crop in the vital growing weeks of May and June, but not enough to stave off the hot and dry conditions of mid-July to mid-August when conditions took a toll on leaf quality.

Market Opened Slow

Markets opened Aug. 2 with buyers seeking only premium leaf. The market later picked up with demand increasing because of drought conditions in other tobacco producing states to the north.

The Tobacco Market News reported opening week prices were down from '82 with quality dropping slightly and receipts from the Flue-Cured Tobacco Stabilization Corporation less.

Second week prices improved to over $157 per hundredweight with quality picking up as more cutters and lugs appeared on warehouse floors. Averages and quality continued upward for the third week of sales. A sharp increase in average prices was noted for the fourth week with the average just under $182 per hundredweight. Some good orange cutters that week sold for $207 per hundredweight.

The fifth week average hit $188.45 for another record as the crop approached the Labor Day break. This record was short-lived as a new high of $193.18 was recorded for the sixth week of sales as upper stalk tobacco increased on warehouse floors.

Weekly Average Record Shattered

Still another record was established for the seventh week of sales with the average hitting $193.61 per hundredweight. Belt sales passed the halfway point this week with 64.8 percent having been sold.

During the eighth week, grade prices held firm, but quality dropped because of low, poor and nondescript tobacco. The ninth week average remained over $191 per hundredweight, but quality continued to decline. Prices for the tenth week were down along with quality as the market edged towards closing. The 11th week average slumped to just under $174 per hundredweight with less good and fair quality leaf offered.

The market closed Oct. 19, giving 44 sales days for the season.

Stabilization receipts were 10.8 percent of gross sales, the lowest figure among the five flue-cured tobacco producing states.

Consumer protection specialists of the South Carolina Department of Agriculture kept watch on weighing practices for the tobacco industry during the '83 season. Fuel oil and L.P. gas truck meters were checked throughout the growing area for accuracy plus all scales on warehouse floors were tested prior to opening of sales. Weighing practices were monitored during the selling season.

Tommy Coleman, tobacco specialist for the South Carolina Department of Agriculture, urges South Carolina growers to continue to follow the Premium Bright Tobacco Program for 1984. He feels this is the way to produce and sell quality tobacco.
