1977 TOBACCO REPORT

SOUTH CAROLINA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

G. BRYAN PATRICK, JR.

Commissioner

All Ended Well

All's well that ends well. South Carolina flue cured tobacco farmers rode this saying to their highest producer average per hundred pounds in history for the 1977 season.

Growers averaged a whopping $123.23 per hundred pounds, topping the old 1976 record of $112.14 by $11.09. This staggering total was accomplished with the sale of 130,633,076 producer pounds—the lowest amount since the 126,722,240 pounds sold in 1968 for an average then per hundred of $66.32.

Cash receipts for the season were $160,982,137.89.

“It was a sweet finish to a season which could have brought our tobacco growers a lot of misery and grief,” explained Commissioners of Agriculture G. Bryan Patrick, Jr. “Our growers had their share of problems to solve and hurdles to clear, but they finished in excellent fashion.”

Clean Up Campaign Launched

During the early weeks of 1977, Commissioner Patrick with the help of the Clemson Extension Service, South Carolina Farm Bureau, the Grange, tobacco warehousemen, lending agencies and others interested in the future of the crop organized a series of educational meetings.

These meetings were geared to call attention of the tobacco growers to problems encountered by buying companies and the Flue Cured Stabilization Corporation with foreign matter, especially sand, in tobacco piles.

Farmers were urged to clean up the crop for the 1977 market. They also were told of the large amount of low grade tobacco in storage with the Stabilization Corporation. Growers were urged to consider leaving the lugs and low primings off the market for the season. New tobacco grade standards, enacted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, were explained in detail for the benefit of the farmers.

These meetings bore fruit. The message was carried loud and clear throughout the 1977 marketing season.

Weather Raked Crop

As for the crop itself, a late winter freeze caused some damage to tender plants which were either in the plant beds or had just been transplanted into fields. A prolonged drought during late spring and early summer, vital growing periods, eventually resulted in the low total poundage being sold in the state.

Opening day was July 19, compared to a July 13 opener in 1976.

Low quality leaf offered opening day caused farmers to come away disappointed. Commissioner Patrick joined with others in predicting higher prices as improved quality leaf reached market floors.

Opening Day Was Slow

Opening day averaged $81.86 per hundred pounds, down considerably from the 1976 opener. The '77 opener saw primings and nondescript offerings make up 88 percent of the sale, according to the Federal-State Tobacco Market News Service.

The 41 warehouses, operating on 11 markets for 1977, reported opening week sales totals to the South Carolina Department of Agriculture of 8,325,794 producer pounds for $6,915,558.80 with an average per hundred of $83.06.

As predicted, the second week average filed with the South Carolina Department of Agriculture showed an average of $91.72 per hundred with volume and cash receipts both increasing.

Third sales week averages hit $102.36 per hundred pounds with 11,927,689 producer pounds bringing $12,209,678.18. An even stronger surge was recorded in the fourth week with 10,552,284 producer pounds going for $12,221,189.20, hitting an average per hundred of $115.83 and lifting the season's mark to $99.48 per hundred.

Going into the second month of sales, the season's average hit $105.20 per hundred on the strength of a fifth week clip of $124.68 per hundred. Report No. Six reached an average of $131.44 per hundred pounds with $11,936,583 producer pounds selling for $15,689,049.83.

The seventh week of sales or the halfway point in the season boasted an average of $137.47 per hundred pounds, lifting the season's total to $113.93. Even higher goals were attained in the eighth week with an average per hundred of $143.82 on 7,683,473 producer pounds for $11,050,029.52.

As expected, the market began to level off during the ninth week, according to figures reported to the South Carolina Department of Agriculture by the 41 warehouses on the 11 markets. The average for this week was $143.46 per hundred. Prices jumped a few cents for the 10th week, with the average showing $143.93.

The 11th sales week average dipped to $137.78 per hundred. As the season headed into the month of October, 12th week figures showed a producer average of $127.38 per hundred. The 13th week dropped to $124.87 and the last full week showed just $111.21 for sales on 28 warehouses and eight markets.

A final sales day was staged Oct. 25 at Darlington with 66,922 producer pounds selling for $71,908.60 and an average per hundred of $107.45.

“Things started slowly,” recalled Commissioner Patrick, “but when prices began to move upward, they really did jump.”

Fifty-four sales days were held.

Average Marks Established

The highest weekly average reported by the Federal-State Market News Service was $144 per hundred during the ninth week and the best single day was Sept. 19 with the average reaching $147.34 per hundred.

Many individual warehouse or market sales records, either weekly or daily, were set during the 1977 selling season. These feats were accomplished despite “considerably lower quality,” in the opinion of the Market News Service. It added: “More unripe and immature tobacco was sold along with a sharp increase in nondescript offerings. Fair, low and poor grades accounted for three-fourths of sales with less than five percent grading choice, fine or good.”

A tribute to the clean up campaign was noted when only 1.6 percent of sales graded with special factors “sand” or “dirt” during the season.

Receipts for the Flue Cured Stabilization Corporation amounted to 20.6 million pounds or 8.5 percent of gross sales compared to 13.6 percent and 37.2 million pounds placed under loan in 1976.

Weights & Measures Checked

During the 1977 marketing season, the Consumer Protection Division of the South Carolina Department of Agriculture staged an active program of monitoring the weights and measures of the tobacco industry.

The program started in May of 1977, with the calibration of 617 meters on fuel oil and L.P. gas delivery trucks which serve the tobacco growing areas. Checks showed 79 of the meters to be incorrect and repairs were made before the meters were used in trade again.

Inspection got underway in June for each of the 41 tobacco warehouses. Scales were tested and all hand trucks checkweighed. Tare weights, necessary in the handling of the crop weights, were posted. A total of 1,051 scale tests were made with 35 proving to be incorrect. Of the 3,035 hand trucks checked, 1.4 percent had to be corrected.

During the entire sales period, six inspectors worked in pairs to random checkweigh preweighed sheets of tobacco and spot test all scales used in the operation. For the season, a total of 11,077 sheets or piles of tobacco were checkweighed with 6,174 being correct and 3,669 sheets containing only a plus or minus one pound error. There were 1,120 sheets with a two to four pound error. Of the sheets checked, only 132 exceeded the allowable tolerance.
